

JANUARY OFFERINGS of Wanted WHITE GOODS at Sharply Cut Prices.

PLAIN
WHITE LAWNS.
WHITE
CHECK LAWNS.

A special purchase now offered at a big discount under present regular prices.

A Wonderful Chance to Save on EMBROIDERIES.

All widths and splendid variety of patterns.
This Department has always been noted for its genuine values. Our present display will prove no exception.

A Lot of
WHITE TURKISH
TOWELS.
Specially priced for quick clearance.

The importance of these really remarkable price reductions is best learned by a personal inspection of the goods. Every item listed in this advertisement, and many more, will be offered at such attractive prices that the shrewd shopper will recognize that now is the time to buy.

Intending Purchasers

Will do well to avail of the present offerings, all foreign advices point to higher prices.

Marshall Bros

Where your Dollars go Farthest.

A JOB LOT
OF
WHITE NAINSOOKS,
in 10 yard lengths, 13c. yard.
Regular 16c.

EVER SERVICEABLE
WHITE TWILL SHEETINGS.

Reduced to 50c., 55c., 60c. up. Former prices, 65c., 70c., 75c. These goods were purchased before the advance in cotton. You get the benefit of our purchase.

A Clearing Lot of
WHITE
TABLE DAMASK.
Reg. prices 50, 55, 70, 75c.
Now 45, 50, 60, 65c.

Where your Dollars go Farthest.

An Unfair Game.

By RUTH CAMERON.

If anyone asked you to play a game with him, and to stake in it twice as much as he staked, you would say that the party who asked you to do such a thing was mean and unfair,
wouldn't you?

Well, isn't that just what the married man who persuades a young girl to go about with him and accept his attentions is doing?

One of my most precious possessions is a little slip of paper on which are typewritten the words:

"It may afford you some satisfaction to know that your few lines of advice have deeply impressed a thoughtless, impulsive girl of twenty-two, who only this morning about decided to accept and encourage the attentions of a married man of about forty years who has been flattering and making love to her for the past two years."

That was sent me some years ago and in the intervening years, again and again, I have come into touch with these sordid, pathetic little tragiromances.

When The Thorns Begin To Hurt
Their Feet.

I see them in the business world, I hear of them in my home community, people write me of girls whom they know who are treading the path where primroses soon give way to thorns, and sometimes the poor girls themselves write to ask advice when they begin to hurt their feet on the thorns.

The thing that gets under my skin

In all these affairs is the unfairness of them. They play the game together, he and she, but his stake is always so much less than hers.

She is staking her reputation, her hope of a happy home of her own with a good man who is in a position to take her honorably as his wife, her friends, and if she is a business girl, her position.

His stake is the anger of his wife if she finds out, which she probably will. In some cases it might mean divorce, but a little repentance, a repudiation of the girl and a few assurances that it was all her fault (which he will doubtless be willing to give), will usually save a hurt like this, and anyhow divorce doesn't mean to a man what it does to a woman.

I Wish I Could Wake The Girls Up—I wish I could stop every girl who is drifting into a relationship like this that is almost always to drift down the apparently gentle stream of similar fates, loneliness, sympathy, platonic friendship, harmless little attentions on the man's part and gratitude on the girl's, and never realize that underneath that placid surface is the strong current of sex attraction and make her look all the facts in the face.

I wish she'd let herself see that he is merely permitting her to put up more than her share in the stake; that only a selfish man would risk her happiness and the happiness of his wife and children as he is doing; that whatever happiness there is in it for her can only be reached by the road that leads over another woman's bleeding heart; and that the possibilities of unhappiness and disgrace are large.

From Primroses To Thorns—A True Story.

And now, dear foolish girls, let me tell you a true story. There was once a girl whom I knew who drifted

APPLES!

In stock for immediate delivery 280 barrels choice N. S.
APPLES, including

Wagners, Baldwins, Starks,
Manns,
Kings.

Soper & Moore

into this sort of a relationship. At first it was only a platonic friendship (like yours), but by and by it was more. She gave up everything for him, her friends, her reputation, her own family. By and by her health broke down and she had to go away.
By this time he was tired of her and made it perfectly plain. One day she wrote him to ask if he would let her have his old fur coat to protect her from the bitter cold of the climate where she was fighting for health. He refused.

It's not a pretty tale, but it ought to wake up some poor girl who is dreaming foolish dreams. If it does I know that other poor girl (she's dead now) will not be sorry I wrote her story.

What Are You
Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."

"That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylex at your druggists."

Zylex, 50c. a box; Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake. Zylex, London. eod,tf

Fads and Fashions.

