

A BOURBON WEDS LOUISE OF ORLEANS.

Great Gathering of Kings and Princes at Duke of Orleans' Seat.

Guests Got a Glimpse of the Manners and Customs of the Old French Court.

London, Nov. 16.—There was a remarkable gathering last night at Wood Norton, the seat of the Duke of Orleans, of Kings and Princes, who have assembled to witness the marriage ceremony to-day of Prince Charles of Bourbon and Princess Louise of Orleans.

manners and customs of the old French court was presented to-day at Wood Norton, where Prince Charles of Bourbon was married to Princess Louise of France with ceremonies the picturesque and stately magnificence of which could hardly have been exceeded had the Duke of Orleans, the owner of Wood Norton, and the bride's brother been the persons concerned instead of a pretender to the throne of France.

The Man In Overalls

Of course it was the proper caper to laugh at the revetment wall. Let Laurier and the city go hang.

All's well that ends well. Wells turned up quite well.

I never heard of anybody being poisoned with a ham sandwich.

And why shouldn't Whitney be reminded that he owes Hamilton $75,000? Shouldn't he pay his debts like the rest of us.

The reason Studholme was left off that deputation was that part of its programme was his undoing.

The Police Commissioners should make its police appointments on the same principle that any business man would make an appointment. Pick the best available men for the positions.

The "dirty water" Spec. should be the last to talk about injuring the city.

I am afraid the "new blood" is running the fads. The girls are still making cookies.

The Spectator quoted "a prominent Liberal" last night. To-night it may quote "a disgusted Grit." Anything to say Whitney.

I wouldn't be a bit surprised if Sir Wilfrid should have to go down in his dip to help to build that Technical College.

Hamilton Grits will now have no difficulty in "placing" the Herald. The independent dodge is about played out.

Now do you think that if Mr. Lazier, who knows more about school matters than all the "new blood" put together, had been allowed to go on that deputation to Whitney, that the very sight of him would have knocked the whole thing into a cocked hat? Bosh!

The game was to keep the Grits out of it entirely, so that when the elections come on the Tories would claim all the credit, and declare that the Liberals never so much as lifted their little finger to get the college.

Talking about independence, the Herald is an out-and-out Chamberlainite and protectionist in old country politics, and a high tariffite in Canadian politics. I guess the Liberals of Hamilton are not blind.

Wah! Don't say a word. You may offend Whitney.

Go to church and forget it.

THE FUTURE. Many a man has missed his opportunity by living too much in the future.

When he was a boy he said to himself, "Wait until I am a young man and then I will show you what I will do." When he became a young man it was, "Wait until after I am married and then I will start in to do something." He got married, but put off the day of great things until some more convenient season—one that never came. Now there are hundreds of fellows like that. I know lots of them; so, no doubt, do you. I often talk to the young chaps I come across. I want to know, in a friendly way, how they spend their evenings, for instance. Do they study? Do they read books that will be of use to them? The answer often is that they do not study and read very little. They seem to be satisfied as they are. Go home from work for supper. Go out again, play ball, walk the streets, sometimes play pool, fill up the time in this way until bed time. Back again to work in the morning. That's the usual routine of hundreds of them. Asked if they know all they want to know, they answer they don't know. When I point out to them the advantage they would derive from taking up some course of study or reading that would help them in their trade or business, they sometimes take a mild interest in the subject—some have even taken it to heart and made a move towards self-improvement, but the majority of them put it off or say, what's the use? Yet, it is a peculiar thing, that the most indifferent, those more intent upon the latest sporting news, for instance, have a feeling that some day, not just now, however, they will take the thing up in earnest. Although self-condemned by their present lack of interest in the present, they still deceive themselves by building upon what they intend to do at some future day, the date of which has not yet been set. I am satisfied, however, that it does not take much persuasion to get a boy to think of these things, if you tackle him in the right way. Parents who neglect to do this—and look at the thousands who do neglect to do it—miss more than they imagine, and are often their own boy's worst enemy.

BARBERS' TROUBLE. Resolution Passed by the Trades and Labor Council.

At last night's meeting of the Trades and Labor Council, a deputation of boss barbers was present and stated their side of the trouble with the strikers.

The arguments used against the union interfering with the bosses who desired to work after 11 p.m. on Saturday evening, about the same as those given in the letter published yesterday. They said they were willing to let the men quit at the hour fixed, but desired to work themselves. The members of the Council, to secure direct connection with the latter country, Dr. Wyman's plan was endorsed by the other speakers.

