

Brown's Household Panacea.
Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood, when taken internally, and applied externally, and thereby more certainly RELIEVE PAIN, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation. It cures pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, and ALL ACHES.

THE GREAT RELIEVER OF PAIN.
"Brown's Household Panacea" should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water [sweetened, if preferred], taken at bedtime, will BREAK UP A COLD. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

MUCH SICKNESS.
Undoubtedly with children, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. Brown's Vermifuge Comfits, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate system. A valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box.

The Florence Nightingale of the Nursery.
The following is an extract from a letter written to the German Reform Messenger, at Chambersburg, Penna.:
A BENEFACTRESS.

Just open the door for her, and Mrs. Winslow will prove the American Florence Nightingale of the Nursery. Of this we are sure, that we will teach our "Susy" to say, "A blessing on Mrs. Winslow for helping her to survive and escape the griping colic, and teething stage." MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP relieves the child from pain, and cures dysentery and diarrhoea. It softens the gums, reduces inflammation, cures wind colic, carries the bile to the bowels, and through the teething period. It performs precisely what it professes to perform, every part of it—nothing less. We have never seen Mrs. Winslow—know her only through the preparation of her "Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." If we had the power we would make her, as she is, a physical saviour to the infant race. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

Thirty Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP is the prescription of one of the best Female Physicians and Nurses in the United States, and has been used for thirty years with never failing safety and success by millions of mothers and children, from the feeble infant of one week old to the adult. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, and increases health and comfort to mother and child. We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhoea in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

None genuine unless the fac-simile of Curtis & Perkins is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Medicine Dealers. 25 cents a bottle.

DELICATE WOMEN. Pale-faced, Sickly Children, the Aged and Infirm, alike are benefited by the Strengthening and Blood Making Compound, containing Quinine Wine and Iron. It stimulates the circulation, improves the Appetite, and removes all impurities from the Blood. It is the best medicine you can take to give you strength.

Local Matters.

Something like a Rum.
Mr. McCausland, of the Gibson Tannery, informs us that he has now on his books advance orders to the value of $15,000 for skins. Orders continue to pour in every day, and the only question Mr. Mac says, is, "How are we going to fill them?"

Notes.
The subscriber is prepared from date to repair or put up pumps or parts thereof of every description at short notice on the lowest possible rates.

Parties desiring the above style of work will leave their names at E. Chestnut & Sons.

Accident.
On Friday evening a lad named Smith, son of John Smith of Kingslear, was severely injured by a kick which he received from a horse which he was harnessing to a sled. The boy is confined to his bed, and it will probably be some time before he is able to leave the house.

The Holiday Trade.
Tweeds (Canadian and Scotch) and Broad-cloth suits made to order in the latest and approved styles at the establishment of J. Collins, No. 4 Co's Block, Queen Street. A franchise lot of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods on hand, which will be disposed of at prices to suit the times and the people. Our motto—Good Fit or No Pay—Dec 23rd.

Murder.
It will be noticed by our advertising columns that Messrs. A. Miller & Co. are to hold a grand bankrupt sale of Dry Goods for the next thirty days. We are not, unfortunately, able to take advantage of the opportunity, whilst the tax gatherer continues to roam pensively around the premises seeking what he may conveniently appropriate. The public should not fail to embrace this opportunity, as they may rely on getting extraordinary bargains.

Business card.
As I propose to remain in Fredericton this winter, I intend, if classes can be formed before the first of December, to teach a limited number of pupils of both sexes (collectively or separately), as may previously be agreed upon for the season, in the various branches of Drawing and Painting (Landscapes and Figures, &c.) Arrangements may be made by calling at M. S. Hall's Book Store, Queen Street. Dec. 11th. Artist.

Special Meeting of the City Council.
Notice has been issued that a special meeting of the City Council will be held on Monday evening to receive reports from outstanding committees and to pass an order authorizing application to Legislature for authority to control Queens Ward Market, to abolish the "Free Market," and to alter the city charter, with respect to city meetings. The cause of this "hot issue" is that the council may be able to submit a proposition to the County Council which meets here on Tuesday.

