KING SQUARE WORK
Some of the business men on the north side of King square complain of lack of protection about the excavation for the School for the Deaf. It is said that on Saturday night a young man, while hurrying along that side of the square, tripped over the ropes that are used to warn passersby and fell headlong into one of the holes.

ENJOYED OUTING
Through the generosity of a prominent citizen the students and teachers of the School for the Deaf were enabled to enjoy a backboard drive to Rockwood Park on Saturday. The day proved very enjoyable for all, and the pleasure derived from the outing was exceeded only by the gratitude of the students and teachers to their benefactor for the kindness shown them. It may also be said that the same citizen has recently donated to the institution several games which are much appreciated.

AERIAL TRUCK TO BE WATER TOWER

That is Commissioner's Plan For Better Service — Stream of Water 250 Feet

An illustration of what the local fire-engines can do when in proper working order was given this morning on the McLeod wharf at the foot of Duke street. No. 3 engine has just been overhauled and filled with new rubber suction valves, and the test was made to show the result of the repairs.

The intake hose was dropped over the wharf and when the engine started it sent a stream from a 1 1/2 inch nozzle was sent a distance of fully 250 feet. Nos. 2 and 7 engines have been overhauled recently and No. 4 will go to the repair shops tomorrow to receive new suction valves and a general overhauling.

Commissioner McLellan is planning to convert the Hayes Aerial ladder truck, which has not proved of much use, into a water tower. This can be done at an expense of about $150, by placing an extension at the end of the extension and connecting a length of hose to it. This experiment has been tried in other cities and the result has been an efficient water tower which does the work of a regular tower costing thousands of dollars.

THE MARATHONS

It is expected that after this afternoon's game between the Marathons and St. Croix, Nolan, who has played second base since the beginning of the season, will sever his connection with the local club.

This afternoon's game was to begin at 8.15. The plan was to have either Tarbell or Dedrick on the mound for the Greeks and Conly probably doing the honors for the St. Croix aggregation. Lynch, who has been out of the game for about a week with an injured jaw, will resume his position at third for the St. Croix this afternoon.

THIS IS DOG DAY

Only Few Owners in Court In Response to Summons

Not more than a dozen dog owners appeared in court this morning in answer to charges of keeping dogs without a license. The cases of those who appeared, however, were taken up but on account of the policeman who made the report in some cases not being in court, hearing was adjourned until this afternoon.

Of the dozen who did appear, about as many different excuses were offered for their failure to procure the necessary permission to harbor a canine. Some said that they had procured licenses, either they had received the summons to appear in court, but they were asked to pay the cost of the summons, fifty cents which they did, and departed. One said that he gave his dog away to his aunt in Norton, while another said that his pet was now at Courtenay Bay. A young lady said that the dog belonged to her brother and anyway it was only a pup.

ST. JOHN AND THE G. T. P.

Merchants See Need For Action In The Interests of This City

The fact that no steps are being taken to provide terminal facilities at St. John to handle the business which will be coming east over the Grand Trunk Pacific and the National Transcontinental Railways next year is arousing the business men of this city. This feeling has grown the stronger since the visit of Premier Borden and the railway officials to Halifax where they promised all sorts of facilities. There is some feeling that St. John is to be side-tracked in favor of Halifax and around the streets this morning there were many expressions of the opinion that steps should be taken immediately to ascertain the government's intentions with regard to the city.

The fact that St. John is nearly 100 miles nearer the west than Halifax by the I. C. R. from Moncton and will be much nearer via the Valley Railway line when it is completed gives St. John men a strong argument why the traffic should be handled through this port.

WANTED TO TREAT THE STREET ROLLER TO DRINK

Here's An Odd One From Lower Cove—Police Court Prisoner in Nobby Array

Two men charged with drunkenness, were fined $8 or two months in jail each and one was remanded on a like charge. The last mentioned was arrested in St. James street by Policeman Ross, who said that he saw the prisoner walking up and down past the street roller, asking it to have a drink.

Michael Clancy, charged with breaking windows in a restaurant in Mill street, the damage amounting to $4, pleaded guilty and was remanded.

With long black coat, silk hat and cane, Knock Graves appeared on the prisoners' bench in the police court this morning. He was arrested last night by Policeman Kane after a rather strenuous day about town. There were three charges against him and he was remanded on all three. They were drunkenness, indecent action and fighting with Philip Bushan on Sunday last.

He pleaded not guilty to all the charges and the patrolman who made the arrest testified in reference to the first two and produced evidence in the fighting case will be heard tomorrow.

John McKenick pleaded not guilty to being drunk, addressing windows on the Marsh road and was remanded.

A young man who was arrested last night for breaking a window on charge of assaulting Frederick Carson by striking him with a bottle, cutting his face, pleaded not guilty and was remanded. Carson, who was held as a witness along with another man named Garter, appeared with his face covered with court plaster and testified that the prisoner had met him in the street and drawing a bottle from his pocket, struck him on the nose. The case was stood over until this afternoon.

HARBOR SEAL IS SENT TO TORONTO GARDENS

Animals For Rockwood Being Brought Here in Return

Yesterday afternoon a fine young seal which had become entangled in the nets of Messrs. Lord & Harmed on the West Side, was brought to the South Market Wharf, where it attracted considerable attention. It was in a large oak party filled with water and was being shipped by express for the Rockwood Park Zoological Gardens, Parks Department, at Toronto, in exchange for some animals promised to send to Rockwood Park here.

The scientific name of this animal is "Phoca vitulina." It is described in the American Cyclopaedia as being found in the waters of the shores of New Brunswick and sometimes on the coast of Maine. It occasionally makes its way up the rivers for some distance. It is usually called "harbor seal" because of its frequenting small bays and harbors, and was formerly much prized by Indians on account of its hide. Seals are said to be very tractable and are capable of being highly educated. This seal is a good looking specimen less than a year old and already weighs quite 100 pounds. A second seal is now wanted to make up the pair promised the Toronto Park in exchange. Any fisherman who finds one in his net is asked to capture it alive and without injury and to communicate at once with J. R. Armstrong, honorary treasurer of Rockwood Park.