COUNTY JUDGE WILL DECIDE THE APPEAL.

Court of Revision Confirms the Assessment in the Edward Martin Estate Case.

Lawyers Argued Case This Morning and Concluded to Let the Judge Settle It.

The appeal of Martin Malone against the estate of the late Edward Martin, K. C., to have the assessment raised, will have to be fought out before the County Judge. After hearing the argument in the case this morning the Court of Revision decided to confirm the assessments on the various properties as fixed by the department, which of course will not interfere with Mr. Malone's appealing to the Judge.

The income of the estate of the late Edward Martin. The court had no power to do anything of the kind. All it could do was alter or correct errors on the rolls. It could not revise a thing that never existed. The onus was on Mr. Malone to show that the court had jurisdiction.

Mr. Malone held that he had a right to have the case disposed of by the Court of Revision. The court had the power to force a person to make a statutory declaration as to taxable income. If these declarations were made as to the income of the Martin estate of Mr. Kirwan and Mr. Darcy Martin, their three sisters and Mrs. Martin, he would be satisfied.

Mr. Malone held that he had a right to have the case disposed of by the Court of Revision. The court had the power to force a person to make a statutory declaration as to taxable income. If these declarations were made as to the income of the Martin estate of Mr. Kirwan and Mr. Darcy Martin, their three sisters and Mrs. Martin, he would be satisfied.

There are several fine points of law involved. When the case was taken up Mr. Malone explained that he appeared as an elector, as the statute entitled him to, and appealed against the assessment. He objected to the assessments on Ballantrich and the lands of Mr. Kirwan Martin on Aberdeen avenue. He also appealed against the income assessments of Messrs. Kirwan and D'Arcy Martin, their sisters and Mrs. Martin.

The village of Burlington is taking up the question of water supply in earnest. It was first suggested that Hamilton should supply water from the Beach pumping station, but it is more probable now that it will install its own pumps. Mr. Young, a member of the Council, called on City Engineer Barrow this morning and talked the matter over with him. Mr. Barrow thinks it would be a very expensive proposition piping to Burlington. He advised that if the village was going to pump direct from the lake as proposed, that a gas pump would be preferable to the electric unless a stand pipe was used. As the initial cost of the electrical pumps would be lower and entail less expense it is thought probable that one of these will be installed.

Mr. Malone contended that the statute also provided that the court had power to extend the time for altering or correcting errors on the assessment roll. He suggested that it would be best to leave the matter for the County Judge to settle, the court in the meantime hearing the evidence and deciding what the assessments should be fixed at. It was no fault of his, he said, that proper notice had not been given, so that the case could have been heard within the time prescribed.

The Board of Works is rapidly finishing up the cement work around the city and utilizing the gangs for the work on the new annex sewer. On Monday there will be four gangs on this and the work will be rushed to accommodate the Berlin Machine Works. It is hoped to finish this part of the work before December 1st.

Mr. Washington said his clients were perfectly willing to leave the matter to the County Judge.

The following building permits were issued to-day:

City Solicitor Waddell was asked for an opinion, and said the court undoubtedly had jurisdiction under an amendment made last year, empowering it to extend the time.

Spicer and Morrison, two frame houses, corner Tom and Breadbarn street for T. H. Begue, $2,300.

Mr. Washington argued that there could be no appeal against the real estate of his client or income because proper notices had not been served by the clerk of the municipality as the law provided. Mr. Malone had no right to step into the shoes of the municipality and serve the notices himself. A more serious objection was against the appeal to have the court fix the assessment on Thomas Drolot, one storey brick, Strachan street, between James and Hughson streets, $200.

HER UNCLE'S ADVICE LEAD TO HER SELF-DESTRUCTION.

Thought She Would Depart Before the Shadow Crossed Her Path.

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Fascinated by an anti-suicide device which led Nora May French, the poet, to destroy herself at Carmel-by-the-Sea. Investigation last night developed that her uncle, a Presbyterian minister, had often spoken of his abhorrence of suicide. He told her if the thought of self-destruction ever entered her mind, to sit, pistol in hand, in a shadowed path and to shoot when the edge of the shadow reached her.

Doctors who were called found her dead.

ANNEXATION. Warden of Wentworth Thinks it Better Than Incorporation.

