Gregor, New York, and since then the Metropolitan has undertaken two other details, each epoch-making in itesif, and absolutely revolutionary in the business of life insurance.

First—The company has extended its operations into the disability field, to write insurance against disability due to sickness and accident. This business will be written on the group plan-at present and, by way of a beginning, was offered to the com-pany's own employes in field and office, under a co-operative plan coupled with low-cost life insurance. Details of the company's new policy, together with rates and other particulars, will be found on another page of this issue.

Second—At a time when all Europe is in the throes of a terrific life and death struggle, and when conscripts and reservists are compelled to leave the United States by thousands to join their colors, the Metropolitan Life announces that it will until further notice "entertain applications for the benefit of home-ride demondants on persons who could be considered.

To RUSH SILL THROUGH.

Washington, September 17.—Majority Leader Underwood has made plans to put the Emergency Revelue Measure through the house as rapidly as possible and he stated he hoped to have the House distributions of bill by Saturday.

He called his Democratic colleagues on Ways and ther notice "entertain applications for the benefit of bona-fide dependents, on persons who contemplate returning to the old country for the purpose of joining the military or naval organizations in which they have served, or who have enlisted or shall enlist in either army or navy of any foreign power." Full details of this, too, will be found elsewhere in this issue in connection with the life companies position on the war risk.

He called his Democratic colleagues on Ways and Means Committee to put finishing touches to bill so it could be presented to the House before adjournment to-night. A special rule for the immediate consideration of bill will be passed.

The announcement by Republican Senators that they will fight the bill indicates that its passage by the Upper House will be delayed. The Republicans take the stand that the Emergency Measure is un-
