

What the Press Says

THE BRIGHT MOON.

"The Moon" of last week has some very bright beams. The cartoons by Hunter, Racey and Jeffreys are admirable, while the smaller skits and sketches are bright and clever. "The Moon" is essentially Canadian in spirit and ought to prove a good antidote to the blarney stuff poured into Canada from the United States. "The Moon" is said to have made a very good start already. It certainly merits a generous patronage in Canada.

Brookville Times

THE MAIL AND EMPIRE.

I make my bow to the Moon. I saw her in the full and over my left shoulder. Great, therefore, shall be my luck this month. Frankly, I am delighted that we are going to have a comic paper of our own. Life is such a biting, sneering little rat of a paper at all things concerning our British Empire, our flag, ourselves, that I am glad to see we are starting a "comic" of our own, and as the Moon is so very far above Life, she can see all the joke of it, the folly, the satire, the melodrama of the little snithill called earth. Again, my bow to you, O Moon, also one small subscription, for, in fact, the truth, I am a trifle afraid of you. The paper is a capital one and spares nobody—while it is genial in its satire. All the same, I tell you a snowball from the Moon is calculated to give us a shock now and then. Did you see the Magnates on the first page? If not, why not?

Kit

who mar who the the ene hole a il safe onk who only und atro ble the Sou es u out it. in er wi th va gu by

"The Moon," of Toronto, the comic weekly, has a good issue for last week. The title-page cartoon shows Sir William Mulock behind the hand letters which marked the mail. I got this bunch of letters for myself by the last of the month. There are eighteen or twenty bright sketches and a quantity of tributors. The matter is original and in this way contributed matter, and in original work, which prevents any tony in style.

—The man in The Moon (published weekly in Toronto) evidently knows his business, and The Moon gives out a good many things that are not moonshine.

Godrich, Montreal

The Moon FREE for one year

To anybody sending us FOUR subscriptions accompanied by Eight Dollars.

To anybody sending us Two subscriptions accompanied by Four Dollars we will send a free copy for six months.

To anybody sending us 50c. we will send a free copy for three months.

Sample copies and subscription blanks on application.

Fill in the blank below and enclose your subscription.

N.B.—Money should be sent only by Registered Letter, P. O. Money Order, or Express Money Order.

THE MOON PUBLISHING COMPANY,

48 Adelaide Street East, TORONTO.

Gentlemen,—

Please enter my name as a Subscriber to the MOON, beginning with.....Number.

I enclose.....Dollars, for.....Subscription.

Name.....

Address.....

Date.....

PRICE,—5 Cents per Copy ; Two Dollars per Year ; One Dollar for Six Months.