Warden VanSickle is of the opinion that the petition for the incorporation of Crown Point as a village is going to get some hard knocks before it goes through the Council. He pointed out this morning that it was quite improbable that the present County Council could pass any measure at the coming session. The best that might be done would be to give the bill the first and second reading, but the third reading would have to go over until the new year.

The usual Saturday morning love feast at the office of the Beach Commission did not take place this morning. Both of the local commissioners were at the office, but not at the same time. Mr. Morden dropped in a little later, and enquired after the chairman's health and departed.

WILL THE MAURETANIA BEAT THE LUSITANIA?

Will the English or Scotch Built Ship Be the Fastest?—Will Have Many Passengers.

London, Nov. 16.—Advices from England as to the departure of the huge new Cunard liner Mauretania, from Liverpool, being her maiden transatlantic passage, say that the event will be attended with an interest fully as keen as that which marked the Lusitania's first departure for America. The Mauretania's recent trials establish the conviction that she will surpass the Lusitania's achievements, notwithstanding the official announcement that she will not be pushed. The rival shipbuilding interests on the Tyne and on the Clyde are intensely interested on this point of speed, for the English builders hope to see the product of the Scotch yards outpaced by the Tyneside vessel. The Mauretania will carry about 2,000 passengers—a record number for a westward passage in mid-November—but even then all her berths will not be filled. The amount of gold she will bring here adds yet more interest to the voyage. The amount is yet uncertain, but it will probably be about $13,000,000, mainly in gold bars. The Mauretania Co. has insured the Mauretania for nearly $5,000,000.

POISONING CASE.

Salmon Was Not Left In Can After Being Opened.

Mrs. Dickie, Gibson avenue, denies that the salmon from which the sandwiches that are supposed to have caused ptomaine poisoning in her daughter and Miss M. Barrett was left in the can after the can was opened. The contents of the can were removed promptly and must have been bad, as they sickened several small children at home, who ate of it. She kept some of the salmon for the health officers, but no one called for it. Miss Barrett was able to leave the hospital yesterday. Miss Dickie is still there, but is out of danger.

WILL INVESTIGATE.

Trades and Labor Council to Examine the Sucker.

There was a matter up at the Trades and Labor Council last night that is not referred to in the report of the meeting of that body, for the reason that the Secretary was instructed not to give it out. It was in connection with the filtering basins and the sand-sucker. A committee composed of Messrs. Wm. Berry, W. R. Rollo and J. Stevenson was appointed to make a thorough examination of the basins and, if necessary, to get assistance and to report at the next meeting of the council. A funny thing about the matter is that Wm. Berry, one of the committee, is an employee of the city, being engaged at the city quarry.

This body promises to organize the authorities and the public a few surprises.

CALLS IT A FAKE.

Inspector Uses Strong Language About Newspaper Story.

In connection with the cases of the five young men charged with stealing jewelry and other articles from many houses in town of late, a local paper published a story that the police were after a "fence," a man who was disposing of the goods for them, and that he was a well-known business man. Inspector McMahon, when asked this morning about the story, said, "It is a lie. It looks just like the work of a donkey, which opens its mouth and lets out a big 'fence,' with nothing in or behind it." Another paper published a bad guess also. It had a sorrowful little tale about Sergeant-Major Prentice saying that he was not improving as fast as he would like to, in Bermuda, where he had gone, on sick leave, and that he might never take up his duties again. Major Prentice arrived home on Saturday evening, the paper printed the story, and gave it out that he was completely recovered, and never felt better in his life. He expressed the intention of going back to work as soon as his leave expires.

Dr. Wyman's plan was endorsed by the other speakers.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Three interesting meetings have been held during the past week in observance of the week of prayer for the Y. W. C. A. work. On Tuesday the Hamilton Association was on the list for remembrance throughout the world. A prayer meeting of the directors was held on that morning, when Mrs. (Rev.) Bell gave a very instructive Bible reading. On Wednesday evening a cottage prayer meeting for the girls was held at the home of Mrs. Hall, John street north, when Mr. Ellis, of Wycliffe College, Toronto, who has been in the city in the interests of the Canadian colleges' mission, addressed the meeting. A general meeting was held on Thursday evening, at which Pastor Philpott gave a most earnest address on "Prayer." There was special music each evening, which added much to the interest of those gatherings. Solos were sung by Misses Williamson, Chalmers and a duet by Misses Hazley and McCabe.
