he took a post-graduate course, and settled at Bradford, Pa., from which place he was called to Hillsburg and Bethel in 1903.

REV. SAMUEL BURNSIDE RUSSELL.

If Mr. Russell's pastorate was brief, it was fruitful, for the records show that fifty-one persons were added to the roll.

A thoughtful, progressive evangelical in his preaching was Mr. Russell. This, with faithful visitation, won for him the regard of his people, who, while regretting his departure from their midst, rejoiced in his promotion when he was called in 1905 to the charge of Erskine Church, Hamilton.

The minister who served the congregation of St. Andrew's, Hillsburg, and Bethel Church, Price's Corners, for the longest period of time was the faithful pastor who was called to Omeme in September, 1919.

The Rev. R. S. Scott came to Hillsburg in 1905 from the charge of Dracon and Metz, and served his new congregation faithfully and well for fourteen years.

Mr. Scott graduated from Knox College, Toronto, and took his Arts course at the University in that city.

As a Presbyterian Mr. Scott was painstaking and conscientious. He delighted in the larger work of the church, giving of his best to advance the many-sided missionary enterprises of Canadian Presbyterianism.

REV. R. S. SCOTT.

As a preacher Mr. Scott sought to lead his hearers to the Lord Jesus Christ, and had a deep-seated conviction that the
