

ADDRESS PRESENTED TO MISS WHEELWRIGHT BY
THE LADY MANAGERS.

DEAR MISS WHEELWRIGHT.

In presenting you with this address the Lady Managers feel how inadequate it is to express the regret they feel that the long term of your connection with the Protestant Orphans' Home is drawing to a close. Such faithful and valuable services as you have rendered cannot ever be fully rewarded.

You must have the recompense in your own mind, of duty well done, often under very trying circumstances, for no one but yourself can enter into the many anxious moments you have spent with such a large family under your care, or the long period of twenty-eight years.

Many of those who were once little ones have come back as men and women to thank you for your motherly care of them in the "glorious old home" where they put in their younger days. As one expressed himself. "Following as you did its varied fortunes from the time it was a small struggling place to the Institution it is at present, you have helped with your own hands and means to make it a success, while your wise and judicious control has been admitted on all sides."

Accept the most sincere regret of the Lady Managers on receiving your resignation; they feel it will indeed be very difficult to find one who will prove such a true friend to the Home as you have always been.

And with affectionate wishes for your future health and welfare,

Ever dear Miss Wheelwright,

Very sincerely yours,

E. H. VAN KOUGHNET,
First Directress.

CHARLOTTE E. LEIGH,
Secretary.
