

as in the Atlantic. With understanding of each other's problems and by complete and frank exchanges of views and information, this can be done. But let us not deceive ourselves. The problems of Asia will subject our coalition of peace-loving free states to difficult tests in the days ahead. In meeting these tests, Canadian-American co-operation will be important and must be close and strong."

Those words apply today in a very special way.

United States-Canadian co-operation will be important and must be close and strong.
