PLUMS DOUBLE IN PRICE.

Best Varieties Sold Yesterday at $1.35 a Basket.

The wholesale market down on Scott-street took on a decidedly firmer tone yesterday in almost all lines of Canadian fruits. Plums especially show a sharp advance over a week ago, one or two choice varieties selling as high on the wholesale market yesterday as $1.35 per basket. Stronach & Sons sold large egg plums yesterday, grown by James Hiscott of Virgil, for the prices quoted. An advance of 100 per cent. on the wholesale market within less than a week is not an ordinary occurrence.

Tomatoes are something of an enigma to the trade. Reports of abnormally big yields followed later by statements of the bad effects of the drought have evidently had the effect of discouraging trade, and to-day the demand has fallen off until supplies and requirements are alike small. Peaches of the better class of Crawfords were in good demand, and more would have been taken at the prices quoted. Small Crawfords are worth from 35 to 50 cents a basket; medium, 65c to 75c; extra fancy Crawfords in leno-covered baskets, 90c to $1.25 a basket. The varieties of peaches in demand at the present time are well-ripened stock suitable for slicing and for table use.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

WOMAN.

We chide her for her foolish ways,
We sneer at what she wears;
The vanity that she displays
And all her empty airs
Are things we still go scoffing at,
But she exists—thank God for that!

Her glibness—ah! how many jests
Has it to answer for?
And still for her we beat our breasts
And plan and plot and war.
We scorn her, thanking Him above
That she is here to tempt—and love.

—S. E. Kiser.

Many Silks Will Be Worn.

For evening costumes and dressy day-gowns, and also for wraps, silk will be considered particularly smart in style, says The Woman's Home Companion. The new silks are extremely soft and lustrous, and of a nature to drape artistically. But, tho silk is to be counted among the fashion leaders of the coming season, yet the tailor-made silk suit, consisting of skirt and coat, which has been so fashionable all thru the spring and summer, will be considered the latest in style for early fall wear. On the other hand, tho black-and-white striped silks have been fashionable this summer, they will still continue to be high in favor. Many of them will show the stripe broken here and there by the introduction of a printed pompadour design, an empire wreath, or some small conventionalized pattern.

Exquisite printed satin brocades scattered with large flowers, so beautifully printed that they have the effect of hand painting, will be much used as the foundation of chiffon and silk grenadine gowns. These satin brocades are also advocated for coat linings.

Something very new in a silken fabric is plaid crepe. It is shown in pompadour patterns, white crepy backgrounds with the most fascinating of white silk stripes and big flowers in pink, blue or yellow scattered carelessly over it. For the long scarfs, which will continue to be fashionable, this gauze-like fabric will be much used, and it will also make exquisite gowns and separate waists.

Another one of the new plaid crepes, which is made without the flowered pattern, imitates in its weaving expensive needle-work, such as shirring, etc. This is shown in the loveliest shades of ciel blue, champagne, and the faintest of coral-pink tints.

Messalines, satin radiums, and the fine satin-finished taffetas are all to continue in vogue. A pronounced fashion fad is the favor shown black silks.

What is known as grandmother silks are to be all the vogue, especially in soft black taffeta, showing a small brocaded black figure.

All Sorts of Buttons.

We are to be as much buttoned as ever, if not a little more so, and buttons have assumed privileges of being very much dressed up, for they now have frills about them in many cases, little lace puffs, loops of ribbon and even at times sport a dangling tassel like a proud Wellington boot. Some buttons are of prodigious size, out of all reason in some cases, and again they are so tiny as scarcely to afford a hold for the needle that sews them on. Buttons used purely as a trimming are very much in favor, and one sees them by the score on some of the new gowns, being in almost every case accompanied by conspicuous ornamental button-holes of some sort.

White Velvet.

A great deal of white velvet is to be worn this coming season. There are whole gowns of it, immeasurably becoming, giving the flesh the softest tinge of beauty. It is used on hats a great deal; and one finds a deal of white velvet ribbon. In fact, there is quite a fancy for trimming delicate black gauzy stuffs with cream or ivory white ribbon velvet, producing a most beautiful effect.

Pretty Finger Nails.

The finger nails require soap and water and the nail brush at least twice a day. While the hands are still soft from the action of the water the cuticle about the nails should be pressed back gently. If this is done persistently the nail will soon acquire a dainty oval form and a surface like the rim of a sea shell. If the nails are neglected the flesh will attach itself to the finger nails and then all sorts of painful "shreddy" little ends will appear. The proper manicure outfit consists of a flexible file, a polisher, ivory cleaner, cuticle knife, some good ointment and powder for polishing.

INTERNATIONAL NOW.

Sawsmiths' Union Broadens Its Title—Members Like Toronto.

The name of the National Sawsmiths' Union was changed yesterday in convention to the International Sawsmiths' Union.

The delegates have great words of praise for Toronto as a convention city, and the treatment they received at the hands of the civic officials.

In the final session yesterday one convention recorded itself against contract, bonus or premium systems, as unfair to organized labor, and decided upon Chicago as the next meeting place in 1908.

