CANADA HAS THE BEST WHEAT IN THE WORLD

American Experts Make the Award at New York Exhibition.

New York, Nov. 5.—The announcement of Canada's victory over the United States in the contest for the prize offered by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the best wheat, spring or summer, grown on either continent of America, was made yesterday afternoon at the land show in Madison Square Garden.

The committees of award, composed of C. G. Williams, agronomist at the Ohio agricultural experiment station; Professor Alfred Atkinson, of the Montana agricultural college, and Professor W. M. Jarman, of the Kansas state agricultural college, concurred in the official statement that Canada rates the best wheat in the world.

The winner of the world beating wheat prize was Senator Wheeler, of Colorado (Sask.). He received a prize of $1,000 in gold. Another Canadian, W. I. Glass, of Macleod (Alb.), was the alternate.

W. K. Sudduth, of Montana, and Asa W. Smith, of British Columbia, respectively won the $1,000 silver cup and the $1,000 silver trophy for the best alfalfa and potatoes.

PRODUCE PRICES IN BOSTON MUCH HIGHER
THAN IN ST. JOHN

Market Quotations from Week to Week Tell Eloquent Story of Lost Opportunities for New Brunswick Farmer.

A comparison of the wholesale prices of farm produce in St. John and Boston this week still shows a marked difference in the prices quoted, the wideness of the margin being illustrated in the list given below. The Boston prices were published in Wednesday's Transcript, and St. John prices are taken from this morning's list in The Telegraph.

The Boston jobbers' price for Canadian hay ranges from $10 to $20 per ton, according to the grade, while the best prices quoted at St. John are $10.50 to $11. Eggs show a difference of fifteen cents a dozen. On the other hand, the difference in the price of flour is in the other direction, a reduction being noted in the Boston markets.

The following is a comparative list of prices on staple products:

Old, western—Boston, 55 to 59 1/2 per bus.; St. John, 51 to 53 per bus.
Potatoes—Boston, $1.75 to $1.85 per bu. bag; St. John, $1.50 to $1.75 per bu.
Butter, dairy—Boston, 27c to 28c per lb.; St. John, 25c to 24c per lb.
Butter, creamery—Boston, 22 1/2 to 23 1/2c per lb.; St. John, 24c to 27c per lb.
Eggs, henery—Boston, 44c to 46c per doz.; St. John, 38c to 39c per doz.
Eggs, case—Boston, 38c to 39c per doz.; St. John, 23c to 24c per doz.
Squash—Boston, 60c to 75c per bu.; St. John, 40c to 1.12c per bu.
Flour—Boston, $3.10 to $3.50 per bbl.; St. John, $3.50 to $3.45 per bbl.

SPLendid GERMAN VICTORY OVER MOROCCO?

Kaiser's Sons Openly Hostile Crown Prince Applauded Criticism of the Settlement Chancellor Defends the Outcome, and Declares Government Got All it Wanted—Declares it His Duty to Avoid War if it Can Be Honorably Done.

Berlin, Nov. 9.—Imperial Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg vigorously defended the Franco-German Moroccan agreement in a fifteen minute speech in the Reichstag today. The German government, he said, had obtained all it set out to obtain. He denied having retreated from the original German position, and added that in any event Morocco was not worth fighting for. The crown prince and many notables listened to the chancellor's speech. There was a noticeable lack of enthusiasm among them and no doubt exists that the country generally is much dissatisfied with Germany's bargain. It is more than likely, his explanation having evidently failed to give satisfaction, that the chancellor and Foreign Minister Kiderlin-Waechter will ultimately be forced to resign.

Strained relations, it is reported, exist between the Kaiser and his sons as a result of the decision. The latter are said to hold the Moroccan problem to be a stain upon the Kaiser's name. Whatever his own views, it is understood his majesty considers it a piece of ill-fated policy to have taken up the matter, and he undertakes to give him advice, and if they fulfill their intention of actually submitting their protest they will probably be very warmly received.

Crowded Galleries.

The galleries of the Reichstag were crowded when the chancellor rose to speak. He began by taking up the reports that the despatch of the German gunboat Panther to Agadir, Morocco, was "a bolt out of a blue sky" and that Germany planned to acquire territory in southern Morocco.

