tation and inflammation and drives poison

BABY'S SCALDS. Mrs. A. Lindsay, Woodstock, Ont., writes: "My baby broke into sores from head to foot. I had tried every remedy I could think of, but without avail, when I used Zam-Buk. Under this wonderful healer the sores began to show improvement and perseverance resulted in the sores being completely cured."

POISONED HAND. Mrs. Villiers, Stadacona St., Montreal, writes: "Give me Zam-Buk!
It is the finest all-round healer I know. It cured my poisoned hand, my three children's bad scalp sores, and my husband's badly crushed finger. Our home can't afford to be without Zam-Buk."

CUTS & BURNS. Mrs. T. D. Ruston, Children's Aid Society, Belleville, Ont., writes: "We never use anything but Zam-Buk for the children's cuts, burns, bruises, and sores. Experience proves it superior to anything else for soothing pain and quick healing whilst an injury is treated with Zam-Buk never festers."

BLISTERED HEEL. Mrs. C. A. Campbell, Pewasigan, Ont., writes: "New shoes blistered my heel badly, and stinging started a poisoned sore. I had not been able to get my shoe on for a week, when I heard of Zam-Buk. It was just wonderful the way it took the poison and inflammation out of the foot and healed the sore."

SEVERE SCALDS. Mrs. A. Ruseley, 416 St.
Timothy street, Montreal, writes: "My hand was badly scalded by the kettle boiling over. The blistered skin peeled off and the pain was unbearable. As soon as I applied Zam-Buk it cooled the fiery surfaces and reduced the inflammation and pain. More Zam-Buk brought perfect healing."

German Guns At Hillsboro

Hillsboro, Nov. 2—New machine guns and one trench mortar have been received here from the War Trophies Department at Ottawa.

The machine guns were captured from the Germans by the 25th Canadian Batt. and 102nd Canadian Batt.
They will be erected in town.

Ottawa Took Little Interest In U. S. Election

Ottawa, Nov. 2—News of the result of the elections in the United States was received quietly in the capital. The fact that the Prime Minister and a large proportion of the members of the cabinet are out of the city, probably accounted for lack of public comment. Efforts to reach Sir James Loughheed, acting Prime Minister, and other members of the cabinet who are still here, in order to get expressions of opinion on the result from members of the government were unsuccessful.

Warren G. Harding Elected President of United States

New York, Nov. 3—At 12.30 o'clock this morning with actual returns far from complete, Harding was certain of 346 votes in the electoral college from the following states:

Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The states from which returns were too meagre to justify actually placing them in either the Harding or Cox column were: Arizona, 3; California, 13; Colorado, 6; Indiana, 15; Kentucky, 13; Maryland, 8; Minnesota, 12; Missouri, 18; Montana, 4; Nevada, 3; New Mexico, 3; North Dakota, 5; South Dakota, 5; Utah, 4 and West Virginia, 8, a total of 120.

The states which were certain for Cox at that hour were:
Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia a total of 136 votes in the electoral college.

On the face of returns showing the growing landslide for Harding, Governor Cox's own newspaper, the Dayton News and Chairman White, of the Democratic National Committee, soon after 11 o'clock tonight conceded the election of Senator Harding.
Without waiting for returns from the West, which four years ago elected Wilson in the face of pluralities for Hughes throughout the east, the Democratic candidate and his chief manager conceded that in the "column referendum" which President Wilson declared would decide the League of Nations question, United States voters had preferred Harding, who favored "going in."

New York, Nov. 2—Warren G.
Harding, Republican, was elected President of the United States today by a tremendous plurality. His vote over Governor Cox of Ohio, the Democratic candidate, was very large.

There is every indication, also, that the next Congress, both the Senate and the House of Representatives, will be Republican. This was conceded by the chairman of the Democratic National Committee at 11 o'clock tonight. Governor Cox admitted through his newspapers that it was a landslide for the Republicans.