Evangelical—One way of saving sinners.

Mr. Claubuck, the evangelist, still continues his labors among the backsliders. He held forth last night in the Methodist Church to a large crowd.

Many and various, since the organization of the churches in Asia, have been the influences, through the instrumentality of man, that have tended toward the elevation of man's moral nature and towards giving him a proper idea of the position and relation between man and his Creator. Many of these influences have been dignified and calculated by their impressiveness and their character as simple exponents of the scriptures, as the revealed Word of God, to create upon man, at least a righteous comprehension of the good resulting from the acceptance of Christianity and mayhap in disbelievers, an inward feeling of distrust as to their position and their future in the moral world. We have no wish what ever to criticize any work or action which has for its object the uplifting of humanity. But we think all such operations should possess this qualification—dignity.

One of the grandest and sublimest truths in the Christian system is in the fact of its cosmopolitan nature—applicable to all men in all climes, as well as in every stage of social and moral development.

Religion is a divinely something which should be pointed to men in the lowest stages of iniquity as an object to be attained—something intended for the renovation and elevation of the worst state of humanity. And as such, every right-thinking man and woman, who does think, must be shocked upon entering an assembly congregated with such objects in view, to find the religion of our Saviour, not upheld as a height attainable by any competitor however degraded, but actually placed on the lowest level of human intelligence; the object of vilious and vulgar comparisons that have for their originators the denizens of our street corners. We may be wrong, but we do object to hear our Saviour and His acts either illustrated by humorous anecdotes—the outgrowth of Western barbarism and the boast of the Great Unwashed; or by the obliging and obsequious dentist probing for a cantankerous tooth, or to an irascible captain of a juvenile militia who, to show his temporary authority, orders his reluctant troops to march over it like a school girl's flower beds, or commit other degradation for the sake of unbecomingly duty.

We object, too, to have religion spoken of as a substance which is capable of measurement, or subject to materialization, whether such be calculated with "a six-and-three-quarter hat," or come under the title of "skim milk." We do not believe there is any such thing as "skim-milk" religion.

Religion is a change produced in man's sinful nature, the directing of his thoughts heavenward; the gift of God through His Holy Spirit to mankind, and to speak of "skim-milk" religion is simply to throw reproach upon the Creator and the modes he employs for the transformation of the souls of men, and to belittle, in cases His action upon their moral nature is futile and unproductive.

Mr. Claubuck, however good his intentions, can never hope by laughable comparisons or anecdotes to arouse sin-cursed man to a sense of his iniquity and his position as a progressive sinner.

Lumber.
"Lumber operations here," writes our Grand Falls correspondent, "since the late rise in the English market, have assumed something of the old time activity. Wages for a. b. men remain at the old figures, with small probability for a rise. W. G. Graham Esq., employs several men and intends to cut 500,000 feet this season. Mr. W. B. West, who operates across the line, and hauls his logs to Rapid de Femme, expects should good luck continue, to get out about 1,000,000 feet. Bergridge Bros., of Andover, state that they will likely cut 2,000,000 feet of spruce during the winter, and more if the prospects offer sufficient encouragement."

Advertisement.
A choice lot of domestic TWEEDS, Kitchen Furnishing Goods, for sale very low at J. & J. O'Brien's Tinshop, corner Queen and Carleton Streets. Globes and Gasburners of the most approved styles in his possession at "Rock Bottom" prices. Messrs. J. & J. O'Brien are prepared to do all manner of Gas-fitting and Plumbing for Gas, Water and Steam, at reasonable rates. Gas Pendants, Chandeliers, &c., at remarkably low prices at J. & J. O'Brien's Dec. 27th.

Shaw Bros. Purchase.
The Shaw Brothers have purchased 110 acres of interval land, for the erection of buildings, etc., just below the mouth of the Pokok, and opposite the Newkewick Stream, from Messrs. Alex. Boshorough and Joseph Smith. They have also bought up large quantities of bark, cut and owned by several parties in the vicinity. Building will commence immediately, the lumber being sawed by Messrs. Hill & Berry at the Pokok mill and tanning operations will commence before next September.