The skirts of some of the prettiest evening dresses are the simplest of pointed overskirts falling over ruf-les of tulle.

A very smart skating costume is of velvet, the coat of black, and the skirt of rather wide black and white stripes.

You may wear the low shoe all the year round, and be fashionable, but when you go out into the street you must wear gaiters.

Do not cut the skirt of your new frocks short without allowing something for lengthening. There is a rumor that the very short skirts are out.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIS-EASES.

Sunday Services

CHURCH OF ENGLAND.
Cathedral of St. John the Baptist—Sunday—Holy Communion at 8 a. m.; also on the first Sunday of the month at 7 and 12.15. Other services at 11 a.m. and 6.30 p.m. Thursdays —Holy Communion, 7.15 a.m. Other Days—Matins 8 a.m.; Evensong 5.30 p.m. Fridays—7.30, with sermon.

Public Catechizing—Every Sunday in the month at 3.30 p.m.
St. Michael's Mission Church, Casey Street—Holy Communion at 8 and 11 on the 3rd Sunday of the month, and 8 on other Sundays. Other services, 11 a.m. and 6.30 p.m.

Sunday Schools—Cathedral, at 8.45 p.m. Mission Church at 2.45 p.m.
Cathedral Men's Bible Class, in the Synod Building every Sunday at 2 p. m. All men invited to attend.

PARISH OF ST. MARY THE VIRGIN, ST. JOHN'S WEST.
Hours of Service in the Parish Church Sundays—Holy Communion every Sunday at 8 a.m.; also on the first and third Sundays in each month at noon.

Wednesdays—Holy Communion and Intercessions on behalf of the War, at 10.30 a.m.

Fridays—Evensong and Intercessions on behalf of the War at 7.30 p.m.
Holy Baptism—Every Sunday at 3.30 p.m.

Public Catechizing—The third Sunday in each month at 3 p.m.
Churching of Women—Before any Service.

Sunday School—At 2.30 p.m., in the Parish Hall.

Young Women's Bible Class—Every Sunday at 2.45 p.m., in the Parish Room.

BROOKFIELD SCHOOL CHAPEL.
Evensong—Every Sunday at 3 p.m.
Sunday School—Every Sunday at 4 p.m.

ST. MATTHEW'S CHURCH, THE GOLDS.
Evensong—Every Sunday at 3 p.m.
ASTLUM FOR THE POOR.
Holy Communion—The first Sunday in each month at 9 a.m.

Matins—Every Sunday at 9 a.m.
ST. THOMAS'S.
Holy Communion on the third Sunday in each month at noon; every other Sunday at 8 a.m.; Holy Communion on Saints' Days at 7.30 a.m.

To-morrow, Jan. 23.—Holy Communion 8 a.m.; Morning Prayer and Sermon, 11; Preacher, Rev. W. E.
Cracknell; Children's Service, 3.45 p.m.; Evensong and Sermon, 6.30; Preacher, The Rector; Subject:
"Work—The Qualities of a Good Workman."

Christ Church (Quid Vidi)—1st Sunday in month, Matins at 11 a.m.; 2nd Sunday in month, Holy Communion 8 a.m.; 3rd Sunday in month, Evensong at 6.30 p.m.; 4th Sunday in month, Matins at 11 a.m. Evensong at 3.30 p.m. on the 1st, 2nd and 4th Sundays in the month.

Sunday Schools.—At Parish Church at 2.45 p.m.; at Christ Church, Quid Vidi at 2.30 p.m.; at Virginia School Chapel, 2.30 p.m.

Virginia School Chapel.—Evensong
Prayer every Sunday at 3.30 p.m.; Public Catechizing third Sunday in each month.

METHODIST.
Gower St.—11 and 6.30, Rev. D. B.
Hemmett.

George St.—11 and 6.30, Rev. N. M.
Guy.

Cochrane St.—11 and 6.30, Rev. C.
A. Whittemarsh.

Wesley—11 and 6.30, Rev. H. Royce.
Presbyterian—11 and 6.30, Rev. J.
S. Sutherland.

Congregational—11 and 6.30, Rev.
W. H. Thomas.

Theatre parties, if arranged for, will be served at close of performance at WOOD'S Central or West End Restaurants during Klark-Urban Co's. season—Jan. 12, 13.

Do not cut the skirt of your new
frocks short without allowing something for lengthening. There is a rumor that the very short skirts are
out.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIS-EASES.

Methodist Church Notes

At Wesley Church on Sunday morning, the Pastor will have a special message for Sunday School workers and scholars, and in the evening will address parents. The public are cordially invited.

