MANY CANADIAN DEAD REPORTED FROM GERMANY

LONDON, July 2.—Unofficial German lists of Canadians who have been buried in Germany indicate that many of the prisoners of war taken at St. Julien have died. The causes are not stated, and their friends are only left to conjecture. It is believed here that the effects of gas poisoning are largely responsible for the Canadian division had to abandon its wounded when the sudden collapse of the French Turcos left their right flank in the air and forced them to readjust their lines.

CANADIANS CELEBRATE

Reserves at Shorncliffe Camp Parade in Honor of Dominion Day.

LONDON, July 2.—A Dominion Day celebration took place among Canada's soldiers at Shorncliffe early yesterday morning. The bugle and drum bands of the 11th, 12th, 42nd, 13rd, 49th Battalions and the Princess Patricia's reserves, paraded to Folkestone, receiving a hearty welcome. A military tattoo was held at night, when the massed bands performed. There was no formal celebration of the day in London, business proceeding as usual in the military and Red Cross offices.

Catholic Priest Fittingly Honored by Protestants

ARTHUR, Ont., July 3.—The Protestant citizens of Arthur have presented Rev. Father Doherty on his departure with an address and a purse of gold, in recognition of the high esteem in which he was held during his thirty-three years' pastorate here. He lived a life in which he recognized every man as his neighbor, and with his departure he carries the love of the whole community.

Retail Trade Active in Rural Ontario

Trade in wholesale lines in Toronto has been quiet the past week, says Dunn's report. Weather conditions have been unfavorable for business in summer lines of merchandise there having been but few warm days. The outlook for the grain crops, however, is satisfactory. A very large yield of winter wheat is expected. A large crop of this grain is now being harvested in the States; hence the lower prices. Banks continue to hold a conservative course and there is practically no speculation in commodities. These institutions have unusually large liquid assets, and some of them are likely to participate in the new British loan. Quite a good retail business is reported in many country districts in Ontario, where the farmers are in a prosperous state. Prices as a rule, for leading staples, are firm. Wool is very high, fine washed combing bringing about 38c. per lb. It is thought that this is only a temporary condition, as Australian wools can be laid down here much cheaper. The prices of canned goods are unsettled and lower, owing to the anticipated plentiful supplies of new fruits and vegetables. Seven district failures are reported for the past week.

Gott Mit Uns on Prisoner's Arm

German Arrested in Lakefield is Now Lodged in Jail.

There is an interesting character, a German, sojourning in the local jail, says the Peterborough Examiner, who may prove to be worth while interesting. He was arrested in Lakefield, this week, and could not give a very good account of himself. The constable found him trying to get into a barn to spend the night.

He came before Magistrate Langley at Lakefield charged with vagrancy. He gave his name as Eugene Nieder, and explained that he came from Chicago to Toronto, and then to Peterborough, and was on his way to Montreal. He was a baker by trade. Magistrate Langley remanded him until next Tuesday, when he will come up for trial in Peterborough. Meanwhile the police are looking for some further information about his movements.

At the Police Station the prisoner was examined for marks when his finger prints were taken. His right forearm was tattooed with a Cross, Rifles, Crown and German flag. Between the stocks of the rifles was a German helmet. There were also the 1895 and 97 on opposite sides under the flag. Besides these figures were 58, I.R.N. 113, 13 Co., and the name J. Lorentz. Across the top were the words in German, Gott Mit Uns. J. Lorentz is evidently the correct name of the prisoner, and he has given a fictitious one to the authorities. He says he is 40 years of age and was born in Baden, Germany, where he learned to talk the English language fairly well. But the tattoo is evident that he was in the German army. Gott Mit Uns is the German battle cry, interpreted, "God is with us." So far it has not been ascertained what his intentions could have been in the district, even if he had any connection with the German Government.

New Pastors Arrive

The Rev. J. N. Clarry, B.A., of Peterborough arrived on Wednesday to assume the pastorate of Holloway St. Methodist Church. Rev. A. R. Sanderson and Mrs. Sanderson left late on the same afternoon for their new charge in Campbellford.

Pte. Connolly's Letter

(From the Brockville Times)

Almost the last words written by Pte. Thomas Connolly, of Kingston, recently killed in action in Belgium, were:—"Canada needs to wake up over this war as they need every man they can get out here." That is the burden of scores of letters received in Canada, and is the unanimous opinion of the wounded Canadians now on leave in Canada. Wake up! More men!!

Kingston Presbytery Met

The Presbytery of Kingston held its regular session at Nanapan this week. The delegates went to Deseronto and assisted in the induction of the Rev. A. A. Atkin.

At the afternoon session the most of the business was routine. The call from the Nanapan Presbyterian Church to the Rev. Mr. McLeod was confirmed.

At the afternoon session the most done gave the address to the minister and also presided over the meeting. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Craig, of Deseronto, and the address to the people given by the Rev. Mr. Omand, of Picton.

A model of a submarine and torpedo, such as sank the Lusitania, will be one of the features of the exhibit of war trophies at the Canadian National Exhibition this year.