Curling.
The second curling match of the season, for the Elgin Medal, was played yesterday afternoon with the following result:
Nell,.....McPherson.
A. Grievous,.....Grievous.
Smith, Skip,.....Hazen.
Rutter, Skip,.....Rutter Skip.
This is the second time the Medal has been borne off by Skip Smith. The game was quite an interesting one, but as will be seen was considerably one-sided.

Prof. Moore in St. Dunstan's Hall.
The public, in the many entertainments given just now, should not forget Prof. A. E. Moore in St. Dunstan's Hall, Monday and Tuesday evenings. The Professor is famed far and wide for excellent entertainments of a very varied character. We learn he intends exhibiting the most interesting of Old World scenes; that he will perform sleight of hand tricks; show a human being sleeping in mid air; and sing a number of popular Irish melodies. The hall, we have no doubt, will be filled both evenings.

Lectures.
The lecture series will soon be upon us, and we hope the crop will be worthy the trouble. St. Dunstan's Society talk of organizing a course. In that case we recommend Mr. Quigley who has already delighted and edified the people in that hall. We notice that Mr. McDade of the News has gone into lecture harness in St. John. We feel quite assured Mr. McDade possesses very many of the "essentials," and recommends him to our St. Dunstan friends. Our young friend, we need not tell our readers, is both brilliant and witty.

Starting Up.
The West End Saw Mill, Mr. R. A. Estey proprietor, will resume operations on Monday next. Several hundred thousand feet of spruce and hemlock, now arriving via the N. B. R. from parties in Millville and vicinity, are to be sawed and shipped to the United States.

McFarlane, Thompson & Anderson will begin work in the Foundry on the first of the work.

The net proceeds of Thursday evening's complimentary entertainment to Miss Agnes Martin were $60.

The Benefit to Miss Martin.

Any entertainment, whether private or public, got up for benevolent purposes, is something almost as sacred in character as that Charity which lies at the bottom of it. It is therefore almost safe from the critic's attack. We have no doubt that the few remarks that follow this preface to be in the least exacting or critical.

There was an overture which ushered in the performance with all the rattle and pomp of a thunderstorm. Let us here say we think it absolutely barbarous to bring a score or so of able-bodied men with those tremendous sounding instruments into any inclosed space of less than a couple of square miles.

"Several young men" then sang an opening chorus, and as encores are coming to be quite as natural as an echo to any sound, their performance was encored; or better, echoed.

Mr. Dr. Currie was announced, and sang "My Heart is in the House." This song was sung very beautifully indeed. It was sweet and pleasing; and showed that Mrs. Currie possesses a very melodious as well as a very carefully trained voice.

A solo and chorus was announced, in which Mrs. B. Billip Manger, William Wilson, William Black, and William Adams sang. It was rendered in a distressingly low tone, some where in the neighborhood of B. flat. It was so low that it produced no echo.

Mr. Manger then came forward with a selection from "Josiah Allen's Wife." When she appeared, the audience gave applause enough to satisfy the ordinary reader on leaving the stage. The reading, we may say, was very good indeed; and while one or two were of the opinion that the piece was rather long, yet it would be hard to think so and witness the continued ripple of amusement and applause at the ridiculous drolleries of poor Josiah's wife. It was what we term a success.

Mr. E. E. Phair was the next on the programme, and, on appearing, was also received with applause of no uncertain sound. Her song was "The Lover and the Bird." Mrs. Phair, we have been told, was seriously indisposed, and only by a great effort appeared at all. This is why there was not as much vigor in her song as usual. But the sweetness of her voice and her captivating way brought a very decided encore. The response was, "Birdie, tell Robin I'm coming," in which the singer seemed to put difficulties under foot and once again took her breathers by storm. Every one knows what a sweet little song this is; let those who were not there but who have heard Mrs. Phair, imagine her singing it at almost her best!

