The victory of the White Sox over the Cubs in the first of the serie for the world's championship was the cause of much satisfaction to not a few of the ball fans in this metropolitan city. The Sox did not have their strongest team on the field. George Davis, the star and the backbone of the Sox infield, was out of the game owing to a lame back, and this necessitated the placing of Tannehill, the regular third sacker, on short, and Rohe on third. This in itself was sufficient to cause the friends of the Sox to drop their jaws, but they must have been a delighted mob when the last Curb was retired, of police that had been sent to the that was fully a foot from his bat. and the game was won.