Before sending the warship to Agadir, Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg said he had proposed that France and Germany should open negotiations for the purpose of reaching a basis for the recognition of France's political position in Morocco, the economic guarantees to be obtained by Germany and colonial possessions in France, to which were attached positive proposals, in the meanwhile going ahead with the occupation of Morocco. The despatch of the gunboat Panther then was necessary, and it produced the desired result. The failure of the assertions that Germany contemplated the acquisition of Moroccan territory was plainly shown, the chancellor continued, by the relations commencing called to the powers immediately before the arrival of the Panther at Agadir as well as the inspired statements printed in the newspapers immediately after the German warship had anchored off the Moroccan seaport.

Germany has no need to threaten. Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg discussed the resignation of the secretary of state for the colonies, Dr. Lindquist, who refused to appear in the Reichstag in defence of the Morocco-Congo agreement, and then passed over the accusation of weakness, maintaining that German prestige rebuked those demanding a display of the German fist.

"We are not living in the Homeric age when threats and boasting were thought necessary," the chancellor said. "Germany is strong enough to dispense with such shield rattling and will know how to draw the sword when the time comes. The emperor steadily insisted on the strict adherence to our programme at all stages of the negotiations, in full consciousness that every action of a great power may involve the life of a nation, and that the faithful question of war or peace and in full readiness to uphold the honor of the nation with the sword."

After relating the representations made by Germany to Great Britain relative to the speech made by David Lloyd George at a banquet given by the bankers of London, July 21 last, to the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, and to the Anglo-French newspaper insinuations and the belligerence of the German people as a result of Mr. Lloyd George's remarks, the German chancellor declared:

ASQUITH OUTLINES BRITAIN'S POLICY

Will Stand by Treaties and Understandings With Other Countries Says Government Will Not Hamper Lawful Aspirations of Other Nations in Colonizing—Deplores Recent Strikes, But Declares Law and Order Must Be Maintained and Public Services Must Not Be Tied Up—Pays Magnificent Tribute to Mr. Balfour at Lord Mayor's Banquet.

London, Nov. 9.—A new lord mayor of London, Sir Thomas Boor Crosby, M. D., was inducted into office today and at the lord mayor's banquet tonight Premier Asquith made his fourth successive speech in honor of such an occasion.

The prime minister gave a clear exposition of Great Britain's foreign policy. The Moroccan agreement was the topic, and it furnished a special opportunity, the premier's remarks coming opportunely as a reply to the speech of the imperial German chancellor in the Reichstag today.

Near the end of the second half, Smith of St. John, had one of his legs broken at the ankle. McKenzie, of Acadia, had an ankle sprained. Buckley of Mount Allison was also slightly injured. McAllister, of Mount Allison, was substituted for Smith, and McKenzie, of Acadia, for Buckley.

Will Postpone Flight Across THE ATLANTIC

Aviator Vaniman Concludes His Big Airship Requires a Third Engine.

New York, Nov. 9.—The airship Akron will probably not attempt the trans-Atlantic flight until next year. This decision was announced last night after a conference between Melvin Vaniman of Atlantic City and F. A. Zischel of Akron, Ohio. The reason given is that the preliminary flight of last Saturday demonstrated the necessity of installing a third engine as was originally planned.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—A cablegram received by Canadian Pacific Railway officials yesterday announces the launching of their new boat, the Princess Sophia, at the yards of the Bow MacLachlan Co., Paisley, Scotland. She is 245 feet long, 45 feet beam and with 18 feet depth, and is equipped with triple expansion engines and the furnaces and boilers are arranged for either coal or fuel oil.

SAY BRITISH CONSUL IS INTERFERING IN PORTLAND STRIKE

Portland, Maine, Nov. 9.—The strike of the Portland Longshoremen assumed an international aspect tonight when resolutions were passed by the Longshoremen's Society charging that British Vice-Consul John D. Keating is promoting the organization of a rival society for the purpose of breaking the strike. The resolutions say that the "Society" resents the interference on the part of a vice-consul of the Kingdom of Great Britain, and proposes that his "conduct" be called to the attention of the state department and British ambassador.
