GOOD RESULTS FROM JUVENILE COURT

Judge Archibald Speaks of Way to Reclaim Juveniles Who Go Wrong.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.) Taking the stand that punishment of criminals is a deterrent was an expected theory, Judge Archibald, of Ottawa, advanced instead methods of kindly and patient treatment, in an address before the annual meeting of the Big Sister Association at the residence of Mrs. Ralph Brydges, 618 Jarvis street.
Judge Archibald, who besides being chief parole officer for the Dominion, presides over and takes a keen interest in the work of the juvenile court of the capital city, asserted that sympathetic treatment of those guilty of wrongdoing was productive of excellent results in the great majority of cases.

The speaker pointed out that in spite of severe punishments meted out, the same serious crimes were committed a day or two later. Capital punishment had been resorted to in Canada for many years, and still offences were being committed. "Repression," he declared, "will never remove the tendency to crime. In fact, it will render it more permanent.
If we are going to get at the cause," Judge Archibald spoke of the application of this principle to the work of the juvenile court over which he presided.
He called attention to the fact that in a large number of the cases coming before him it was the parents and not the children who were really to blame. He strongly urged "getting after" parents who neglected their children, and made reference to the good results attending the application of this plan in Ottawa.

Some 210 boys had come before him last year, he went on, and not a single one had been re-arrested in any case. On the other hand, every effort was made to find out the influences which had brought the boys to the court. He stated that the detention home in Ottawa was without locks, the inmates being kept there by a spirit of love, although in no instance was markish sentiment commenced. He declared that little could be done in Toronto in the reformation of juvenile delinquents without a detention home of the proper kind and conducted along the right lines. He remarked that there was a great field in reference to the Big Brother and Big Sister movements, and prophesied that the court of the future would be a community centre from which community service work radiated.

The speaker said that the adult protection system would come before long.
He remarked on the foolishness of sending to jail men who after years of good conduct had fallen victims to a few months of a criminal life. He stated he proposed that these should be assisted to make restitution and win their way back to respectability.

In a brief reference to the good done by the parole system in Canada he declared that 10,000 out of 12,000 criminals had been reclaimed. Last year out of 800 men and women paroled less than one-half of one per cent. had failed to justify the faith of the authorities.

THE FIRST ECHO.

A resolution signed by the twenty-five members who visited St. John recently will be presented to the federal cabinet today, characterizing the development of the government's policy as a work of national importance, and pointing out the importance of the immediate extension of the Negro Point breakwater and the providing of sufficient accommodation for the handling of Canada's winter commerce through the port. The resolution was drafted and signed by the members without exception last week, and all made clear their attitude on the question.

STUDYING IMMIGRATION.

Miss F. B. Low of London, Eng., who arrived in the city to take passage on the steamship Metagama for England yesterday, has completed a coast-to-coast tour of Canada to glean all possible opportunities for British women immigrants in Canada. She said that English women must learn Canadian ways and they must come here prepared to work, and to work hard. She believes that there is greater liberty and more chance for achievement. Miss Low visited Canada in 1912 with a view to study the school system, from the point of view of immigration.

MUNICIPAL CHAPTER, I. O. D. E.

At a meeting of the Municipal Chapter of the I. O. D. E., held yesterday in the government rooms with the regent, Mrs. A. W. Adams, in the chair, a committee, Mrs. J. Pope Barnes, convenor, was appointed to locate a building suitable for holding women's meetings in this city. Mrs. M. G. Teed was ap-
