Cannot Appeal From Penalty

Directors of National League Upheld Pres. Toner's Action in Case Against McGraw

There can be no appeal from the fine and suspension recently imposed upon Manager McGraw of the New York base ball club by President Toner, according to a ruling of the board of directors of the National League at New York, Monday. As a result the $500 fine and the suspension inflicted upon the field leader of the local National League team for his attack upon Umpire Byron at Cynosauti on June 8 stands, despite the protest and appeal filed by President Hampstead at the conference of his fellow magnates. The members of the board went upon record as approving the fine and suspension and announced that McGraw's alleged statements reflecting upon the president of the league would be the subject of inquiry at a special meeting Tuesday.
The session, which was an all-day affair, was attended by all the eight club presidents composing the board of directors. In addition, Umpires Byron and Quigley were present, but were not called upon to testify. Prior to the morning meeting it was announced that the New York club had withdrawn its protest against the penalty imposed by President Toner. When Hampstead arrived for the afternoon session he had changed his mind apparently, for he stated that the New York club desired to appeal from

The Force of Habit

A typesetter in a printing-house became very adroit in explaining the large number of misprints for which he was responsible. Even when he changed his work and became a waiter in a restaurant, his skill did not forsake him.

One day he had served a guest with a plate of soup, and was turning away when he was called back sharply.

"This is an outrage!" cried the indignant diner. "I find a needle in my soup!"

"What does this mean?"

"Just a misprint, sir," explained the former typesetter. "It should have been a noodle."
