CAMPBELLTON

The importance of prompt relief should not be overlooked by all who contribute to the fund or supplies for the Campbellton sufferers, and the list of contributors should be a long one, for the need is great. The measures already taken in this city, Fredericton, Moncton, Chatham, Newcastle and other places to provide immediate and temporary relief must be followed up by more substantial aid for the homeless people of Campbellton.

One has only to think of a whole town, the young, the old, the sick and the well, alike thrust into the open fields, without food or shelter, to realize how great must be the suffering of some, and what sacrifices others are called upon to endure. A little later fully organized relief must be provided, but for these first days the demand is for the immediate necessities of life.

It is difficult to learn the amount of insurance carried in Campbellton, but it appears that nearly or quite $1,000,000 is held in St. John offices, while a considerable amount was held in companies having direct representation in the town. This will go a long way toward rebuilding a portion of the town, but the loss is perhaps a million more than the insurance, and many people doubtless had no insurance at all, and are left penniless.

"CRUCIAL PERIODS"

Two addresses relative to imperial affairs are referred to in today's cables. Lord Islington, addressing an audience in New Zealand, expressed the view that the next decade would be the crucial period in the affairs of the Empire. A similar view has been expressed concerning very many decades in the past history of the Empire. There is always some condition of affairs that suggests to some observers a crisis of large proportions. The growth and development of the Empire has been such as to bring the people constantly face to face with new sets of conditions, and the speculative mind easily discerns possibilities which, if they became certain, would constitute a crisis. But the Empire has not only held together; it has become more closely united as each new set of conditions was met and taken into account. Back of all movements in the process of development is the spirit of unity, and of loyalty to the Empire. In the second of the addresses referred to in the cables today, Mr. McMaster told his London audience of the absolute loyalty and devotion of Canada to the interests of the Empire. He spoke truly, and therein explained why there is no real crisis. The Empire has nothing serious to fear today from foes within or without. The work of development will go on unchecked. There are no international complications to threaten the peace of this realm. There are no internal troubles that are beyond the power of British statesmanship to adjust them.

APPLE SHOWS

Premier Hazen stated recently that the government would arrange an apple show in St. John during the coming fall, at which the people would be able to see for themselves the possibilities of New Brunswick as an apple growing province.

It is interesting to note that this is in some other important matters the province of British Columbia is in advance of New Brunswick. They are to have a national apple show in Vancouver from Oct. 31st to Nov. 5th. The Fruit Magazine, an illustrated monthly of great excellence, published in that city, tells in its July number of the inauguration of the National Apple show in Canada. The scheme was first proposed in the Fruit Magazine last December, and Mr. Maxwell Smith, the editor, threw himself into the work. As a result the first national show will be held in Vancouver as stated, and the organizer proposes that it be held each year thereafter in different provinces. If the plan succeeds, St. John may, therefore, in due time, have a national apple show.

Earl Grey is the honorary president of the association promoting the Vancouver show, and Sir Thomas Shaughnessy is president. The vice-president is Mr. J. N. Ellis, son of Senator Ellis, of St. John. Premier McBride and Mayor Taylor are honorary vice-presidents, and Mr. Maxwell Smith is manager. It is stated expect to be able to offer $25,000 in prizes, ranging from $1,000 for car-load lots to smaller amounts for plate exhibits. The Fruit Magazine says:—

"With a most capable board of management, a staff of enthusiastic officers, including a number of distinguished persons; a large advisory board, made up of noted fruit men in various parts of Canada and the United States; the unqualified support of the great majority of the leading apple growers on the American continent; the best staff of judges that it is possible to secure, with Prof. H. E. Van Deman, as chief; a splendid apple crop throughout Canada and the Western States assured, and sufficient money already in sight to finance the enterprise, it only remains for the fruit growers to be diligent in season and out of season until they have landed safely in the exhibition buildings next October the best that skill and perseverance can produce. There will doubtless be plenty willing to pay handsome prices for the privilege of taking the exhibits away at the close of the show."

Of future national apple shows the Fruit Magazine says:—

"We believe that to bring the greatest benefits to the greatest number and make the show truly national in character it must be conceded that such an exhibition should not be held twice in succession in the same province, but should be a movable institution, held first in one part of the Dominion and then in another, choosing in each province the city best calculated to furnish not only the best accommodation for the show itself, but affording good transportation facilities and sufficient hotels to house the thousands of visitors who would be attracted by such a display. Vancouver has done her duty nobly by raising to the occasion and taking advantage of her opportunity in promoting and supporting the First Canadian National Apple Show. Which of the eastern cities will now step forward and offer to carry the banner of this national institution, first unfurled by their young and beautiful little sister in the Far West?"

Will New Brunswick be represented at the Vancouver show?

NOT QUITE CORRECT

Referring to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Manitoba provincial elections the Standard says:—

"Had he been successful in Manitoba, Sir Wilfrid would have acquired control of the election machinery through the agents he would have placed in office, and would have been in a position to settle the boundary problem on his own conditions. It was with a view to achieving these results that he started his tour while the election fight was in progress. But Manitoba, as on former occasions, saw the wisdom of not placing itself in the Ottawa halberd."

The answer to this is that Sir Wilfrid did not start his tour while the election fight was in progress, but after it was over. He took no part in the provincial campaign. But in Winnipeg last night he received a magnificent reception from the people who had just expressed their views on the question of provincial politics. The Standard is again reminded that Mr. Hazen's interference in federal affairs at the last election did not help Mr. Borden. Only two Conservatives were elected in the whole province of New Brunswick.

TO GREAT HEART

(By Petunia, in the Westminster Gazette.)

"Be of good courage!" So to me you gave,

Dear friend, the message of your dauntless heart.

And I—through these days of rest—less pain

Have seen you ever strong to bear and do,

With peace undimmed by any sudden fear.

Would fain be like you, carrying aloft

The banner of a perfect trust in God.

For 'neath the shadow of that flag unfurled

I have seen sheltering trembling refugees

From sin and passion; and beside them some

Whom sorrow hath bewildered and half-crazed—

And all these storm-tossed lives have found a Rest,

And courage, and fresh faith in God Himself.

Because of you, dear friend—because of you.

And therefore would I also learn to say:

"Be of good courage!"—There is lifting up

But first must learn to live it, day by day.

In sorrow and in joy, to keep aloft

The gallant signal floating o'er my life.

So let me watch you, friend, a little while,

And from you gain the secret of your smile.

O'LEARY INQUEST

"We the jury empaneled to enquire into the death of Arthur D. O'Leary, find that the deceased came to his death on July 5, on the southern side of the road leading from Martello Tower to the Band Cove road, in the parish of Lunenburg, from a hemorrhage of the brain. We also find that from the evidence submitted, we are unable to decide the cause of the same."

The foregoing is the verdict returned at the coroner's inquest into the death of Arthur O'Leary, whose body was found on a round leading to Seal Cove on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 5, which was concluded in the Grafton city hall yesterday afternoon. Roy Belyea, of Grafton, who has been held pending the finding of the jury, was present at the inquest, but was allowed his freedom after the verdict was made known.

The witnesses examined were: Thomas Quilty, a park policeman; Dr. Warwick Long and Addison Wayne. Belyea, himself, took the stand, and although his evidence was somewhat contradictory, he was allowed to sign it. G. Earle Lojano, who was present in the interests of Belyea, in the absence of J. B. M. Baxter, K. C. and J. A. Barry, who appeared for the O'Leary family, addressed the jury and the verdict was as told.
