Complete Homefurnishers!

We are complete homefurnishers, and wish to be known as such. Our trade in that line has assumed large proportions. That fact has a big influence on our buying. It enables us to get our goods at the smallest possible cost. Consequently our prices are lower than what is usually asked for the same quality or grade of goods, because we sell as we buy and are satisfied with a smaller margin of profit than is generally taken. Homeowners and householders are quick to find where the best things may be had for the least money. As a result business comes our way, and continues to come in increasing volume. These are some of the values that bring trade this way:

ONE CENT MORNING PAPER.
No. 85 YONGE STREET, Toronto.

THE LONELY WOLVES AT WORK.

The Kettle River bill was killed in the House of Commons last night. It was killed by the conduct of the Government in making the question an open one, and by the Conservative leaders espousing the cause of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

As to the first: last session the Government and Parliament voted the Canadian Pacific a subsidy of nearly four millions of dollars, large areas of lands and coal lands, toward the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway. But this big concession was given on two express conditions: (1) that the Government should regulate the tolls of the road and (2) that all other roads should have equal running rights over the Crow's Nest Pass railway from Lethbridge N.W.T., to Vancouver, and all branch lines in connection therewith in Southern British Columbia. The work is well under way and some time this summer it will be into the Boundary Creek line in Southern British Columbia. The Kettle Creek or Corbin railway is projected from Washington State (U.S.) to run north across the boundary line up through the Boundary Creek country until it intersects the Crow's Nest Pass railway. It does not run behind the Corbin road and by means of it seeks to get into Southern British Columbia, and to claim when built running rights over the Crow's Nest tracks. The Grand Trunk is anxious for this privilege in order to share in the traffic between Eastern Canada and Southern British Columbia, and ultimately of the British Columbia cities on the coast. The Grand Trunk is also anxious to get to Lethbridge in the Territories. But these are the very things the Canadian Pacific is determined to prevent, notwithstanding its solemn agreement of last year. It does not want the Grand Trunk in British Columbia or the Territories. True the Grand Trunk proposes to go in via the Northern or Great Northern west of Chicago. True, too, the Grand Trunk is open to the charge of being a party to taking Canadian trade across the border of east. There is something in both of these charges, but they are no more true of the Grand Trunk than of the Canadian Pacific. The Canadian Pacific takes business across the line at any part of its system, if the business tends that way. It is not the railways but our fiscal policy that must be changed.

TREATMENT OF INEBRIATE PRISONERS.

Inebriety is becoming more and more recognized by medical men as a disease. The thirst for drink is ascribed to some abnormal condition of the system, as to the details of which, however, the tendency of the times is to attack inebriety much in the same way as one would attack any other ailment. The victim is regarded as a patient who is to be dealt with prescriptions until the conditions of his physical system become normal. Many members of the profession are more faith in medicine for the cure of inebriety than in moral suasion or prohibition. It is not surprising therefore that the medical treatment of the inebriates of prisons and asylums has become a live issue among those whose duty it is to look after these unfortunate. For some months past an attempt has been made to introduce the "Keeley cure" into the Central Prison and the county jails throughout the province. The agitation has awakened the active interest of the prison officials and the Prisoners' Association.

For female inebriates, (a) sending the more hopeless class to the Mercer Reformatory for indeterminate sentences, (b) for the more hopeful class of female inebriates, commencing in Toronto, home in Toronto, or utilizing some of the existing homes for a course of three or four weeks of medical treatment of this class.

2. With a view both to economy and efficiency, a special effect to be the foregoing recommendations, and for the purpose of the establishment of a new medical treatment of inebriates, calling upon the Ontario Government to appoint an Inspector of Inebriate Hospitals.

