

BLIND WOMAN "SEES" VOICES

Beam of Colored Light Is Sensed as Musical Sounds Are Made

Miss Longbottom, of Bristol, Eng., Possesses Other Mystifying Qualities.

LONDON, July 11.—Have people born blind a sense of color?
The experience of Miss Eva H.
Longbottom, a young woman of Bristol, who has been blind from birth, suggests that the brain may have other methods of perceiving color than by the ordinary means through the optic nerve, for the "sensed" voices and other sounds.

Miss Longbottom provides an extraordinary example of the great accomplishments that can be acquired even by the blind.

She is the British Helen Keller. She is an L. R. M. and A. R. C. M. is not only a blind singer, but has appeared in oratorio—a great feat for a totally blind person who cannot see the conductor's bat.

STARTED AS CHILD.

Miss Longbottom recently told her friends that it was as a child that she first became aware that sound was producing vision.

She had attended a concert at which Mr. Ben Davis sang.

"As he proceeded with his song," she said, "I became aware of a strange and mystic light shining near me, and felt an impulse to stretch out my fingers and catch it. Never having from my earliest days beheld a ray of light, I marvelled much at what I now saw so clearly, and thought it must be some strange creation of my own brain."

Miss Longbottom made up her mind to encourage this light, for though she had no idea of light as such, yet she believed by comparing impressions with her friends, that this was what actually had appeared.

VOICES IN COLORS.

Here are some main colors which Miss Longbottom sees, though she is conscious of infinite variations:

Red: Deep voice, contralto or bass.

Orange: A powerful voice with a full ring.

Violet: High notes with rapid vibrations. A most pleasing color. It is peculiar to the violin and piano, and soprano and tenor.

Apart from her color sense she possesses many other mystifying qualities.

She goes to "see" the films, has the captions read to her, and apart from that, dislikes any further information.

She visualizes the picture play for herself, and astonishes other people by the correctness of her descriptions.

Java is about the same size as Cuba, but it has ten times as many people.

FAMILY LIVES LONG

LONDON, July 11.—Four hundred and forty-nine years are the total of the ages of the five "children" of the late Thomas Merry. Their ages are 101, 92, 88, 85 and 83.

England, Japan and Java are the most densely populated large islands in the world.

JURY IS SELECTED IN EVOLUTION TRIAL

Defence Contends Biblical Story of Creation Not in Conflict With Theists.

DAYTON, July 10.—Twelve jurors who will try the case of John Thomas Scopes, charged with violating the Tennesses law prohibiting the teaching of theories of evolution in the public schools of the state, were chosen today. The 12 seats were filled with little effort. Nine farmers, one school teacher, a fruit grower and a shipping clerk were chosen.

No session of the court will be held tomorrow. The defense asked for a day in which to confer over the points they desire to stress in the contention that scientific testimony will show that the theory of evolution and the story of Divine creation as told in the Bible are not in conflict.

There was considerable excitement about the Lower Cove district yesterday when a report was circulated that a skeleton of a human being had been found in the cellar of an old house in Sydney street near Broad street. A Miss Armstrong To Return to V. O. N.

The question of a suitable room for a night nurse for the Victorian Order was discussed at the meeting yesterday afternoon, held in the Health Centre Board room, with His Honor Judge J. G. Forbes presiding in the absence of L. W. Simms, president. Two nurses, the Misses Kelly and Alice Guillou, were reported to be absent on vacation and Miss Turner to be leaving the staff to be married. Much pleasure was expressed that Miss Armstrong, R. N., formerly of Saint John, who has been in Toronto, will come to the city to take up the work that Miss Turner has done.

It was thought by the meeting that a room should be obtained for the nurse who might be called on night duty and no room was available. It appeared. It would be necessary in such a room that a telephone be at hand for calls. It was stated that there was no room in the Health Centre and none at the Victorian Order residence on Princess street. No action was reported regarding the matter.

Canada's Fire Losses For June Decrease

TORONTO, July 10.—Fire losses in Canada in June are estimated by the Montreal "Tribune" at $1,972,300, compared with $3,189,840 in May, and with $2,428-400 in June, last year. Fire losses during the week ended July 8, are estimated at $168,100, compared with $173,600 the previous week and with $173,600 the corresponding week of last year.

The velocity of the most rapid earthquake waves is 500 miles a minute.

Barrett Giant Shingles
for Reroofing—

What's the right roof for your house? It must be permanently weather-tight—never need repairs or maintenance. It must be fire-safe and good-looking...
And that points straight to Barrett Giant Shingles.

These tough, rugged shingles are ideal for new construction and especially suitable for reroofing—can be laid right over the old roof. Once you put these Giant Shingles on your building, the roof is off your mind—to stay off.

No leaks, no rot, no rust. No painting or patching.
Giant Shingles! And they are highly fire-resistant—proof against flying sparks or embers.

Strikingly beautiful! Giant Shingles with their slate surface of red, green or blue-black lend distinction to any house. And good looks count a lot when you want to sell.