Officers were elected as follows:: President, Joseph Duhy, Brooklyn; first vice-president, Michael Leonard, Chicago; second vice-president, John Frayar, Galt, Ont.; secretary-treasurer, C. G. Wertz, Indianopolis. The executive board consits of international officers and president of each local union.

Mrs. George Gander.

St. Catharines, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Gander, wife of Sergt. George Gander, and perhaps the oldest married woman in the district, died this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Gander celebrated the diamond jubilee of their wedding several years ago.

Peppermint May Be Dearer.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 6.—The peppermint growers of practically the entire mint growing district of the United States have formed an organization which is to be a branch of the American Society of Equity. The growers expressed an opinion that the price for essential oils should be between $2.75 and $3 per pound.

Lady's Short Kimona.

1025.—A woman's wardrobe is incomplete without a kimona, and of all the designs offered to women, none have ever been so convenient as this design. The pattern provides a flat facing, and the only seams are those at the shoulders and underarm. The sleeves are gathered full on the shoulders and the lower edge is left in flowing style and finished with a facing. China silk, pongee, fancy flowered materials, and other washable goods will give excellent results, with facing of contrasting material to make a pretty finish. The pattern is cut in five sizes, 32 to 40 bust. It requires 4 yards of material, 27 inches wide, or 3 1-2 yards of material 36 inches wide, with 1 7-8 yards for facing.

MAKE MEETINGS PUBLIC.

Dr. Noble's Motion to Be Introduced at Hospital Board.

The Toronto General Hospital board met yesterday, but only routine matters ewre disposed of.

Dr. Noble, as one of the city representatives, will present a motion at the next meeting, asking that the meetings of the board be open to the press. He contends that as there is so much public money invested in the hospital, the subscribers have a right to publicity in connection with its management.

Dr. Noble also intends to have discussed the present system by which "a family compact of the last 30 years" has controlled the hospital in regard to the performing of operations.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Odd in title and fully as unique in character and as intense in interest is "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," the attraction at the Grand next week. No play in New York attracted as much attention as this one. "Raffles," as is generally known, is a fascinating study in criminology, based upon E. W. Hornung's exciting series of sketches published in two volumes under the titles of "Raffles" and "The Amateur Cracksman." It is a play that strongly brings out the old saying, that "All the world loves a rogue." Susanne Lee is seen as the loving Gwendolyn. S. Miller Kent, a perfect cracksman, and Frank McCormack as Captain Bedford.

Now for a real comic opera with a score of superior worth, artists who can sing, and a conductor to bring out the beauties of the composition. For libretto, a story that is tangible and meriting consideration has been supplied by the author. It is "Red Feather," the gorgeous Ziegfeld Opera Company's production of Reginald DeKoven and Charles Klein's romantic comic opera that will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre next week. The company that Manager Jos. M. Gaites has organized with Cheridah Simpson at the head, numbers seventy-five people. The production is said to be most lavish and the costumes sumptuous.

The plan for the two concerts to be given by the 2nd Life Guards Band at Massey Hall opened at the hall yesterday, and there was quite a demand for the reserved portions of the house. The plan will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The prices are $1, 75c, 50c and 25c.

"A Desperate Chance" is the melodramatic offering at the Majestic Theatre next week, with a matinee every day. The author has taken the play from the incident suggested by the exciting lives of the Biddle Brothers. While they are largely concerned in the plot, they are not idolized, and put on a pedestal and regarded as heroes, nor are they held up as shining examples for the rising generation to emulate. They are rather types around which the story is constructed.

Ruthven Violently Ill After Supper in Chinese Restaurant.

London, Sept. 6.—Ptomaine poison, taken in chop-suey, claimed to have been served at the restaurant known as the Chinese Cafe, on Richmond-street, brought George Walter Scott of Ruthven, Ont., near death early yesterday morning.

His two companions, Angus Mallet and T. H. Norman, also of Ruthven, were seriously affected as well, but with medical aid they were saved from severe sickness.

Scott was affected almost immediately after leaving the cafe, before the others had commenced to feel the effects.

Their friend will be confined to the hospital for some time.

BROTHER ASKS FOR INQUEST

Grocer Nolan Found Dead on the Floor of His Store.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—John Dolan, a grocer, was found dead to-day on the floor of his store.

His brother has asked the coroner to hold an inquest. It is asserted that the deceased was in good health a short time before his death, and when he was found no effort was made to secure medical assistance.

Contravening the Act.

Justice Anglin yesterday agreed with the contention of Eric Armour that the American Hotel Supply Company were doing business in Ontario in contravention to the act, and refused to grant an interim injunction restraining Nelson Bros. (of the Rossin House) from using any other advertising ink-stand than theirs.

Townships Must Pay.

Chief Justice Falconbridge has awarded Duncan Campbell and wife $500, and $1500 damages, respectively, against the Townships of Brooke and Metcalfe for injuries sustained by being thrown from a carriage owing to a defect of the road. They had asked for $8000. The "violent and irreconcilable" medical testimony concerning injuries to the woman rather puzzled the chief justice, he says.

The Toronto Suburban Railway Company will sue the G.T.R. for $2000 damages to a car which was run into by a train and wrecked near the Union Stock Yards last June.