It will be a great mistake if anything but the very best pavement is put down on any part of Queen-street west. As yet no pavement is as good as that on the front, as far as the conditions of this city are concerned, and that is the pavement that should be laid on this great thoroughfare. No business street can afford to have a cedar block or macadam pavement. The bicycle has a tendency to bring about a wonderful change in the distribution of business. The street car concentrates business at the centre of the city. Once a passenger has boarded a car for his home he cannot break the journey by calling in at a store en route. But he uses a bicycle he is free to call at a store at any point along the route he is traveling. Good pavements and the bicycle have a marked tendency to offset the centralization of business about which so many of the outside retail merchants are complaining. The merchants of Queen-street ought to encourage bicycle traffic along that thoroughfare. The wheel is their best friend, while the street car is their enemy. Especially is this true of the western end of the street, where it is proposed by some to put down an inferior pavement. It is surely no hardship on any Queen-street property owner to pay his share of an asphalt pavement. The city has already paved the space between the tracks or is responsible for that portion of the street, leaving but a comparatively narrow roadway to be paved by the property owners. The assessment for an asphalt pavement is should be taken by the engineer to secure the asphaltizing of the street from Yonge to Dufferin.

WARDNER IS GROWING

And There are Chances Out There for Doctors, Dentists and All Kinds of Tradesmen.

Wardner, B.C., April 14. (Special)—This town is growing very fast, and at the present time there are good openings for a doctor, druggist, dentist, tailor, baker, shoemaker and tinsmith. The doctor in six months would have a good practice, and it is well to be early in the field.

A dentist could command business at once, as is now the case in East Kootenay.

A druggist is needed in the worst way, one who would be able to sell stationery in connection with his drug store. A confectioner with ice cream and a barber parlor attached would do a good business.

The trades mentioned, namely, tailor, baker, tinsmith, shoemaker, etc., are all in demand, but should come prepared to open a small store in connection with their business.

These are opportunities that only occur once in a while, and what it means is to go and grow up with the town of

DRIFTING

Down the Rapids to Death.

The two innocent children in this frail canoe are not more certainly approaching swift destruction than are the delicate young persons who, through sheer ignorance and indifference, are neglecting a persistent cough, for their frail bark of life also is drifting to eternity. Sometimes the loss of a rescuing hand is suspected, and the danger is increased. It is the duty of their elders, their parents, their guardians, or their friends, to help and rescue them from an untimely end.

Mothers, do not permit your dear ones to neglect a cold. See to it that they take a good herbal tonic and alternative, and simultaneously soothe and heal their inflamed and irritated air-passages by a course of Shiloh's Cough and Consumption Cure. This grand old remedy, in use for the past forty years, is a sovereign remedy for throat and lung troubles, being carefully prepared from special herbs, has been tried by a big doctor's bill. You run no risk, because you can get your money back if it fails to cure. United States and Canada, 25c, 50c, and $1.00 a bottle; England, 1s, 2s, 3s, 4s, and 6s. C. C. White & Co., Ltd., 100, King St. W., Toronto.

After my baby was sick 10 months, the doctors gave him up. I decided to try Shiloh's Cough Cure. It worked wonders from the first. He is big, fat and healthy today. Mrs. L. M. Smith, Portmouth, Ohio.

negligent of its duty if it did not do so. The subject is worthy of the serious attention of temperance organizations as well as of the Government.

Dr. Ross, of the Ontario Temperance Society, founded upon the information gained by his recent visit and from his knowledge of the subject generally:

1. For male inebriates, (a) the establishment in Ontario by the Government, of a maximum sentence for two years, colony plan and reserving this for the more hopeless class who should be committed to the indeterminate sentence system, (b) Utilizing local hospitals throughout the Province, and the establishment of a special hospital in Toronto for a few weeks' treatment of the more hopeful class of pauper inebriates, (c) the establishment of an inebriate hospital in Toronto—supplying the inebriate inmates of the Central Prison with medical treatment of inebriety, and preferably under the supervision of our association.

Across our horizon, Mr. Henry James Morgan, a practical biographer and prolific author of excellent hand-books, has just got out, through William Briggs, Toronto, "The Canadian Men and Women of the Time," of more than a thousand pages, which he hopes to work over three years hence, and indefinitely thereafter, at the same interval. The compiler's scope includes Canadians abroad as well as at home. His sketches are highly praiseworthy for their compactness and the lack of such fulsome eulogy as our own cyclopedias often tolerate as the result of gratuitous assistance from relatives and friends. Mr. Morgan ingeniously substitutes for this quotations, in appreciation, from the press and other sources. He takes pains, however, to show each character relation to the questions and movements of the day—social, political, temperance, imperial federation, etc. An admirable touch of life and connection.