One of the German shells among the war trophies at the Canadian National Exhibition wrecked an English home and killed five people.

THE CANADIAN VOLUNTEERS

(Original by Alice P. McDavitt.)

Over the world there came a wailing
Sobs of women, groans of men,
As the gallant Belgian soldiers
Fought though they were vanquished then.

To uphold the cause of freedom,
Cheering William's countless borders
Ere they saw the shores of Britain
Their relentless courage poured.

Belgium's country was made desolate,
Smiling babies made orphans,
And the mothers and their women
Victims of insatiate hate.

Long the Germans had been sleeping
Souls and brains in plans of war,
But when the gallant Belgians
They would fling their power afar.

Over the world there came a wailing
Sobs of women, groans of men,
As the gallant Belgian soldiers
Fought though they were vanquished then.

By the millions sent her sons,
To repel the advancing Hun,
To repel the ruthless Hun.

France of old she knew the terror,
Paris by step, at earnest hand,
Humbled stalked the German soldiers
She remembers and with hate.

And she hurried never pausing,
To the aid of her brave soldiers,
Bravely have her soldiers answered,
For fair France, has gallant sons.

And Australia heard and hastened,
India's sons did gather there,
And our noble brave Canadians,
Responded to that wail afar.

We have proudly seen them marching,
To the aid of our brave soldiers,
And today, are many sleeping
In a strange and distant land.

And our hearts are sick with sorrow,
Like the Spartan mothers, when,
Forth they sent their sons to battle;
"Was our country called them then."

For our country and for honor,
Twas for step, at earnest hand,
If they cowardly had loitered,
We'd be crushed beneath German tread.

In the years to come, the nations
Of the earth will then recall,
How they came the wall of Belgium,
And how they saved the world from fall.

Over the world there came a wailing
Sobs of women, groans of men,
As the gallant Belgian soldiers
Fought though they were vanquished then.

They will fight for right, like me!

"The Standard Works"

(An original poem by Alice Pyne McDavitt, Foxboro, Ont.)

If you are rich, go, write your verse,
And in far attic—hide it.
Long after you and yours are dead,
Posterity will read it.

If you are poor, don't turn to verse,
You'll starve, not one will feed it.
Think of great poets, lacking bread,
Your baby—who will feed it?

If you are wise, your talent hide,
Write not mysterious verse,
Your friends will sneering call you
"queer!"

And often something worse.
If foolish, you will write your songs,
(Like poets—turned to ashes),
Ring forth the music of the gods,
And feed your family—ashes.

"The Standard Works" in bindings fine,
Librarians will ponder,
Your name (written large) will there appear.

You're "neath the daisies yonder
Perhaps a stone they'll place above,
"The Poor Fool"—buried under
And just two hundred years from now
Your fitting ghost will wonder.

For long since, you are singing there,
The New Song with immortals,
What difference "Standard Works" to you,
Or praise of any mortals?

Popular Oshawa Pastor's Farewell

Presented With a Chime Clock by His Congregation.

Members of the Official Board and Ladies' Aid of King Street Methodist Church, Oshawa, met on Friday evening, June 25 at the church to express in words and to present a chime clock as a slight token of their deep appreciation of the efforts of the pastor, Rev. S. C. Moore, in their behalf.

Mr. A. J. Adams read the following address and Mr. R. B. Bale presented the chime clock.

Oshawa, Ont., June 25th, 1915.
Rev. and Mrs. S. C. Moore,
Dear Pastor and wife:

We the members of the Quarterly Board and Ladies' Aid of King St. Methodist Church, Oshawa, desire to convey to you an expression of our sincere appreciation of your earnest and painstaking efforts as our Pastor in our behalf for the past four years.

Your clear, concise and comprehensive interpretation of the truth, your forceful presentation and illustration of the Gospel, together with your kindly, Christian spirit has always been noted by us both with pleasure and profit. We trust that the instructions and inspiration thus received will abide with us as a permanent and beneficial influence over our future lives.

We appreciate to the fullest extent the fact that we have labored harmoniously together as Pastor and people for four years, yet words fail to express our appreciation of the numerous instances in which you have demonstrated your true worth by your untiring efforts to promote Christian activity with this people, and the hours and hours spent in the building of this church, which to us has proved to be a home, also, the placing of your home, the Parsonage, at our disposal at all times. In these and many other ways you have both served the cause of Christ and the church with efficiency and earnestness, in all departments as well as in our individual lives, which are very much the richer and stronger, because of your patient and faithful labors.

As you go from us, we feel sure that the loss we sustain here, in your removal will be well compensated by the gain that the church will reap where you go. You carry with you both, our tenderest regard and sincerest good will, in slight token of which we ask you to accept this (Chime Clock), trusting that as it points to the passing away of the golden moments of privilege and opportunity it may also point back to the many pleasant memories of time and lasting friendship formed in Oshawa.

Signed on behalf of Quarterly Board, Committee—A. R. Goynne, A. J. Adams, O. J. Clatworthy, R. J. Bale, H. U. Hagerman and Ladies' Aid—Mrs. Clatworthy and Mrs. Kirby.

