

the documents which may be issued by the Agency from time to time setting out the required procedures authorized by the Agency. However, no substitution may be made for any equipment, material, nuclear material or facility which is required to be subject to safeguards pursuant to this paragraph without the prior written consent of the supplying Party. Furthermore, the receiving Party shall inform the Agency and the supplying Party of any thefts or other abnormal losses of any equipment, material, nuclear material, facilities or information referred to in this paragraph.

2. The Parties agree to enter into agreements unilaterally or bilaterally with the International Atomic Energy Agency for the application of safeguards required by this Agreement, and to co-operate fully with the International Atomic Energy Agency and with each other in the application of such safeguards. Furthermore, the Parties agree jointly to request the International Atomic Energy Agency to apply any agreements between the International Atomic Energy Agency and a receiving Party under this Agreement in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

3. In order to facilitate the application of safeguards required by this Agreement, the receiving Party shall notify the International Atomic Energy Agency and the supplying Party of the entry into its jurisdiction of all equipment, material, nuclear material and facilities supplied pursuant to this Agreement. The receiving Party shall also inform the International Atomic Energy Agency and the other Party of any equipment, material, nuclear material or facility which is produced or developed from, by, in or with the use of information supplied or obtained pursuant to this Agreement or which is required to be subject to safeguards under sub-paragraph (iii) of paragraph 1 of this Article.

4. If for any reason, or at any time, the International Atomic Energy Agency is not able to implement all safeguards required by paragraph 1 of this Article in respect of any equipment, material, nuclear material or facility, the Parties agree to establish immediately a safeguards system to provide for these safeguards, and, until such a safeguards system is established, the supplying Party shall have the right to suspend scheduled delivery of any and all equipment, material, nuclear material, facilities and information.

5. If any nuclear material referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article is furthering a non-peaceful purpose as set out in paragraph 1 of this Article, the supplying Party shall have the right to call upon the other Party to take corrective steps, and, until such steps have been taken, shall have the right to suspend scheduled delivery of any and all equipment, material, nuclear material, facilities and information. If such corrective steps are not taken within a reasonable time, the supplying Party shall have the right

- (a) to cancel scheduled delivery of any and all equipment, material, nuclear material, facilities and information,
- (b) to require the cessation of use and the immediate return to the supplying Party of any and all
 - (i) equipment, material, nuclear material, facilities and information supplied or obtained pursuant to this Agreement,
 - (ii) material and nuclear material used, produced, processed, reprocessed, enriched, fabricated or converted from, by, in or with any of the foregoing, and
