MARRIAGES AND BIRTHS
Thirteen marriages and ten births—seven boys and three girls were recorded during the week.

DEATH OF A CHILD
The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Hogan of 86 Winter street will sympathize with them in the death of their youngest child, Barbara Lorraine, aged six months, which took place on Wednesday, October 16.

STRAWBERRIES AND SNOW
Ripe strawberries from the garden of Alfred G. VanWart, Gerow's wharf, were received at the Times office this morning. The fruit was large sized and fully ripe. But there was a light touch of snow on the hills back of that part of the river front yesterday morning.

HER ARM BROKEN
Little Agnes McPherson, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McPherson of Hampton, while playing in the yard at her home in Hampton yesterday, fell and broke her arm in two places.

HELPING THE HUN.
The amazing statement is made that the Rotary Club team which is distributing Victory Loan posters among the stores has met with objection on the part of a few dealers, who either do not want the posters at all or refuse to display them in their windows. "I don't like to think," said one Rotarian today, "that our boys in France are fighting to save the business of men like that."

NELSON DAY
Monday, the 114th anniversary of the victory of Trafalgar and the death of Lord Nelson, can be celebrated here only by flying of flags as requested by proclamation of His Worship the Mayor, as on account of health restrictions no gatherings can take place as had been arranged by The Navy League. So every citizen is requested to decorate his building and fly a flag in honor of Lord Nelson and the Royal Navy.

ST. JOHN BOYS' SUCCESS.
Another St. John boy, who has completed a most gratifying course at school is Dr. J. Bernard Gossell, graduate dentist of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. Doctor Gossell has received official notification of having most successfully passed the recent examinations of the N. B. Dental Board, and is now a registered dentist in this province. He is a son of James Gossell, 104 Harrison street and a St. John boy who has had an enviable record in his education. He graduated from Grade XI of the local High school in 1914, and from Grade XII in 1915, after which he took up the study of dentistry at the University of Pennsylvania. He completed a brilliant course there last June, receiving his degree of D. D. S., and also has his certificate from the Pennsylvania board of examiners. The best wishes of his friends for further successes will follow Dr. Gossell in the practice of his profession.

ST. JOHN BOY USED GERMAN GUNS

Bdr. J. Arnold Gibbon, son of J. S. Gibbon, is on furlough in London after having served at the front for thirteen months with the 2nd Howitzer Battery, fighting first in Flanders, later near Lens and recently in the heavy drives about Cambrai.

This battery has been trained to use the German guns and in the recent drives have gone "over the top" with the infantry and as the German guns were captured have used them with the German ammunition on the retreating Germans. The battery suffered heavy casualties.

Bdr. Gibbon's friends will be pleased to learn that he has come through the heavy fighting safely.

BOY SHOT; IS IN HOSPITAL AT POINT OF DEATH

Two Men Sent Bullets Into Barn Where Geo. Rogers Was Working

TRAGEDY IN BARNESVILLE

Warrants Out and Constable Seek John Verner and Hugh McDermott—Shots Were Fired From Vehicle on Road

George Rogers, aged thirteen years, lies at the point of death in the General Public Hospital as the result of shooting at his home in Barnesville, Kings county, on Tuesday afternoon. The young lad is suffering from the effects of a rifle shot wound, the bullet having entered the hip and passed into his abdomen, lodging there. Meanwhile, constables are searching for the miscreants who shot him.

The information received by the Kings county authorities makes the case appear a most peculiar one. On Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock the boy was at work in his father's barn threshing buckwheat. While he may not have been visible to passersby on the road, which is about 100 yards distant, it is said that there could be no doubt that the noise of the threshing operations could be heard so clearly that any one passing must have known that he was there.

The shots, one of which took effect, were fired by two young men who were driving past. Without any known motive, they are said to have raised their rifles, one a Mauser and the other a .243 bore rifle, and each fired two shots at the barn. Without stopping to investigate the results of their act, they drove along and disappeared.

The victim of this wanton attack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers. His father is seriously ill and is not expected to recover, and the boys have been carrying on the work of the farm. Some time after the shooting the boy was found by his brother in the barn, suffering from the severe wound. He was carried into the house, where his wound was stanchied and the next day he was driven to Hampton, where the case was treated by Dr. J. Newton Smith. Owing to the seriousness of the case Doctor Smith advised that the boy be brought to the hospital in St. John. The trip was made in an automobile, the injured lad, accompanied by his brother, Joseph, arriving at the institution at midnight.

Immediate action was necessary in order to save life and Dr. A. E. Macaulay and Dr. Henry Hedder, superintendent of the hospital, operated. It was found that the bullet had penetrated the left hip and entered the abdomen but had not seriously injured the vital organs. At the time the lad's condition was so critical that no hopes were entertained for his recovery but since then he has been a slight improvement and he now is said to have a fighting chance.

On his return to Kings county, Joseph Rogers laid information against John Verner, aged twenty, and Hugh McDermott, aged twenty-three years, both of Great Hill, St. John county. Arrangements were completed yesterday and today constables are searching for the boys. Information received at Hampton by Magistrate Frank Maclellan indicates that they still are in the neighbourhood and it is expected that they will be apprehended before the day is over.

ST. JOHN YOUNG MAN IS DEAD IN CUBA

Harold Bruce McKendrick Dies in Attack of Influenza—Had Brilliant Business Career

The news of the death of Harold Bruce McKendrick, son of Dawson McKendrick, assistant superintendent of the railway mail service here, was received this morning by cablegram from Cuba. Although he had been away from St. John for a considerable period Mr. McKendrick still had many friends here who will mourn his death with deep regret and in their bereavement his family will have the sincere sympathy of all who know him. He was a bright young man of fine character and disposition with prospects of a brilliant future, and his death at the early age of twenty-nine years comes as a great shock.

Influenza, which is prevalent in Cuba, was responsible for his death and he passed away at a town in the northern part of the island, where he had gone on a business trip. During his illness he was attended by Mrs. Moore, wife of the senior member of the firm with which he was connected, who remained with him until the end and from whom the advice of his death was received.

The announcement that he had passed away was the first intimation his family had of his illness. A letter was received from him only a few days ago and at the time of writing he was in unusual health. In this letter he told of assisting the British consul in Cuba in recruiting the British consular in Havana. Mr. McKendrick has cable instructions to have the body sent home if possible, but it is understood that the health regulations of the island republic will make this impossible and that the interment will be made in Cuba.

After graduating from the local high school Mr. McKendrick entered the employ of the Royal Bank of Canada. He was with the St. John office for several years and then was transferred to Montreal. Five or six years ago he was sent to the main office of the bank in Havana, Cuba, and afterwards acted as manager of branches in Camaguey, Cienfuegos and Santiago. Later he went to Cienfuegos to open a branch and remained there a year.

Serving his connection with the bank, Mr. McKendrick joined the staff of Moore & Reid, a firm carrying on extensive lumber operations in Cuba, and had been a valued member of the staff until the time of his death.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one brother, Lieut. Roy H. McKendrick, now overseas with a siege battery, and one sister, Miss Marion at home.
