-The first arrest in the Danish colony at Pottersburg was made yesterday by Detective Graham. Christian Madsan is the name of the prisoner, and it appears that he recently borrowed $100 from Mr. Ginge, the manager of the pork factory, and invested in a horse and cow. The animals were to be the property of Mr. Ginge until paid for, Madsan mean while being allowed the use of them. Madsan sold the horse, and it is claimed that he had not paid sufficient of his loan to warrant him in disposing of the horse, and Mr. Ginge ordered that the cow should be brought back. This was done, but late on Thursday night the cow disappeared and Madsan is charged with the theft.
