Walked a Mile with a Bullet in His Breast.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 31.—James F. Woodward died in this city under peculiar circumstances. On Thursday night Woodward, who is a well-known business man, was walking in Marietta street, when some-body stepped in front of him and asked if he was Jim Woodward. He answered in the affirmative and the man pushed a pistol to Woodward's breast and fired. Woodward walked to his sister's house, a mile or more away, and told her what had happened. He treated the matter lightly and it was thought he would get well, but a relapse to-day brought death. The police have kept the shooting as quiet as possible, hoping to catch the murderer.
