The bean and clover seed crops have been seriously affected by drogith and other causes. The eastern localities appear to have yielded more than the western.

Except in a few places, where rot has appeared, the potatoes are of excellent quality and the yield large.

Turnips were injured by the drouth, besides insects, while mangolds, on the whole, have been satisfactory, especially in the Lake Eric counties.

The carrot crop indicates a fair production, and sugar beets, while their cultivation has been confined to a few localities, have thriven well.

Fruit and fruit trees are in splendid condition, although in some places they have been injured by the drouth, snowstorms, insects and heavy rain. The apple crop on the whole, however, was below the average. I peaches are limited.

Live stock is reported as being thin, in consequence of short pasture, but it is, on the other hand, free from disease. The practice of stall feeding is reported to have fallen off greatly. Hogs are plentiful, but prices are low. Fodder is plentiful mearify all localities.

The dairy industry, notwithstanding drawbacks, is flourishing, and the poultry industry is most encouraging and remunerative. The dairy industry, notwithstanding drawbacks, is flourishing, and the poultry industry is most encouraging and remunerative. The season has been very unfavorable to bees, and the supply of honey will be short of the average.

Threshing work has been lighter than usual owing to shortage of wheat crop. Very little of yield has so far been marketed, as prices are low.
