

THE BUSINESS COLUMN

EDITED BY MANSFIELD F. HOUSE

Co-operation is Key-note of This Plan.

A new wrinkle in merchandising has appeared in Iola, Kan., and is unusual, but it has proved several problems for local grocers.

Mr. Burcher, presiding, asked the business of the meeting. D. R. Landon wished to buy two cases of corn and A. Z. Groves one case.

That's co-operative buying as practiced in Iola by the grocers. It is working to their advantage in keeping stocks in good shape and not being heavily loaded.

The members meet at the office of the secretary as often as they wish and talk things over, see what is needed and what can be done to help some other grocer.

When a grocer has ordered several cases of goods in a co-operative way it has arrived at the store of another grocer and the owner has no car, some other grocer volunteers to take it around to the store of the purchaser.

Proving Claims Sold Lots of Washers. The Robertson Electric Co. distributors of electrical goods of all kinds reached the conclusion recently that the housewives of Buffalo were not taking sufficient interest in electric ironing machines.

IN INTEREST OF CHILD WELFARE. Council of Women Interests Itself in Battle Against Infantile Mortality—Milk for Children.

THIS WILL BE BIG NIGHT AT AMBUR'S. Anniversary Celebration Sale, With Wealth of Bargains, Goes With Swing.

A THRILLING ACT AT OPERA HOUSE. La France Bros. Give Great Equilibristic Offering—Lots of Music and Clever Comedy Sketches.

The St. John Local Council of Women at its meeting in the board of trade rooms yesterday afternoon gave assurance of its sympathy in all child welfare work and gave favorable consideration to the establishment of a milk fund for the needy mothers and children in the city.

Splendid weather continues to make most favorable conditions for the Ambur Anniversary Celebration and the bright sunlight today, together with the remarkable inducements of exceptionally low prices, resulted in most satisfactory business at the Ambur shops in King Square and West St. John.

The Opera House last evening had an exceptionally fine assortment of acts, all of which were well received. For the music lovers there was an abundance of classy singing, select piano and accordion selections and novel methods of producing melodies; for those interested in equilibristic performances there was an act featuring with sensational feats for others who enjoy a good comedy skit and comic repertoire there were brilliant offerings, and in addition to these features there was the first episode of the new motion picture serial "Bride 13" which was treating with thrills and which promises to become very popular.

Halifax Member Will Vote for Amendment—Opposition Leader Warns Government Regarding Estimates.

The anniversary clearance is going forward smoothly and it is evident that there is general public approval of the Ambur policy of observing their fifth year of business success by giving their patrons a Roman holiday in bargains.

The La France Brothers gave a demonstration of equilibristic work, which has never been excellent on a local stage. Both are clever, but one gave an exceptionally thrilling performance. He balanced himself on his head and remained in that position for nearly ten minutes, while he performed feats of juggling, and a comic repertoire, poured himself other acts, played on a mandolin and did a drink. The act made a great deal of other acts. The act made a great deal of other acts.