George Street. The Pastor will occupy the pulpit morning and evening. At the morning service an address will be given to the scholars of our Sunday School. It is hoped that every scholar will be present. In the evening, the subject of discourse will be—"The Glory of a Young Man."

SERVICE OF PRAYER AND PRAISE.—In the S.S. Room of Gower St. Methodist Church, at 8 o'clock on Sunday evening, a Service of Prayer and Praise will be conducted by laymen. All are welcome.

There will be a special service at George St. Church on Monday morning, the national thanksgiving day, at 11 o'clock. The city congregations are asked to unite. The public are invited to attend. Speakers: Rev. Dr.
Curtis and Mr. R. P. Horwood.
An offering will be taken up for the W.P.A.

The collie is a tall, Gothic dog with long, fine hair and a lean, pointed nose which was designed to enable him to drink water out of a crafshill hole in case of necessity.

The collie has bright, beautiful eyes, full of intelligence, sharp, expressive ears and a mouth which extends back into his face about a foot, and is decorated on the edges with quantities of teeth. When the collie opens his face slightly, allows his plentiful tongue to hang negligently over his lower jaw and thumps the floor with his moirai tail, he is as eloquent in his discourse as many a man who can recite the Unabridged Dictionary, page for page.

The collie was invented in Scotland and is one of that country's most valuable assets. Thanks to the collie the Highland shepherds have had time to learn to play the bagpipes. The collie has a natural talent for herding sheep and if he were a human being,
would undoubtedly be a political leader in Pennsylvania or Rhode Island.

As it is, he does the shepherd's work for him in a capable manner, counting the sheep, reproving them,
rounding them up, instructing them, caring for the sick and steering the shepherd home when he has blown himself dizzy on his bagpipes. The Scottish shepherd makes no claim for wisdom himself, but will steadily fight anyone who accuses his dog of being
no wiser than he is.

In America the collie is a household decoration. There are two kinds of domestic collies, the trained and the untrained. If the collie pup is well trained five or nine times a day with a durable club, he soon aban-dons his baby tricks and becomes a friend to man. The untrained collie, however, is a bigger nuisance around
the house than a college freshman, and there are striking points of resemblance between the two.

The collie is one of our most talented fighters, but his system is much different from that of the bulldog's.
Unlike the latter he is not content with one mouthful of his foe, but keeps sampling him in different quarters until he soon exhausts the supply. The bulldog, owing to his tenacious nature, can only fight one foe at a time, but the collie is more Rooseveltian in his nature and can frequently dispose of a whole pack of enemies by giving them one well-
directed bite apiece.

The Collie.

By GEORGE FITCH.

The collie is a tall, Gothic dog with
long, fine hair and a lean, pointed
nose which was designed to enable
him to drink water out of a crafshill
hole in case of necessity.

The collie has bright, beautiful eyes,
full of intelligence, sharp, expressive
ears and a mouth which extends back
into his face about a foot, and is decorated on the edges with quantities
of teeth. When the collie opens his
face slightly, allows his plentiful tongue to hang negligently over his lower jaw and thumps the floor with his
moirai tail, he is as eloquent in his
discourse as many a man who can re-
cite the Unabridged Dictionary, page
for page.

The collie was invented in Scotland
and is one of that country's most
valuable assets. Thanks to the collie
the Highland shepherds have had
time to learn to play the bagpipes. The
collie has a natural talent for herding
sheep and if he were a human being,
would undoubtedly be a political
leader in Pennsylvania or Rhode Island.

As it is, he does the shepherd's
work for him in a capable manner,
counting the sheep, reproving them,
rounding them up, instructing them,
caring for the sick and steering the
shepherd home when he has blown
himself dizzy on his bagpipes. The Scottish shepherd makes no claim for
wisdom himself, but will steadily fight
anyone who accuses his dog of being
no wiser than he is.

In America the collie is a house-
hold decoration. There are two kinds
of domestic collies, the trained and
the untrained. If the collie pup is
well trained five or nine times a day
with a durable club, he soon aban-
dons his baby tricks and becomes a
friend to man. The untrained collie,
however, is a bigger nuisance around
the house than a college freshman,
and there are striking points of re-
semblance between the two.

The collie is one of our most talented fighters, but his system is much
different from that of the bulldog's.
Unlike the latter he is not content
with one mouthful of his foe, but
keeps sampling him in different
quarters until he soon exhausts the
supply. The bulldog, owing to his
tenacious nature, can only fight one
foe at a time, but the collie is more Rooseveltian in his nature and can
frequently dispose of a whole pack of
enemies by giving them one well-
directed bite apiece.

