APPOINTMENTS TO THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT RESEARCH CENTRE (IDRC)

The Secretary of State for External Affairs, Dr. Mark MacGuigan, announced today the appointment of a new Chairman and five other new members to the Board of Governors of the International Development Research Centre. The re-appointment of three Governors was also announced.

The new Chairman is the Honourable Donald S. Macdonald of Toronto, Ontario. The new Governors are Felipe Herrera of Santiago, Chile, Francis Keppel of Cambridge, USA, and from Canada, Dr. Frank A. DeMarco of Windsor, Ontario, David Lawless of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and Marcel Massé of Ottawa, Ontario. The Governors re-appointed are the Honourable Rex Nettleford of Kingston, Jamaica, Sir Geoffrey Wilson of Oxford, United Kingdom, and Norman Currie of Toronto, Ontario.

The International Development Research Centre is a public corporation created by the Parliament of Canada in 1970 to enhance the research competence of scientists in the developing countries. It does so through support of research designed to adapt science and technology to the needs of the developing countries. The Act of Parliament establishing the Centre provided for a Board of Governors of 21 persons, to be appointed by the Government of Canada. Eleven of the Governors, including the Chairman, must be Canadian citizens. It has been the consistent practice to draw the other Governors internationally from persons, many of them in developing countries, who have made notable contributions in the field of development.

Brief biographic notes on the appointees follow:

The Honourable Donald S. Macdonald (Canada) is a lawyer and former public servant. During a long public service career, he held several portfolios including Finance; Energy, Mines and Resources; and National Defence. At present, he is a partner with McCarthy and McCarthy, Toronto.
