BOWLING SEASON OPENS TO-NIGHT.

The opening games of the Commercial Bowling League takes place in the Seamen's Institute to-night, and from now until the end of the year, the Alley will be the chief centre of attraction. Since the formation of the League great interest has been taken by the players and spectators alike, and with the experience gained during the past few years, the forthcoming games promise to be hard fought and keenly contested. Great rivalry prevails amongst the various firms, and the series is looked upon to be very successful. Two games will be played each night during the week, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday. The participating teams for to-night will be as follows:—
7.30—Wall Company vs. Hickman's.
8.00—Winter's vs. Job Brothers.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL LEAGUE WINDS UP SEASON'S BUSINESS.

On Saturday night last, the Junior Football League met and finalized their season's business. The reports showed that the season was a very successful one as far as the playing of the game was concerned, but there was a noticeable falling off in the gate receipts over the previous year. The matter of providing medals for the champions was discussed and in view of the League's financial standing after the year, it was thought this would be difficult. However, the Executive will endeavor to secure quotations on medals, which will be submitted at a later meeting. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the Senior League officials, and all those who acted as referees, or in any way helped the Junior League during the past season.

INTER COLLEGE FOOTBALL.

College Games Commence On Monday Next.

For some weeks past the various Colleges have been engaged in stiff football practice for the approaching inter collegiate games. A meeting of representatives of the three colleges met on Saturday last and made all arrangements, drawing of fixtures, etc. It was decided to play on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, with the opening game on Monday next, Oct. 13th.

The first round was drawn as follows:—

Monday, Oct. 13.—St. Bon's vs. Fiddians.

Wednesday, Oct. 15.—Collegians vs. St. Bon's.

Saturday, Oct. 18.—Fiddians vs. Collegians.

N.A.A. MEETING.

Local Runners Will Be Sent To Halifax—Mr. J. Bell, The Manager.

A special meeting of the Newfoundland Amateur Athletic Association was held on Saturday night, last, in the office of Messrs. Higgins, Hunt & Emerson. The President, Hon. W. J. Higgins, presided, with a large number of members in attendance. The meeting was held for the purpose of deciding whether Newfoundland would send representatives to compete in the Halifax Herald and Evening Mail Road Race this fall. After the opinions of those present had been expressed on the matter, it was the un-

SHOOTING.

Smith was unusually loquacious. "Until," he said, "you have had a day's shooting, you will never have tasted the joys of life to the full."

"Indeed," I said.

He continued, "Yes, my boy, shooting is the only sport worth while. To tramp the barrens on a fine October day, to watch a good dog picking up the scent, and to crown it all, a fine bag of birds. It's the only life, old man, the only life."

I listened intently. It is not often Smith gets wound up like that. When he does, he's worth listening to.

"Sounds good," I said. "I should like to try it. What about Wednesday? I shall be at a loose end."

"Right," he said. "Wednesday will suit me. Can you get a gun?"

"Oh yes," I replied. "I shall manage to find one and I'll leave the dog to you."

So it was settled. Wednesday came and we were up at daylight, and within a couple of hours we had reached the Witless Bay line, left the car and were out on the barrens.

Smith was the sort of sportsman you read about but seldom see. His breeches were new, and looked as if they had been blown up with a motor pump, he had on a wonderful sports coat of weird hues, a cap with dangling checks, and carried a gun that looked as if it had just come out of a shop.

On his back were haversacks galore, he wore a cartridge belt that a Mexican bandit would have shot his grandmother for, and his equipment was completed with a great water bottle and a sheath knife.

For the first time my suspicious animous wish of the meeting that both Ron O'Toole and Wm. Linegar be sent in view of their past performances, it was felt that they would be able to hold their own against the "Canucks" and with bright possibilities of sharing in the honors of the day. With the race only three weeks away, it was decided to send the local athletes by the Rosalind on Saturday next. This will give the runners sufficient time in Halifax to become acclimatized and get a sufficient amount of training and make themselves familiar with the 10 mile course.

The selection of Mr. Jack Bell as Manager and Trainer, is a man well fitted for the job. Mr. Bell has a wide experience in the long distance running game, and we wish him every success with his charges.

A sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. J. M. Tobin, J. P. Crotty and H. J. Wyatt, will look after the transportation arrangements.

Before the runners leave here they will get in as much practice as possible.

After a few minor matters were disposed of, the meeting adjourned.

WORLD'S BASEBALL RESULTS.

New York Giants Win Opening Game—Johnson Weakens In 10th.

GRIFFITH STADIUM, Oct. 4.—The New York Giants defeated Washington Senators and Walter Johnson today in a twelve innings battle that opened the 1924 world series. The Giants won, 4 to 3, in a desperately fought contest, but only after the Senators had tied the score in the ninth and staged a spectacular rally in the final inning. The Giants clinched the game in the 12th when Johnson weakened and two runs were scored on three hits, two bases on balls and a sacrifice fly, but the Senators came back in their last turn at the bat, scoring one run on an error and successive hits by Harris and Rice, who, however, was thrown out trying to stretch his hit into a double, and with Harris on third Goslin ended the game by being thrown out at first.

SECOND GAME.

Washington Defeats Giants In A Flashing Finish By Old Run.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Batting with the indomitable courage that carried them to their first American League pennant, Washington Senators to-day turned the tables on the New York Giants, and won the second game of the 1924 world series and put themselves back in the thick of one of the most stirring struggles ever staged for baseball's greatest honors. In a flashing finish that was equally as spectacular as the climax to yesterday's opening tussle, and twice as thrilling, to another capacity home crowd of 25,000, Roger Peckinham, veteran Washington shortstop, lifted himself to heroic heights by driving across the winning run in the ninth inning after the Giants had knocked Zachary, southpaw star, from the mound and tied the score with 2 tallies in their part of the final inning. The final score was 4 to 3, the same margin by which the first game was decided, and to-night two of the mightiest clubs that ever met for the championship shifted their battleground to New York, where the third game will be played to-morrow.

Smith for a drink from his flask.

He passed it to me. It felt pretty light, and there was a reason for it. The silly ass had forgotten to fill it.

I said nothing. It wasn't any use.

The day passed, and I had fair luck, bringing down about ten birds.

As for Smith, he complained that his new fangled gun had damaged his shoulder so much that he could not use it. He told me patronizingly, that I had done very well for a novice but I had missed several that an old hand like himself could not have failed to bring down.

This was too much.

"Look here," I said. "Have you ever handled a gun before?" I read the answer in his eyes before he could manufacture a good lie.

Then I opened out on him, and before I was through, he was squirming like a worm.

I concluded, "And now, my good man, don't take to much for granted in future. I've shot over these barrens while you were cutting your eye teeth and I've handled a gun before you knew what the word meant."

Smith said not a word. We drove home in silence. He did not even say goodbye when I left him, and now when he sees me on the street, he goes out of his way to avoid me.

Do you wonder?