The collie was invented in Scotland
and is one of that country's most
valuable assets. Thanks to the collie
the Highland shepherds have had
time to learn to play the bagpipes. The
collie has a natural talent for herding
sheep and if he were a human being,
would undoubtedly be a political
leader in Pennsylvania or Rhode Island.

As it is, he does the shepherd's
work for him in a capable manner,
counting the sheep, reproving them,
rounding them up, instructing them,
caring for the sick and steering the
shepherd home when he has blown
himself dizzy on his bagpipes. The Scottish shepherd makes no claim for
wisdom himself, but will steadily fight
anyone who accuses his dog of being
no wiser than he is.

In America the collie is a house-
hold decoration. There are two kinds
of domestic collies, the trained and
the untrained. If the collie pup is
well trained five or nine times a day
with a durable club, he soon aban-
dons his baby tricks and becomes a
friend to man. The untrained collie,
however, is a bigger nuisance around
the house than a college freshman,
and there are striking points of re-
semblance between the two.

The collie is one of our most talented fighters, but his system is much
different from that of the bulldog's.
Unlike the latter he is not content
with one mouthful of his foe, but
keeps sampling him in different
quarters until he soon exhausts the
supply. The bulldog, owing to his
tenacious nature, can only fight one
foe at a time, but the collie is more Rooseveltian in his nature and can
frequently dispose of a whole pack of
enemies by giving them one well-
directed bite apiece.

The collie was invented in Scotland
and is one of that country's most
valuable assets. Thanks to the collie
the Highland shepherds have had
time to learn to play the bagpipes. The
collie has a natural talent for herding
sheep and if he were a human being,
would undoubtedly be a political
leader in Pennsylvania or Rhode Island.

As it is, he does the shepherd's
work for him in a capable manner,
counting the sheep, reproving them,
rounding them up, instructing them,
caring for the sick and steering the
shepherd home when he has blown
himself dizzy on his bagpipes. The Scottish shepherd makes no claim for
wisdom himself, but will steadily fight
anyone who accuses his dog of being
no wiser than he is.

In America the collie is a house-
hold decoration. There are two kinds
of domestic collies, the trained and
the untrained. If the collie pup is
well trained five or nine times a day
with a durable club, he soon aban-
dons his baby tricks and becomes a
friend to man. The untrained collie,
however, is a bigger nuisance around
the house than a college freshman,
and there are striking points of re-
semblance between the two.

The collie is one of our most talented fighters, but his system is much
different from that of the bulldog's.
Unlike the latter he is not content
with one mouthful of his foe, but
keeps sampling him in different
quarters until he soon exhausts the
supply. The bulldog, owing to his
tenacious nature, can only fight one
foe at a time, but the collie is more Rooseveltian in his nature and can
frequently dispose of a whole pack of
enemies by giving them one well-
directed bite apiece.

The collie was invented in Scotland
and is one of that country's most
valuable assets. Thanks to the collie
the Highland shepherds have had
time to learn to play the bagpipes. The
collie has a natural talent for herding
sheep and if he were a human being,
would undoubtedly be a political
leader in Pennsylvania or Rhode Island.

As it is, he does the shepherd's
work for him in a capable manner,
counting the sheep, reproving them,
rounding them up, instructing them,
caring for the sick and steering the
shepherd home when he has blown
himself dizzy on his bagpipes. The Scottish shepherd makes no claim for
wisdom himself, but will steadily fight
anyone who accuses his dog of being
no wiser than he is.

In America the collie is a house-
hold decoration. There are two kinds
of domestic collies, the trained and
the untrained. If the collie pup is
well trained five or nine times a day
with a durable club, he soon aban-
dons his baby tricks and becomes a
friend to man. The untrained collie,
however, is a bigger nuisance around
the house than a college freshman,
and there are striking points of re-
semblance between the two.

The collie is one of our most talented fighters, but his system is much
different from that of the bulldog's.
Unlike the latter he is not content
with one mouthful of his foe, but
keeps sampling him in different
quarters until he soon exhausts the
supply. The bulldog, owing to his
tenacious nature, can only fight one
foe at a time, but the collie is more Rooseveltian in his nature and can
frequently dispose of a whole pack of
enemies by giving them one well-
directed bite apiece.

The collie was invented in Scotland
and is one of that country's most
valuable assets. Thanks to the collie
the Highland shepherds have had
time to learn to play the bagpipes. The
collie has a natural talent for herding
sheep and if he were a human being,
would undoubtedly be a political
leader in Pennsylvania or Rhode Island.