Mr. Wilson then gave the audience "The Tar's Farewell," and as is usual with Mr. Wilson brought down the melody. His encore was the customary Irish "Melody," "Tara's Hall."

Mr. Charles A. Power of this paper then discussed on "The Hubbard." This was a laughable piece of composition, and was about as well rendered as one could wish it. We can't forbear from saying that Mr. Power has a very pleasing dash; a capital delivery and a good ringing voice. He has become quite a favorite with the Fredericton audience, and we are glad to see that he has been so disappointed of a local reference, but it was made in no offensive spirit we feel quite certain.

Miss Robb had yet to come. When she appeared a ringing applause went through the audience, then a stillness fell over it. "When she came there but who have heard Mrs. Phair, imagine her singing it at almost her best!"

NIGHT SCHOOLS.

To the Editor of the Star.

Sir,—Cannot we have night schools in this city for grown-up boys and young men whose education has been neglected, and whose parents are heavily taxed to support our schools? Surely the teachers, who are handsomely paid, could spend their evenings in giving instruction to our youth. Let us have two night schools, in operation during the balance of this winter: one at the Park Barracks, the other at the York Street School, the male teachers of the city taking it by turns each week until, say, the first of May. It would not be a great hardship on the teachers, as their duties are very light at present, and it would be a great boon to our young men who would cheerfully embrace the opportunity of spending their evenings to be so instructed.

Jan. 16th, 1880 A. PARENT.

[We may say the above communication meets our views; as it should meet the views of any respectable person who walks our streets any evening between the hours of 7 and 10. Every corner is defiled with depraved youths, young men, and tobacco juice; every dark alley way is full of coarse young fellows who can let no one pass without some remark, loud or covert. We have time and again directed the attention of the police to these debased creatures, but it seems all that we can say can't rid the corners and the dark alleys of the detestable nuisance. If night school would reclaim those depraved creatures then indeed it would be a great blessing, and should receive general encouragement. But we fear, to hope as much as this is like hoping against the inevitable: that one might as well expect the leopard to change his spots. There is something in a sense of manly honor and decency born in every man, but evil training and vile associations smother it, and nothing is left but what may well be called a reproach on humanity. We know personally, we are happy to say, none of the crowd of which we write, yet otherwise we know too much of them. They are omnipresent, and their presence is as manifest as is that of a certain animal of which most our readers know. They are found at public entertainments where they knock the seats, make hideous noises, whistle, shout and stamp. The height of their ambition is to box well and wrestle well, to drink rum and to be "able to stand" a great deal of it; to swear loud and to be able to crack coarse brutal jokes—and eat tobacco. This is the miserable lot that we should like to see inquired to attend night school. We may say now, that we insist on having the corners, the lamp posts and the alleyways cleared of these horrible scoundrels: it is to the police we look.—Ed.]

To the Editor of the Star:

Sir,—Allow me through the columns of your paper to thank those electors of the Wellington Ward, who so kindly signed a requisition for my candidature as Alderman for above ward. While I feel grateful for this mark of esteem, I think it would be unwise in me to accept; and therefore most respectfully beg to decline the proffered honor. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the valuable space in your paper, I am, Respectfully yours, N. D. HOOPER.

A new coal deposit has been unearthed at St. Marys, Kent County, of good quality.

A chemical expert, Prof. Best, has been examining the milk in St. John. He finds it to be so adulterated as to entirely remove the cows from the suspicion of having had anything to do with it.

The Kent Northern Railway will be opened for traffic about September next.

At a meeting of the Church of England Literary Society in St. John, Thursday night, it was decided after a short debate that it was desirable to substitute cremation for the burial of the dead.

This society is a fit subject for cremation.

MISCELLANEOUS.

In St. Thomas there were floods on the island of St. Kitts on Sunday by which 200 lives were lost. Property to the extent of a quarter of a million dollars was destroyed and the whole island was devastated. The flood originated on Mount Misery and swept down in torrents suddenly into the town of Basseterre, and carrying with it trees, timbers and branches of trees. Land slips added to the terror. Sugar cane was levelled, roads gullied, sugar houses and dwelling places borne helplessly away to the sea with their freight of drowning cattle and struggling human beings. Quantities of provisions and all the sugar ready for shipment were swept away. Earliest appeal are made for help. St. Kitts has known no such calamity since 1722.

