Ireland.

A Land League organizer was arrested at Ballyshannon, county Mayo, on Monday, under the Coercion Act.

London, July 26.—It is understood that owing to the unsettled state of Ireland it has been decided to maintain the military establishments at their present strength some time longer.

Capt. Boycott and wife have returned to their residence at Loughmusk.

Dublin, July 26.—The doctor pronounces Boylan, a prisoner under the Coercion Act, in a dangerous state of health. His eyesight has greatly failed.

Dublin, July 26.—At a meeting of the Land League to night Redpath delivered a violent speech, in which he characterized Harcourt's statement that John Devoy was an agent of the League as a deliberate lie, and alluded to John Bright as a renegade.

He only opposed the Fenian schemes in America because he did not see how it was possible to conquer England by a revolution at present. Redpath concluded by calling Harcourt a liar, slanderer and coward, and Forster an infamous Quaker.

In the House of Commons, Lord Randolph Spencer Churchill (Conservative) gave notice of his intention to move, on the third reading of the Land Bill, a resolution that the Bill, being the result of a revolutionary agitation, encourages the reputation of contracts, and opposed to individual liberty, calculated to diminish the security of property and the prosperity of Ireland, and endanger her union with Great Britain. It is understood that the notice was given without consultation with the Conservative leaders, and against their wishes. It is believed that if the resolution is pressed to a division, the regular Opposition will abstain from voting.

In the House of Commons the Committee's report on the Land Bill was considered. Parnell moved to add to clause forty-four a proviso that, whenever an action for rent is pending at the same time as an application for fixing judicial rent, the former shall be suspended until the latter is determined.

The Attorney-General for Ireland assented to the principle of the amendment. Gladstone said the Government was considering the best form of introducing an amendment limiting the power of staying action, only so far as to prevent the sale of tenancy, and providing that the clause should apply to every case where this form of action is brought.

The Solicitor-General for Ireland suggested that the amendment would come in letter on clause 53, whereupon Parnell's amendment was withdrawn, and Parnell made an addition to clause 53, providing that whenever, within six months after the passage of the Bill, action for debt is brought or pending against a tenant, he or she may apply to fix the judicial rent, the Court should have the power to stay the sale under any writ of execution of tenancy until the termination of the proceedings on application. Carried—209 to 76.

The clause of the Land Bill proposed by the Attorney-General for Ireland, providing that no Land Commissioner will be capable of sitting in the House of Commons during his tenure of office, was agreed to.

London, July 25.—In the House of Commons to-day Lord Randolph Churchill in an extravagant speech, moved his resolution on the third reading of the Land Bill.

Mr. Gladstone ridiculed Churchill, and powerfully insisted the Bill. He said it would be unbecoming in him to criticize the measure, but attacks against it were such as did not necessitate its defence.

Mr. Shaw (Home Ruler) paid a high tribute to Mr. Gladstone.

A desultory discussion was continued by extremists amidst the evident impatience of the House.

The Bill was finally read a third time, and passed by 200 to 14, the minority being exclusively Conservatives. The majority of the Conservatives, and some Parnellites, including Parnell, abstained from voting.

London, July 25.—In the House of Lords to-night, the Bill was read a first time, the second reading being fixed for Monday.

Great Britain.

The Cunard steamer Malta, on her last trip, carried ten barrels of cement, which, it is alleged, contain infernal machines. It was harmless-looking back earth, and was promptly accepted as freight. The statement that Ross's name was found in barrels is not credited. The names of the consignee and consignees may have been fictitious. Anyone forwarding such goods under false pretences is liable to heavy punishment.

London, July 27.—It is stated that two hours before the steamer Malta, carrying the infernal machines, arrived at Liverpool, the Home authorities received information from a well-known patriot, who makes Paris his headquarters, that explosives had been shipped.

London, July 27.—A Times despatch says that after the explosives and mechanism had been removed from the cement barrels the barrels were made up to appear as if undisturbed, and were left on the quay, but nobody claimed them. One thing is clear, either the consignors sent the machines with the pre-arranged purpose of having them seized, or there is utter dishonesty among the Irish people in America.

