

Red Rose Tea Uniformity

A TEA that is good to-day and poor to-morrow is unreliable.

Have you ever noticed variations in the quality of the tea you use? One package good, the next bitter, herby, perhaps weak and insipid.

A lack of expert knowledge by the tasters and blenders of that tea produced that result. There was a failure at a vital point, an ignorance of combining qualities in teas, poor judgment in the blending of that maker's teas, a weakness which invariably gives just such results as your poor tea.

Every chest of Red Rose Tea is tested at the gardens, again by the Eastern Red Rose shippers, then at the Red Rose warehouse upon its arrival before blending; after that an experimental blend is tested, and the final or actual blend is also tested before being packed.

Nothing is left to chance.

That is why that "rich fruity flavor" is always present in Red Rose Tea.

Why Red Rose Tea is always uniform, why

Red Rose Tea is good Tea

"Did you meet my tailor coming up the hallway?" inquired the Russian nobleman.

"No," replied the American visitor, "but I met a man with a pair of steel-cutting shears, several sheets of armour plate and a bag of rivets. Are you going to have the boiler in the castle repaired?"

"No, that was my tailor. He is coming up to fit on my new spring coat."

"Well, what was he doing with all that hardware?"

"Oh, we all wear steel bomb-proof coats now."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years it was pronounced a local disease and pre-empted local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Miss—Before I give you my answer, Count, tell me one thing. When my freshness of youth is gone, and the hand of time has diminished whatever beauty I possessed; when advancing years cause my cheeks to fade and my charms to vanish—tell me Count will you love me then?

The Count—I do.

Rheumatism Entirely Cured

Also suffered from constipation, kidney disease and stomach troubles.

Whatever mystery there may be about rheumatism, this much is certain, that it is caused by derangement of the kidneys, and disappears when the kidneys are set right by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mrs. Geo. W. Lawson, Concession, Ont., writes: "It is a pleasure for me to state that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills made a well woman of me, completely curing me of constipation, rheumatism, stomach troubles, and a very severe kidney trouble after years of suffering. I am now sixty-eight years of age, and very grateful for what Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have done for me, and for the remarkable cure of my husband by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

By their combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure the most severe and complicated illness arising from derangements of these organs. One pill a dose, 25 cts. a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

"Can't say that I am much impressed with the neighborhood," remarked the man who had been through the suburban cottage.

"What's wrong? growled the real estate agent.

"Well, to begin with, I can hear the mosquitoes singing."

"Well, what do you expect the mosquitoes to do—whistle?"

A Long Meal.

A Madrid restaurant keeper has sued a woman for a meal. He swears that she ate and drank without ceasing from 8 p. m. to 2 a. m.

His Stock of English.

A Welshman on the witness stand in court was asked whether he could speak English. He said he knew enough English to ask for beer, and that was enough for him.

Match.

Munich, the capital of the kingdom of Bavaria and the seat of the Bavarian government, is the third city of Germany as regards population. It is the center of German art and music, and its university ranks second to none in the empire.

A Land of Poisons.

It is stated by the Journal of the African society that for some years death by poison has been the subject of talk in the colony of Sierra Leone. No one, it would appear, dies from natural causes. Poisoning in one form or another is put down as the cause of death not only among the poor, but also among the rich.

Australian Coffee.

As many as 2,240 pounds of coffee have been picked from one acre in Australia.

Monster Palm Leaves.

The biggest leaves in the world are those of the royal palm, which grows on the banks of the Amazon. They reach a length of thirty to fifty feet and are from ten to twelve feet in breadth.

Zinc and Bismuth.

Zinc and bismuth are useful for a local treatment of some skin diseases. When no longer needed they should be put aside. Their regular employment in "beauty" lotions is very injurious to the skin, and in the case of zinc the general health may be impaired.

Farmers in India.

In no country in the world are farmers so heavily taxed as in India; 60 to 70 per cent of their profits go to the state.

September Dyeing.

SUCCESS, PROFIT & PLEASURE

When You Use

DIAMOND DYES

Thousands of city and country women and girls will engage in the work of home dyeing, in September. Old dresses, skirts, blouses, capes, jackets, wraps and clothing for men, boys and girls, will be carefully looked out and prepared for the dyebath.

It is safe to assert that every wife, mother and daughter who has heard of the wonderful and popular DIAMOND DYES, will use them in preference to any of the crude, weak and adulterated package dyes sold by some dealers for the sake of big profits.

It is unnecessary to add a word regarding the great superiority of DIAMOND DYES over all other makes of dyes. They have a worldwide reputation for grand home results; they give colors that never fade in sun or washing. Home dyeing is certainly profitable work when DIAMOND DYES are used.

Beware of imitation package dyes; they ruin your hands and spoil your work. Ask for the DIAMOND, take no others. Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, P. Q., for valuable book on home dyeing work and 48 dyed samples. Sent free to any address.

"Old Col. Bluffen tells us that he was in many great battles."

"Is he still sticking to that yarn?"

"Yes, indeed. He says there is one charge that he will remember to his dying day."

"H'm! That must be the time the bartender charged him for a round of drinks and he thought the boys were treating."

"Excuse Enough."

"He spoke very harshly of you yesterday."

"I can't blame him. He owes me money and hasn't any way of paying it."

HUMOR

HER CRIME.

Mrs. Empson's Stolen Book and How She Adjusted Matters.

"It is the easiest thing in the world," said Mrs. Empson, "to be a shoplifter. I turned one myself today. I stole a book called 'Happy Thoughts For Happy People.' I didn't mean to steal it. I picked it up by mistake and walked away with it. I didn't know I had it until I got almost home."

"In that case," said Empson, "I suppose you will take it back."

"Y-y-yes, I suppose so. The only difficulty about that is that I don't know where to take it. I don't know where I got it. I was in the book department of half a dozen stores and at every counter I looked at a 'Happy Thoughts' book. I don't know which place it was that I really turned that!"

"It was probably the last place you were in," suggested Empson. "At any rate, I advise you to go there and explain your mistake. They will probably know their own goods."

Mrs. Empson promised to attend to the restoration of purloined literature early the following morning. Evidently his wife's misdeed weighed heavily on Mr. Empson's mind, for his first question that night was about the book.

"Did you take it back?" he asked.

"Yes."

"Belonged where I thought it did, I suppose?"

"Yes—that is, the floorwalker thought it was there."

"That's good," said Empson. "I'm glad you've got it settled. I've worried about the matter all day. I see you made good by buying more stuff as well as returning the book. Bought this there, didn't you?"

Empson took a short length of lace from the table and dangled it before his wife's eyes.

"Yes," she said. "You see, it was awfully hard to explain, the floorwalker seemed so cross. I was afraid he wouldn't understand and would have me arrested or something, so when he said the book was there."

She looked at Empson appealingly.

"Yes," he said, "and then—"

"Why, then, I didn't have the courage to confess that I had stolen the book. I pretended that I wanted to make an exchange, so he gave me a credit check for 98 cents, and I bought this lace with that."—New York Press.

Would Tire His Jaw.

A Cambridgeshire farmer was recently arguing with a French chauffeur, who had slackened at an inn, on the merits of the horse and the motor car.

"Give me a horse," remarked the farmer. "Them travelin' oil shops is too uncertain for me."

"Eat sees prejudice, my friend," the chauffeur replied. "You English are behind the times. You will think deer-arent some day."

"Behind the times be blowed!" came the retort. "P'raps not. These the Froosians are round Paris and you 'ave to git your dinner off a steak from the 'ind wheel of a moty car you Frenchies 'I wish you wasn't so jolly well up to date!"—Birmingham (England) News.