Mr. Moore in replying reviewed briefly a few important events of his pastorate. He referred to the loyalty of the Board, the never-failing help of the Ladies' Aid, and the excellent co-operation of the whole church without which the past four years success could not have been achieved.

Mr. A. R. Goynne in a few well-chosen words told of good financial condition of the church. During the last four years over $50,000 had been raised, and a large amount of subscriptions had been promised for the building fund but were not due till 1916.

The ladies served dainty refreshments and a pleasant evening was brought to a close.

Letter From the Front

Following is a passage of a letter received by Mrs. Isaac Storing from her nephew, Gunner F. B. Day, who is with the first contingent in France, which we have been requested to publish:

"One never knows what is going to happen out here on the battlefield but we all get through safe. A good rest out there will just do me all the worlds of good after this life here as this is a very tiresome life, no sport of any kind just to kill all the time. The battlefield is covered with dead. Well I suppose you hear a lot about the Canadians. They have lost a lot of officers and men which we miss very much specially the officers as they are all a good natured lot and do a lot for their men."

JUDGE HUYCKE THREATENS TO ABOLISH DIVISION COURT

At the sittings of the Division Court at Havelock on Thursday last, Judge Huycke brought up the matter of the prosecution and conviction of barrister Payne of Campbellford for speeding on the occasion of the last visit of the Judge to Havelock which alleged offence was caused in an endeavor to enable His Honour to catch a train. Judge Huycke interrogated Constable McNicholl as to the facts of the case and was told that he had not witnessed the alleged offence but that he was told by Magistrate Joyce to lay an information against Mr. Payne before Magistrate Mathison. His Honour, after having ascertained that the village had not passed a by-law regulating autos, informed the constable that if he had been a County Constable, that he would have dismissed him, but as he was a village official only, he had no power to do so. He then related the facts of the case and stated that if Mr. Payne had defended the charge that it would have been dismissed or in event of a conviction, that it would have been set aside, and said that if the town council did not remit the amount of the fine, that he himself would reimburse Mr. Payne. He referred to the struggle Havelock had to obtain a Division Court and the fact that it was through his efforts that it was finally established here. He said that since that time the results had been far from satisfactory in regard to the condition of the accommodation. He said that from what he had been able to gather that he considered the Payne prosecution as a personal affront to himself and the Court, and that he had about come to the conclusion to abolish the Court in Havelock. Whether the Payne case was a matter of vindictiveness to Mr. Payne or to himself mattered little, and finally asked Reeve Kinder if he had any explanation to make as to why the Court should not be done away with.

Reeve Kinder in reply assured His Honour that he regretted the affair very much, and that it was through no feeling of ill will towards him, and as the head of the Municipality, tendered him an apology.

His Honour then asked the Reeve to have the fine remitted and to have such other representations made to him as he thought proper to remedy such a travesty on justice, which, he added, would not have happened in any other place under heaven and which was a disgrace to any community.

The Reeve promised to take the matter up with his council and the incident ended.

CORONER'S INQUEST HELD

Jury Found That Child Met Death at the Hands of Some Unknown Person.

About three weeks ago a child was born to an inmate of the home of Mrs. Pappas, 11th con. of Rawdon, and was stated to have been murdered. The questions of neighbors were aroused, and an investigation took place, and the body, which was buried under an apple tree in the garden, was exhumed by order of Dr. Alger, Coroner, and brought to Stirling, where a post-mortem examination took place, conducted by Dr. Potts and Dr. Wellman, who testified that the child had been born alive, and apparently strong and healthy. An inquest was accordingly opened on June 17th, before Coroner Alger, and after some evidence was taken was adjourned to June 24th, when further evidence was taken, and a verdict rendered that the child came to its death by the hands of some person or persons unknown.

There are several other children in the home, and Mr. Wrightmeyer of Belleville is having their case brought before two magistrates with a view to having them removed to the care of the "Children's Shelter" at Belleville.

LIEUT. WILKINS RETURNS HOME

Arrived in Norwood on Sunday Last on Few Months Sick Leave.

Lieut. Harold O. D. Wilkins, of Belleville, son of Mr. F. W. Wilkins, D.T.G. of Norwood, and the first of our town to return from the battle front arrived home at Norwood Saturday afternoon last, and on a few months' sick leave. Lieut. Wilkins, who holds a commission in an English regiment, was dangerously wounded last March, while on active service in France. For several weeks he was confined to the hospital, his condition being very critical. A strong physique, however, assisted greatly towards his recovery, which became sufficiently advanced to allow his return to Canada. For one, has passed through such a trying ordeal, Lieut. Wilkins looks very well.

He sustained his injuries while leading his men in a night attack on the German trenches. His assailant was only a few feet away when he fired, and Lieut. Wilkins was able to distinguish the Hun's countenance by the flash of the rifle. The bullet struck him under the collar bone, passed through his body and came out between his shoulder blades. One of his company who was following him, was struck in the head by the same bullet and killed.

The escape of Lieut. Wilkins was indeed a narrow one, and his friends will rejoice with him in his preservation, as well as hope for him a rapid and complete convalescence.