The barrels containing the infernal machines which were seized at Liverpool were marked with a black cross, which attracted the attention of the Customs officers. One theory is that the affair is intended merely as a scare, and that the English agents in New York were deliberately informed of the intentions of the conspirators. Another theory is that the affair is instigated by the English agents maintained in America to watch the Fenians.

O'Donovan Rossa publishes a card saying that if the Fenians had sent the infernal machines to England more caution would have been used. His circular would not be enclosed as an advertisement; and, that if such were sent by the Skirmishing Fund, they would not be sent to blow up steamers leaving American ports and carrying some of their dearest friends.

New York, July 27.—O'Donovan Rossa is reported as saying that he paid $80,000 out of the Skirmishing Fund for constructing a useless torpedo boat. He says the infernal machine scare was planned by an Irishman, who received $10,000 from the British Consul-General for proving that the shipment had been made, and was promised $10,000 more when the English had seized the explosives. The material in the machines was harmless and of no use, and cost the Irishman only $40.

Turkey. Constantinople, July 27.—Midhat Pasha and all the others convicted of the murder of the late Sultan, except the two actual assassins, Yzzet Pasha and Servid Pasha, implicated in the crime, embarked on Monday for Elhedjaz, Arabia, where they remain in exile for life.

France. Paris, July 27.—The Chamber of Deputies rejected the Senate's amendments to the Compulsory Education Bill.

Paris, July 26.—The Senate to-day discussed the estimate and budget. M. Ferry stated that Bou Amama had retreated to the desert; that affairs on the frontier were in a most satisfactory condition, and that it was the duty of Parliament to aid in suppressing a panic by informing the country that it might have perfect confidence in the future.

Paris, July 26.—In the Chamber yesterday, St. Hilaire said he replied perfectly sincere to the British Government regarding Tunis. He regarded a good understanding with England essential for the interests of the two nations, and paramount interests of civilization and humanity.

Paris, July 26.—Advice from Tunis state that the climate is causing severe mortality among the French troops, who are dying in large numbers from malarial fever. Other dispatches state that the Bey's regular troops are deserting him, and that the control of the country is passing into French hands.

The embarkation of French troops for Algeria continues. Three thousand infantry and cavalry and artillery left on Thursday.

Germany. Berlin, July 27.—The emigration returns of Bremen show that 77,363 persons left there for America during the first half of 1881. This it would not be astonishing if by the end of the present year Germany lost 333,000 subjects.

Afghanistan. In the Commons Gladstone read a telegram containing the defeat of the Afghans. He stated there was an Anglo-Indian force in the neighborhood of Candahar. The Viceroy of India telegraphs that the Amer of Afghanistan has been totally defeated at Kareziatta. All his baggage and eighteen guns were taken. The Kheilat regiment and his Candahar horse deserted to Ayoub Khan. The Amer's general fled toward Cabul.

Ayoub turned the left flank of the Amer's army. The latter followed, but did not catch up until thirty-two miles from Candahar, where the battle was fought.

The London Telegraph says the defeat of the Amer implies the complete overthrow of the only remaining representative of British influence in Afghanistan.

American. The President is now rapidly recovering from the effects of the wound. His condition is reported as being fatally injured at Brooklyn by the explosion of a kerosene stove.

Justice Nathan Clifford of the United States Supreme Court, died at Cornish, Me., on Monday morning.

An examination of the Stark County, Ohio, Treasury, reveals a deficit of $12,000. The Treasurer, Sullivan, claims an error in the figures. A new Treasurer will be appointed. Sullivan's predecessor is serving twelve years for a deficit of $50,000.

Canadian. QUEBEC, July 25th.—While working in a water-works trench to-day Daniel Driscoll was killed by a length of piping falling in on him, breaking his neck and fracturing his skull. Deceased was 40 years of age, and leaves a widow and six children.

