American Suits at $15

THE clothing manufacturers of the United States have a very big market. Their output is so big they can afford to adopt the newest methods. And the American public is nothing if not up-to-date. The newest styles don't wait long over there. They are taken up first crack out of the box.

By the time American suits come in here though, there is duty added to the cost. So as a rule they are more expensive than Canadian suits. We have a line this year, however, that is not open to that disadvantage—at $15.00 we can sell you a high-grade American suit.

American suits are a little more extreme in style, but that's no objection if you like the style. Come and see our $15.00 Americans. It's a price we excel on right through the stock.

The material selected for these suits is a worsted of choice quality and of superior finish. The shades are olive, brown, elephant, tan, and light and medium grey, with neat shadow stripe and colored thread mixtures. Coats are cut on the latest American model, showing every feature of exclusive New York fashion, with fancy cuffs, etc. Nicely tailored and finished, with high-grade trimmings and linings throughout. Extraordinary value.
