the ink from under the scum is seen as it comes up to supply the pen, which being lifted retains the ink, and as the funnel springs up it withdraws the ink from exposure. The transparent funnel is placed centrally in a white stopper, the ink by color contrast is plainly shown, the dipping is in perfect control, the pen perfectly supplied with ink, and cleanliness assured. For further perfection my inkstand is entirely plain and smooth outside; thereby dust is easily wiped off and out of the dip-funnel; for keeping it clean it is also desirable, that it gives the least trouble." Mr. Hartmann is desirous of finding a general agent for Canada.

THE PRESS.

THE PRINTER, LITHOGRAPHER, AND NEWS-PAPER PUBLISHER.

American poster printing was a revelation to the English printer wher, first the travelling showman brought it over there and displayed it on the "boardings." It was really art work as compared with the home article. Now the English public complain that the American show poster is too much of a revelation altogether. They don't want quite so much of "the human form divine" revealed to the public gaze, and they don't want so many and such vivid blood curdling scenes to touse the imitative cockney. Punch makes fun over them in this way : -

WALL-PAPER MONEY.

Not a bad idea, that of taxing certain kinds of mural posters, which was lately started in the House of Commons. The Chancellor of the Exchequer was advised to turn his attention to pictorial mural atrocities - not being pictures by Murillo- and so find a possible substitute for the Weal and 'Am Tax (since The name "Posters," it was observed, deceased). naturally suggested the idea of a "stamp" being attached to them. George Jokim didn't see the exact force of the suggestion at first; requiring posting up in the details before approving; but admitted there might be something in it.

Here is a sort of Poster (not Postal) Tariff, which ought to find a place in any new edition of the old

For any Pictorial Advertisement of extra large size - a sort of four-poster—exhibited on any wall, boarding, scaffolding, or other public place, £5.

Additional stamp required, if the design and coloring fail to meet with the enthusiastic approbation of the Lord Chamberlain, Prof. Ruskin, and the President of the Royal Academy, £10.

For every advertisement which, after careful examination by a committee, composed of leading "realistic" Novelists and Playwrights, with the assistance of a picked body of nervous invalids, is pronounced to be distinctly blood-curdling," £,20.

N.B.-Solitary confinement in a cell, the walls of which are papered with the posters, may, in the discretion of the Magistrate or Judge, be substituted for a pecuniary penalty.
