Survey Proves That Best Hosiery In Canada Is Carried In London

WESTERN ONTARIO

protection. First, the reliability and standing of your local merchant, and second, the satisfaction of buying nationally advertised goods. Then, too, your money paid to your local merchant is put in circulation again in your own community. Much "peddled" hosiery is not made in Canada. Most of the hosiery sold in the stores is made in Canadian factories, where pride of workmanship and quality of material compete successfully the world over.

We can sell you hosiery of a better quality at less money, despite the fact that the peddler will tell you that he can sell his goods at a much lower price because he sells direct from the factory. He neglects to tell you, however, he receives a large commission on every sale; that his branch and district managers also receive a commission, and so on down the line. You know Hosiery and you know us. Do you know the transient peddler and his goods?

Whirling Objects Seem Still When Seen Through Machine

New Form of Stroboscope, Invented in France, Permits Examination of Revolving Objects—Is Expected To Prove Great Aid to Many Industries.

Associated Press Despatch.

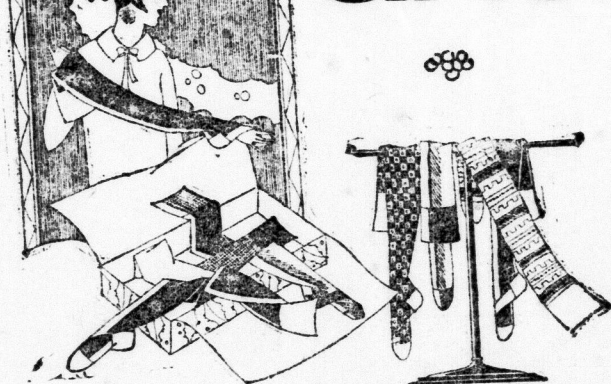

Paris, Nov. 25.—A new form of stroboscope, the instrument used for studying revolving objects, has been demonstrated to the academy of sciences by George Claude, who apologized to the learned assembly for placing a "fool protector" about the exhibit.

Instead of the old mechanical apparatus for interrupting the vision, the new instrument, the invention of the two brothers Seguin, projects powerful lightning-like flashes from a tube of ion gas. These flashes, when directed on anything which is rotating rapidly, even in full daylight, make the rotating article appear to be completely still, or if it is so desired, to be turning very slowly. It was this apparent immobility of a rapidly turning object that made Professor Claude decide to prevent his colleagues from approaching the machinery too closely.

Apparently there is no reason to suppose that the new stroboscopes will be advertised in the near future as a necessity for every home, but the industrial world will find them of importance in permitting the examination of rapidly moving bodies while in full action. For example, an airplane propeller making 1,200 revolutions to the minute was shown. It appeared to be absolutely motionless. It had a bit of string to one end of the propeller blade. This also appeared motionless in place, but it assumed a graceful curve under the air pressure. Spindles when turning and rapidly running motors and turbines are other examples of things that can be examined under the stroboscope while at work.

WILL HONOR GRADUATES.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, Nov. 25.—The faculty of graduate studies of McGill University is making arrangements to offer higher degrees to the members of the civil service department at Ottawa who are graduates of universities. Dr. R. F. Ruttan, dean of the faculty, announces that tentative plans are being prepared and will be submitted in the course of a week or ten days to a meeting of the board of faculty of graduate studies.