AGEST, July 23rd.—This morning a brakeman from Stratford named Jas. Rodman, while standing on the bumpers between two cars, accidentally slipped and got his foot badly crushed. He protests against having it amputated. It is said he tried to pull the pin out of the coupling with his foot.

St. John's Nfld.—The American war ship Vandalia's appearance in Fortune Bay is regarded in political circles with some significance. The Vandalia leaves for Halifax on Wednesday. The rumor that trouble is likely between the American and Newfoundland fishermen on account of the payment of $15,000 by the British Government is unfounded.

MAYOR BEATTY. In the subjoined paragraph will be found a compliment to Mayor Beatty, of Washington, New Jersey, Thursday evening last it happened we were on the passenger train that reached Washington at about seven o'clock and while stopping to change engines a splendid pair of horses was noticed upon the street some distance below the track, drawing a carriage containing two gentlemen, neither of whom was recognized by us until a hum passed through the car, and the name of Daniel F. Beatty, of Washington, N. J., was uttered by one of the gentlemen, and to an instant many of the windows were broken, and the carriage overturned. We do not note this fact as an advertisement but as a pleasure. By strict attention to business this comparatively young man has built up a business of colossal proportions, and is at present giving employment to no less than a number of men, if not greater, than any private individual in the country. Enterprising, energetic, and full of life, and long may he live to fill the world with music and the pockets of the skilled mechanic with money. Would that our country had more such men. —Hibernian (N. J.) Press.

THE NEW "OTTO" SILENT GAS ENGINE

MANUFACTURED BY JOHN DOTY, ESPLANADE STREET, TORONTO. SAFETY! CONVENIENCE! ECONOMY!

No Boiler. No Coal. No Steam. No Pumps. No Danger. No Ashes. No Gases. No Fire. No Explosion. No Soot. No Extra Insurance. No Unpleasant Heat. Almost No Attendants.

Started instantly with a match! Always ready to give out its full power at once. Exceeds any other engine in power. When power is required at intervals it is the cheapest motor known. Over $500 in use in England and the Continent.

DESCRIPTION: This engine consists mainly of a jacketed cylinder, with piston, slide valve and governor having a cut-off mechanism to regulate the supply of gas according to the varying load on the engine, and the pressure utilized for the production of the power is generated by the cylinder, and at the end of each stroke therein to propel the piston. This pressure is due to the combustion of a peculiar mixture of common coal gas and air, which is ignited by a flame carried from a burning gas jet outside the cylinder by the action of the slide. The principle of combustion in this gas engine is entirely new; a small part only of the charge is combustible, which, on ignition, serves to expand the remainder, thus avoiding shock, and effecting a saving compared with other motors of this class—a vast economy. The "OTTO" GAS ENGINE is considered the most perfect of its kind, being safe, simple and the greatest simplicity of mechanism ever yet attained in a gas engine, or even in any Steam Engines.

Cost of Running as Compared with Steam, and amount of Gas required. The Otto Gas Engine, being a gas engine, avoids all the expensive attendances or loss of time which the heating of water in feed pumps, and steam pressure gauge demand in a Steam Engine. The gas flows in freely, and there is no handling of fuel, and the engine is thereby, hardly any item of cost for attendants, and the consideration of the total expense for running is for the gas alone. The quantity required in the "OTTO" Engine, averages for the different sizes of engine, twenty-one and one-half cubic feet of gas per inch H.P., per hour, giving at the varying gas prices of from $1.00 to $2.00 per 1,000 cubic feet, a cost of from 2 to 4 cents per hour. While running, however, the cut-off saving in constant operation, the gas consumption is limited in proportion to the load on the engine; thereby, in practice, in many cases only one-third or one-half of the above rate of consumption is required, and the engine costs nothing while standing, and is started and topped without waste of fuel and time. The Toronto Board of Fire Underwriters have decided not to charge any additional insurance for the use of the Otto Gas Engine, in effect in their introduction, the cost of insurance effected in this item alone is not an unimportant one.

One of these Engines is now in the Catholic Record office, and we shall be happy to show it to any one who desires to see it.
