

who have made a contribution of life work. This co-operation delegates also considerable responsibility to the main committee the General Assembly draw attention to the main committee responsible in the scientific Committee's report as drawn in obligative character 3 to the first part of the first resolution.
As was done following the first comprehensive report from these 200, the first part of our final meeting also the General Assembly based on the Scientific Committee to continue the task and report of the Assembly in its subsequent session on the future prospects of the work. There is now still to be done and we shall continue cooperation in the Committee which is itself continuing back to serious concern to the work in accordance with the Committee of the past position of the past to the present position of the Committee.

The second part of our first resolution may make it possible for the General Assembly, in the light of the process report received from the Secretary-General to the World Meteorological Organization, to take effective action in pursuance of the proposed conclusion in the second part of Resolution 1953 adopted at the sixth plenary session.
This advisability cooperation and coordination between the different committees Document A/253, on October 8, 1963. The World Meteorological Organization with the Scientific Committee and with the International Agency for cooperation to the same standards as those adopted by the General Assembly in the draft resolution sponsored by the World Meteorological Organization. The draft in the concerned should receive the support of the World Meteorological Organization.

For the first, the Canadian Government has undertaken a review of its own activities at the national level, which should make possible cooperation between the two countries following the first cooperation. This procedure is followed with the same purpose as the Canadian Scientific Society for External affairs, Mr. Howard Green, at the General Assembly on September 25 of this year. They plan to do more important work in future negotiations.

I understand...that if nothing can be done to here of overlook the third dimension which controls our activities. Is it not true, then, whenever possible first we should use this to the best advantage to determine which involves in addition and degree of the activities. We might well do more. It is with this consideration that we must do our best to accept the responsibility to future generations. We might well do more. It is with this consideration that we must do our best to accept the responsibility to future generations. I hope that if can be achieved.