On the 9th inst. Portland, Oregon, was visited by the most severe storm known since the settlement of the country. But little rain accompanied the gale. Damage to property in the city: St. Joseph's Presbyterian church prostrated, seven small houses blown down, and many roofs ripped off, including the roof of the Court House. Four persons were buried under the ruins of one building, one was killed and one badly injured. In the interior the storm raged with great violence. It is not possible to estimate the value of the property destroyed. At Trenton, Washington Territory, a tree was blown against a school house, demolishing it. Twenty children were in the building. A son and a daughter of J. W. Barnett were lastingly killed and another daughter was very dangerously injured.

The English Statesman says: "Our rule of India is purely philanthropic; at all events that is the principle on which we have ever administered it since 1858. And so we continue in one way or another, to charge the people of India £200 million per annum for every soldier we have there. We manage, somehow or other, that our English garrison shall cost us but about £28 per annum; but then there is a Parliament spending the estimates, and raising objections to every shilling of increased cost. In India there is none, and so the Horse Guards charge what they please to the Indian Exchequer, and the bill is paid as a matter of course, since a questioning of it would be rebellion to be put down at the point of the bayonet."

La Republique Francaise, Gambetta's organ, discussing Russia's condition, says: "Without troubling to flout off all I went well at home, Russia has cast herself upon the path of conquest and chimeras. She has taken the wrong road. Instead of following the Utopian dream of striking Turkey at the risk of obtaining but a meagre share of spoil, how much wiser would it have been to enter upon transformation at home? Here the best policy now is to take in hand those reforms which the vast majority of the people demand and expect. We must always reckon with Russia, but as long as she remains in her present unhealthy state, she will be feeble and play an unimportant part in the destinies of Europe. When a house is on fire there is a decided originality in running out of doors and setting fire to it. It is the same with a nation. Reasonable people at such times endeavor to extinguish their own configurations."

A Berlin correspondent says he can state as a fact, in spite of all the quieting assurances from St. Petersburg, the ill feeling between Germany and Russia continues, and the struggle between the two Chancellors is still proceeding.

A Berlin despatch says the entire staff of the Governor General of European Russia has been summoned to St. Petersburg to discuss the reorganization of the police force system. The czar is profoundly dissatisfied with the present force. The statement that Schouvaloff is likely to be appointed minister of the Interior with a department of police, is denied.

Again there is a rumor in Whitehall and at the Service Clubs in the vicinity of Pall Mall, that a regiment of infantry will shortly be detailed for duty in Canada. Several names new to Rideau Hall are mentioned as likely to accompany Her Royal Highness out to Halifax on Thursday week. It is reported that Captain Chinter, 91st Regiment, who has been serving in Zululand, will, in all probability, shortly return to Canada, and take up his appointment as aide on the staff of the Governor-General.

The War Department have agreed to an arrangement by which successful candidates at the Military College, Kingston, Canada, of which Lieut. Col. Hewitt, Royal Engineers, is commander, will be enabled to enter annually for appointments to commissions in the British army, and instructions have been forwarded to Canada to that effect.

A Ministerial statement was read in the French Chambers yesterday. It is to the effect that the change in the Cabinet does not indicate the abandonment of that prudent policy which is most suitable to the internal affairs of France, but that it indicates that France may henceforth advance with decision in the path of necessary reforms and successive improvement.

It is reported that a new revolution broke on the 4th inst. in San Domingo, in the Province of Cabas, favoring Bazas against Luperon.

At Perth forty persons, mostly boys, were arrested and confessed to having been bribed to make a disturbance. A general belief is that the back of the movement is broken.

A despatch from P. Arthur's Landing announces that an explosion destroyed the powder and nitro glycerine works a mile from town. No one was hurt, but every building in town was more or less damaged.