New York, Nov. 4—At 11.15, o'clock eastern time, with the west and middle west still scarcely heard from, the Harding landslide in the east was continuing with gathering momentum.
At the rate the Harding column was growing at that hour, the Republican plurality in the state of New York would be around the unprecedented figure of more than a million. New York city, normally Democratic, was going for Harding by at least half a million. The governorship fight continued close with Republican managers claiming the defeat of Governor Smith.

Pennsylvania returns at that hour showed Harding leading Cox three to one and Senator Penrose elected.
Massachusetts was promising Harding the greatest plurality ever given a presidential candidate in that state.
Boston had gone for a Republican for the second time in its history and had given Harding a greater lead over Cox than it gave McKinley over Bryan in 1896.

Returns from half of Vermont gave Harding a three to one lead over Cox.
Hughes beat Wilson two to one there in 1916.

The Value of Trap Nests

Out of the many styles of trap nests, the Trigger type, now being used at the Experimental Farm, Nap-pan, has proven to be very satisfactory.

If any of our readers are not familiar with the construction of this nest, we would be very pleased to have them write us for a sketch of its construction.

Wherein lies the value of trap nests? Their value is four fold. First it is a means of securing the individual records. Secondly, it shows up the "boarders." Thirdly, it enables one to keep a pedigreed stock established. Fourthly, they have an economic value.

It is very apparent that by using the trap nest, one gets the individual records of each bird and that, from these, the boarders are easily detected and only the profitable fowls kept.
Furthermore, the outstanding birds can be selected and their progeny used. In this way, we can raise the standard of production, very materially.

It may not seem so apparent that the trap nest has an economic value, for at a first glance it would appear that more labour and expense had been added to the poultry work. A few figures taken from data compiled at the Experimental Farm, Nappan, N. B. during the past ten months, obtained by the trap nesting of one pen of 53 Barred Rocks, also a pen of 53 White Leghorns, will answer this.

Out of the 53 Rocks, 22.6 per cent laid less than 100 eggs in the ten months, their average being 7.74 dozen, which, at the average market value of 50 cents per dozen, would realize $3.87. It cost $2.81 for feed alone, thus leaving a balance of 76 cents. The remaining 77.4 per cent of the birds produced an average of 10.65 doz. per bird, realizing at 50 cents per dozen $5.48 at the cost of $2.81 for feed, thus leaving a balance of $2.67 per bird. Therefore a hundred birds like the former would only give a profit of $78.00 over the cost of feed, while 100 like the latter would give a profit of $267.00.

Out of the 53 White Leghorns 37.7 per cent laid less than 100 eggs in the ten months, their average being 6.3 dozen per bird. These valued at 50 cents per dozen, give $3.15, and deduct cost of feed $2.81 leaves a balance of 34 cents per bird. The 62.3 per cent over the 100 egg mark laid an average of 10.9 doz. per bird at 50 cents realized $5.45 less $2.81 for feed, leaving balance of $2.64 per bird.

Now it cost practically as much to keep the poor hen as it did the good one, and from the foregoing, figures one can readily see the value of trap nests as a means of increasing the profits of our poultry plants and that one will be well paid for the extra labour and expense.

Child Met Instant Death

Little Harry Ball, aged five years was instantly killed in Lutz Street this morning about 10.40 o'clock when he came in contact with a live wire which had been blown down by the heavy rain.

It is said the little lad in company with two others, namely Eddie Kaye and Charles Doherty, were playing in a house near the residence of Mr. L.
J. Coughlan's, 392 Lutz street, when the three observed the wire fall and while it was burning and emitting sparks, the two little lads state the Ball boy picked the wire up from the ground. He was instantly electrocuted as the wire carried eleven hundred volts.

Only 200 People Left to Spend Winter in Nome

Seattle, Nov. 2—Nome, Alaska, which during the gold rush of 1900 had a population estimated at 15,000, was left with but 200 inhabitants when the steamer Victoria, the last boat of the season, sailed from there, according to passengers who were here today.

The Victoria brought 523 passengers from Alaska, 350 of whom were from Nome. Many of these declared they would not return.
