BRIGADE LACROSSE TEAMS
JUST BEHIND THE LINES

Cornwall, Ont., Nov. 7.—A letter was received today by a friend in town from Pte. Michael J. Cummings, formerly a well-known member of the Cornwall lacrosse team, and now at the front. The letter was dated Oct. 11. He says they are having a great deal of rain, and the deep mud makes walking hard. He expects to put in another hard winter in the trenches. His brother, Pte. Mark Cummings, also well known in lacrosse circles, is still in hospital in England. He expresses sorrow on the death of Lawrence Degrave, another Cornwall lacrosse player, and other local boys who fell in action, and says it made him think how fortunate he had been to escape injury and death. He had met Ref. Father Even Macdonald, formerly of Cornwall, who is now 4th brigade captain attached to the 19th Battalion.

He is trying to get brigade lacrosse teams, as they have played a big game close to the lines here, the competing teams being the 2nd Division and the 4th Division Battery, which came here a short time ago. The 4th Division won by 4 to 1. Donald Smith of Cornwall and several Vancouver and New Westminster players were the 4th Division lot.
