holy purpose to the heart and a new devotion to existence. That his work was a grand success everyone is now willing to admit. But that work to-day is threatened with a dry rot. The emphasis of its leaders for some time past been to secure money to extend the power of the organization. The effort has been to get the money and no questions would be asked. That wealth might be the outcome of the vilest swindling methods, it might come from unholly stock gambling or equally unholly land speculation. It may have come through the insidious manipulation of political questions and villainous taxation. No questions were asked, but great jubilation are uttered when the money is safely corralled and the work of the machinery is assured. But let any man go to any of the fashionable churches and ask questions as to the justice or injustice of the present social methods, why it is that one man may get a thousand dollars a day for doing nothing while men in sweatshops make overcoats for eighteen cents each and women are asked to make shirts at forty-five cents a dozen—let him have the audacity to ask these questions, and he will soon learn that he is in very unenviable surroundings.

thoroughly ingrained in the minds of the students would be the divine right of idleness to despoil industry. Does any one ever imagine that Carnegie would give a dollar to teach the villainy of the methods whereby he extorted the millions from the people of the United States? Or that a Rockefeller would allow the professors in the Chicago University to discuss the methods of the Standard Oil Company? Would he allow the book of Henry D. Lloyd, "Wealth Versus Commonwealth," to be placed among the text books? Let no one be deluded by such a hope. Some years ago the writer of this event to some trouble to urge that more attention be given to the subject of economics in the Provincial University with the hope that it would lead to enlightenment of the students on the great subject of human rights. His experience deters him from ever repeating the process.

"The Sale of Justice"
Herbert S. Bigelow's Interesting Sermon of Last Sunday.

Cincinnati, July 12.—"The Sale of Justice," Herbert S. Bigelow, in speaking on this subject to-day in the Vine Street Congregational Church, chose for a text, Isaiah 59: 14, 15: "And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street; and equity cannot enter. Yea, truth hath been forsaken, and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey." "We may not know how accurately these words of Isaiah described political conditions in Jerusalem. They are a severe indictment of an evil world. Yet I think few will deny that we have in our American cities to-day precisely that condition of affairs which these words describe. Illustrations are always at hand, and one does not need to go beyond the borders of his own municipality to find examples of tyranny which are submitted to with amazing indifference.

BUTCHER'S PIC-NIC WEDNESDAY NEXT
The Second Annual Barbecue To be Held at the Exhibition Grounds July 22nd.

CATTLE KILLING CONTESTS AND HORSE RACING
A Good Time for All at Very Little Expense is Promised by the Butchers—The Entertainment Takes Place Rain or Shine.

The second annual picnic of the Butchers' Union, 188, to be held at the Exhibition Grounds on Wednesday, July 22nd, promises to exceed anything of the kind ever held in Canada. Elaborate preparations are being made to accommodate a large crowd and to entertain them, while there. Besides the cattle killing and sheep killing contests and horse races, there will be a long list of games of all kinds to amuse the crowd. The catching of the slippery calf will alone be worth the price of admission.

Notes and Notelets
The announcement of the policy to be adopted respecting the transcontinental railroad is a mixture of iron and clay. That seems to be the character of governmental methods, always some sort of compromise, never a consistent principle. So far as the Government intends to build and own the road that is in the right direction. So far as giving the use of that road to one company for a term of years free, that looks very much like discrimination. If the road is to be surrendered to the control of any one company why did not the Government state the conditions on which the control would be transferred to a company and then ask for bids from different companies. Perhaps that would turn out a fiasco, but the special favor to one company seems very queer. Perhaps their explanation will make matters more plain.

A LABOR PARTY NEEDED.
Editor Toller: Now that organized labor has decided to appeal at the ballot box, the platform decided upon should be so broad that the benefits derived will be so far-reaching that every wage earner can see clearly that it is his duty to vote for it. When every worker quits voting for the old parties and votes as a wage receiver in our municipal, provincial and Dominion elections, then labor will have such a majority that it can secure the laws that are required to benefit all those who have to toil for their "daily bread."
Paul Lincoln.

warden refused to receive them, and they were set free.
"Now, what is the moral effect on the community of a government of privilege and plunder? It makes of every ward in the city a school where young men are taught that knavery is the open door to success. Under the influence of such a government the path of rectitude is covered with thorns, and virtue is called to the cross. In every boss-ridden city, to use the language of our text, 'he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey.'"

FREE SPEECH IN DANGER.
High-Handed—Proceedings—P.M. Denison Does Not Like Single Tax—Wants to Stop Street Speaking.

A few weeks ago the Single Tax Association commenced a series of weekly meetings upon the corner of Spadina Avenue and Queen Street, and a goodly number of citizens stayed to listen to the exposition of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man as expounded by the ardent disciples of Henry George. These doctrines naturally involved the equal right of all to the use of the bounties of the Creator, and deny the right of any man or body of men to appropriate to themselves all the value attaching to the possession of land in the heart of a great city, when that value is produced by the growth of the community and is not the result of individual effort.

"We remember that before boss Tweed was sent to prison some of the New York papers were speaking of him as 'our noble manufacturer.' Newspaper editors should be a little more discriminating in their praise.

"(An) man be generous who spends only other people's money? I wonder if editor ever heard the story of the huge profits of the Standard Oil Company in such a house in a certain ward in this city, the history of which throws some light upon the source of the money which is spent so freely.

"It is a four-story stone-front house. It was for sale. An individual called on the agent and offered a sum so ridiculously small in the opinion of the agent that it was promptly rejected. Soon the agent received notice from the building inspector that one wall of the house had a bulge in it and would have to be torn down, since it was dangerous. The agent received notice from the building inspector that one wall of the house had a bulge in it and would have to be torn down, since it was dangerous. The agent received notice from the building inspector that one wall of the house had a bulge in it and would have to be torn down, since it was dangerous.

The coal strike has been a blessing in disguise by waking the people up to a realization of their own helplessness and the nationalization of all necessities. Think of a few coal dealers in Winnipeg taking advantage of the present situation to make a fortune for themselves—How long will the people tolerate such a system?