As it is, he does the shepherd's
work for him in a capable manner,
counting the sheep, reproving them,
rounding them up, instructing them,
caring for the sick and steering the
shepherd home when he has blown
himself dizzy on his bagpipes. The Scottish shepherd makes no claim for
wisdom himself, but will steadily fight
anyone who accuses his dog of being
no wiser than he is.

In America the collie is a house-
hold decoration. There are two kinds
of domestic collies, the trained and
the untrained. If the collie pup is
well trained five or nine times a day
with a durable club, he soon aban-
dons his baby tricks and becomes a
friend to man. The untrained collie,
however, is a bigger nuisance around
the house than a college freshman,
and there are striking points of re-
semblance between the two.

The collie is one of our most talented fighters, but his system is much
different from that of the bulldog's.
Unlike the latter he is not content
with one mouthful of his foe, but
keeps sampling him in different
quarters until he soon exhausts the
supply. The bulldog, owing to his
tenacious nature, can only fight one
foe at a time, but the collie is more Rooseveltian in his nature and can
frequently dispose of a whole pack of
enemies by giving them one well-
directed bite apiece.

LIGHT, HEAT, COMFORT!

The proprietor of one of the best known multiple shopping systems is credited with saying, "Give me any old shop, in any old street, and I'll guarantee to make it in twelve months the most widely known and best frequented shop in the district." He was asked to explain. Holding up three fingers he said, "I believe in the trinity of LIGHT, WARMTH, COMFORT. I should dazzle the moths until the candle drew them. I should bring them into a warm, comfortable shop, filled with a soft, pleasing radiance, and the rest is—well, mere child's play."

Mixed metaphors, perhaps, but expressive. Now we can more than imagine the kind of shop this well-known individual would open, for we pass it in almost every town—always a landmark to the street. No one fails to notice it. There is an indefinable air of welcome and invitation as one stands for a moment on the pathway and lets one's gaze travel inside it. The subdued, restful lighting effect, that so charms because of its very un-obtrusiveness, the absence of dark corners, the intangible feeling that if one would step inside one would be sure of experiencing a delicious sense of warmth and comfort and cheerfulness—all these are part of its appeal. Truly a shop with an individuality.

We cordially invite all progressive business men to visit our showroom and see our latest Lighting and Heating Appliances, by the adoption of which the ideal outline in the above extract from a London paper may be easily secured. Our new RADIO X Lamp and GASTHEAT Radiators fill all light and heat requirements.

ST. JOHN'S GAS LIGHT COMPANY.

dec,tf

Modern Office Equipment.

Once the New Year opens up business comes on with a rush and is greatly facilitated by having everything in the office perfectly appointed and easily get-at-able, while the personal comfort of prospective clients frequently goes a long way towards a successful business deal.

We can show you anything you need, from a handsome massive Oak Desk to a Waste-paper Basket. Revolving Chairs, Solid Oak and Leather Chairs, Stenographers' Tables, Cabinets, Book-Stands, Hat Stands, Rugs and Linoleums of the most up-to-date design are always in stock, as we make a specialty of Complete Office Equipment.

We are prepared to take any orders, large or small, for complete office furnishing, either singly or en suite, and guarantee perfect satisfaction.
Estimates given.

U. S. Picture and Portrait Co.

Pictorial Review Patterns

FOR FEBRUARY NOW ON SALE—$60 IN STOCK—NO DELAY.
Outprints, 17 cents in cash or in one or two cent postage stamps must accompany order. If pattern is only 10 cents, difference will be refunded.

CHARLES HUTTON, Sole Agent.

WHAT IS ZOE-TIC?

Zoe-tic is a new and improved combination of glycer-phosphate and cod liver oil, containing no greases and the best of the able tonic wine. Your own will tell you that glycer-phosphate is the actual element of human body in the most essential form, and the value of Cod Liver in rebuilding tissue, and tonic rebuilding nerve force are well known to need discussion. Zoe-tic is a delightful taste.
Everywhere in Canada at the price. One Dollar for a Bottle.
Bottle. Compounded from the tonic essences by The Zoe-tic Company, Montreal.
Sold by T. McMurdo & Co., Sole Distributing Agents for Newfoundland.

"The Little Lost Sister"

AT THE CASINO.

Another great success was by the Klark Urban Company production of "The Little Lost Sister," which was presented to audience at the Casino Theatre last night.

The play deals with a story full of human interest, the story of an innocent young girl who is lured from her humble cottage in a village to the big city of Chicago, according to "an attractive young man" who makes the proposal she will become a lady and "see Reluctant to