

Page 60—William Gustavus Chadwick is a cadet in the 9th Mississauga Horse.

Stewart Herbert Pepler is a Lieutenant in 124th Overseas Batt.

Page 60—The Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick has a daughter, Elizabeth Agnes, b. 17th August, 1915.

Page 63—Lieutenant.-Col. William Craven Vaux Chadwick, after raising the 4th Mounted Rifles, was transferred to a staff appointment at Valcartier, where he trained three newly raised regiments for Overseas Service, after which he was offered the choice of either one of two Staff positions in Canada or the Command of a regiment for Overseas Service and choosing the latter, he was commissioned to raise the 124th Batt. C.E.F., which he accomplished with such success that within a fortnight from the day he was authorized to call for recruits, the Regiment was fully completed to strength in excess of establishment, with full complement of officers and staff, and bands.

Page 65—William Joseph Davis was the son of Thomas Handforth Davis (of a family of Devizes, Wiltshire) and Anne Pearce, his wife.

Sidney Davis is the daughter of John Ivester Potter, of Berwyn near Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, (where that family had been resident for over two hundred years) and his wife, Rebecca Wilkinson, of a family resident originally in Virginia but since the 17th century in or near Philadelphia.

Richard E. C. Chadwick has a son, Richard Vaux, b. 20th May, 1916.

Page 65—Bryan D. S. Chadwick, although unable to serve in a more active capacity, obtained an appointment for clerical work in Brigade Staff, entering the 9th Mississauga Horse in which he was given the rank of Sergeant. Perhaps the only man who has entered the King's Military Service wearing an artificial leg.
