Came Across Continent in Motor Boat

Completing all but the last lap of their trip from Los Angeles to New York—across the whole continent—in an eighteen foot long motor boat, two Americans, John Edwin Hoag and Frank S. Wilton, not to mention Spy-Wapato, their dog, arrived recently in Montreal and stayed for a day or two before proceeding to New York.

The entire distance was covered by water with the exception of one portage of 400 miles from Cello Falls, Washington to Fort Benton, Montana. Their boat the "Transcontinental" is an 18-foot craft, 5 feet abeam, and powered with two four horse power Edmonds outboard motors. They left Astoria, Oregon, May 20, after having their boat shipped up the coast from Los Angeles. The route was via the Columbia River from its mouth to Cello Falls where the boat was loaded into a box car and sent on 400 miles to Fort Benton where the journey was resumed down the Missouri River for 2,280 miles into the Mississippi to St. Louis, then up the Mississippi to the Illinois River as far as Ottawa, Illinois; through the Illinois and Michigan Canal to Lake Michigan, and through the Chicago Drainage Canal into Lake Michigan. From here the voyage was plain sailing to Montreal, where they landed at the Canadian Pacific Pier No. 8, having moored their boat alongside the "Montcalm."

Messrs. Hoag and Wilton followed in reverse direction the course of the early explorers, Columbus, Hendryk Hudson, Champlain, Cartier and La Salle. Their mishaps commenced early when, in the Columbia River they ran aground of a sunken log which tore the stern out of their boat. After this misadventure, which they finally weathered safely, they had comparatively no bad luck, except for the tornadoes, heavy storms and rocky runs down little-known rapids, which might naturally be expected.

Their adventure is unique, the only attempt previously made being about 18 years ago when a similar expedition ended at Bismarck, North Dakota, after traversing the same route. Then, however, the adventurers were so held up by adverse conditions that they were overtaken by winter and their boat was crushed in the ice.

"Always-Ready" Battery Electrolyte Now Here

We are now prepared to give Battery Service with the wonderful solution that puts new life into the old battery. "Always-Ready" is a solution that contains less than one-half as much sulphuric acid as the old electrolyte, and is therefore one-half as harmful to the plates of the battery; will not eat off nor corrode the battery terminals; nor run the battery case. "Always-Ready" acts upon the plates of the battery, consumes the sulphation caused by the sulphuric acid in the old solution, and frees the plates from their choked-up condition.

"Always-Ready" when used in a battery where the plates are still good will charge instantly, giving snappier starting, brighter lights, new and longer life.

"Always-Ready" is an anti-freeze liquid, with the use of it your battery is always safe from the unexpected frosts of
