President Taft, having in mind the incoming president's desire for simplicity, had him to the east room of the White House, instead of the blue room, as the former reception place for the president. Here Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson, and Mr. Taft's smile was a relief.

At 10:17 o'clock, the party was in the first of the White House. In the first of the White House, Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson, and Mr. Taft's smile was a relief. The party was in the first of the White House.

Table with columns: Disease, 1912, 1913, Ave. Disease, 1912, 1913, Ave. Includes Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Typhoid, Measles, Tub. Dis., etc.

Mr. Hobson told the house that the congressional section of the parade, led by Representative Runkler, of Colorado, consisted of more than 2000 representatives who, starting at arm length and four abreast, finally were crowded into single files by the crowding of the spectators and that the police "scolded with the ruffians."

Washington, March 4.—Congress, upon adjournment, was met by a group of supply bills, general deficiencies and Indian appropriation bills, and put through both houses. The deficiency bill was hung up in conference, and the Indian bill was marked in the senate when the two houses recessed from a little after four o'clock this morning, until 9:30 a. m., following a continuous all day session.

Two Cases Taken Up — Aldermanic Candidate Retires. Frederickton, N. B., March 4.—Judge McKewen presided at a sitting of the divorce court this morning. The divorce is asked for on statutory grounds and evidence taken in Brooklyn under a commission was read in court. Judgment was reserved.

With the steadily increasing population of this country, fruit lands are certain to grow in value constantly. This holds true for apple, peach, or orange acreage. The better class of lands are offered from time to time by reliable concerns in the Classified Advertising section of this newspaper.

WEARY MEMBERS IN ALL NIGHT SESSION IN HOUSE AT OTTAWA

FREDERICTON NOW SCENE OF BATTLE

Lobbying in Connection With The Street Railways IS MUCH ACTIVITY

On Suburban Bill Real Fight Will Be in House — The St. John Police Matter—The Golf and Country Club

Frederickton, N. B., March 4.—Most of the members are on hand today to resume the business of the province. Speaker Clarke has returned from his duties but there was nearly a complete absence of more importance yesterday afternoon. Premier Emmerson, returning from Woodstock, was carried by a missed connection at Fredericton Junction and a special had to be sent out from Fredericton to get him here in time for the session.

The morning the corporations and standing rule committee are in session and both there and in the lobby the county members are hearing more about the street railways, their fabulous cost and the expense of running them than ever they heard before.

Notable Diseases: From the report of the health officer, it is seen that the number of deaths in the city during the month of February, 1913, was 61, as compared with 58 in 1912 and 57 in 1911.

Want Torrens System and Think Government Will Meet Wishes — Other Important Requests. The delegation from the Barristers' Society, who were in Fredericton yesterday to lay several matters before the provincial government, returned to the city today well pleased with the results of their mission.

Another matter dealt with was the cost of advertising properties for sale on proceedings in the chancery division. At present the costs are large, in the cases of small properties sometimes almost equaling the value of the property. The government was asked to modify the requirements to lessen the cost.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Presents Amendment to Naval Bill

As Breakfast Time Came M. P's Were Stretched Over Seats Asleep or Slumbering With Heads on Desks—Liberals Declared Ready to Sit it Out Till Saturday

(Special to Times)

Ottawa, Mar. 4.—Parliament was still in session at 9:40 this morning after a continuous sitting of nineteen hours and the end was not yet in sight. During the night the debate proceeded on the amendment of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and was participated in by Messrs. Lemieux, Emmerson and MacKenzie in turn. Hon. Mr. Oliver led the Liberals after Sir Wilfrid retired at four o'clock, while Hon. Mr. Hazen was in direction of the government forces.

When daylight came on the first all night session the members were better natured than was to have been expected under the circumstances. Premier Borden left for home at three o'clock, and was back in his place by ten-thirty. Sir Wilfrid Laurier went home about the same time, but was not around so early in the morning. During his absence the opposition forces were led by Hon. Frank Oliver. Throughout the long hours of the night the light was continued, the speakers including Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, D. MacKenzie and Dr. Clark. Members remarked the opposition leader as he walked out of the chamber. An hour later he was back in the house and after a short speech moved the first amendment to the committee stage. It was the addition to the clause appropriating $55,000,000 that the words "for the speedy organization of a Canadian naval service in co-operation with and in close relation to the Imperial navy."

In support of his amendment that the appropriation of $55,000,000 be used for "The speedy organization of a Canadian naval service in co-operation with and in close relation to the Imperial navy," Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he saw in the approaching abolition of the treaty with the United States a danger to Canada on the Pacific coast, and it was there that a Canadian navy would be needed.

At three o'clock, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, in support of the amendment, he quoted in an editorial from the Ottawa Citizen, headed "Fright and Finance," which he said coincided with Mr. Laurier's views as to the incentive to this frenzied preparation. He reminded the house that this was from the organ of the government in the capital of the country. He declared himself in favor of the amendment, because it upheld the Anglo-Saxon principle of self-government. He was followed by Hon. Mr. Emmerson.

Another matter dealt with was the cost of advertising properties for sale on proceedings in the chancery division. At present the costs are large, in the cases of small properties sometimes almost equaling the value of the property. The government was asked to modify the requirements to lessen the cost.
