

SHOOT AT WAITER IN A RESTAURANT

Man Previously Ejected Fired
Across Head of Scores of Diners—Bullet Misses Mark

Boston, June 2.—A man with a loaded revolver in his hand entered the crowded grill room of the Hotel Crofton, 56 Elliot street, at 9 o'clock last night, levelled the weapon at the head waiter, who had ejected him a short time before, and fired across the heads of several score diners. Two women fainted in the excitement, but the bullet sped wide of the mark and buried itself in the wall.

The man was captured at Elliot and Washington streets after a brief struggle. At the Lagrange street police station he gave his name as William Williams, 26 years old, of Lynchburg, Va.

According to William Saffery, the head waiter, Williams had made previous attempts to injure him with a steel carving knife, as Saffery ejected him.

The head waiter, who lives at 7 Sea View avenue, Winthrop, said that Williams entered the cafe shortly after 8 o'clock, ordered a steak and drank several glasses of beer. At the conclusion of his meal, he started talking to two women at an adjoining table. Loud words followed, and Williams is said to have thrown a glass of beer in the face of one of the women.

Saffery went over to Williams and told him he would have to leave the restaurant. Williams refused, but he was finally put out by the rear door, vowing that he would get even.

Takes Steady Aim
Several minutes later Williams opened the front door of the grill room on Elliot street. Saffery was in a far corner of the restaurant. Williams looked about him for several seconds before he saw the head waiter. Then he raised the weapon and sighted it.

Women screamed and ducked behind chairs and tables as men called a warning at Saffery.

Williams fired and as he did so the head waiter dodged. The bullet went over his head, imbedding itself in the wall. Williams calmly placed the gun in his hip pocket and walked out of the door. Saffery, the waiters and several men who were in the cafe, chased him to Washington street, and with the assistance of Policeman Earle, subdued him and took the revolver from him.

The police declared that Williams, when arrested, was sober. He will be arraigned this morning on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

SCENE ON BOARD EMPRESS OF IRELAND JUST BEFORE DISASTER.

Salvation Army staff, captain preaching to emigrants on board the Empress of Ireland just before the ill-fated vessel was lost. There were many members of the army on board that went down with the vessel. One of the members, Commissioner David Rees, stood on the deck of the doomed vessel trying to persuade the passengers to keep cool and lend a helping hand to many. When the ship was almost under water one of his men shouted to him to jump for his life. He replied he would stand by his wife and children, and sank with the words, "O God, Thy will be done," on his lips.

Trouble in the Near East is by No Means Entirely Settled Yet

Formal Ending of Balkan War
Has Failed to Bring Peace
—Racial and Religious Strife in Thrace, Macedonia and Albania.

London, June 2.—The troubles of Mexico and Uster have wholly overshadowed public interest in the Near East during recent months. But the formal ending of the Balkan war has brought no rest to that long suffering region. Thrace, Macedonia and Albania are holding with racial and religious strife. Stories of fighting, of persecution and of massacres come to the London papers from all these countries, and are printed in small type with little comment. Europe has come to accept these conditions as a matter of course.

The charges of boundaries and of sovereignty which resulted from the peace treaties, and the launching of Albania as an autonomous state, are responsible for the new era of struggle and butchery. Every power concerned in the new allotments is trying to impress not only its laws but its own state religion upon those who have become its subjects. If the current historians are to be believed, forcible "conversions" by wholesale seem the order of the day. Between the Christian and the Mussulman discomfited, between Greeks, Turks, Bulgarians, Roumanians, Servians and Albanians, there is little choice of standards of civilization. Much of the information comes from Athens which presents events only from the standpoint of Greek interests; much is disseminated by the newspapers of Vienna, which is a fountain of canards.

The Turkish government is determined to drive the whole Greek population from Thrace, according to accounts from Greek sources. It has organized a campaign of oppression which is making life impossible for people of Greek affiliations in the country about Kirk Killise, Lala, Burgas and all the land which Bulgaria conquered in the first war and lost through the final treaty. By the Greek government, on its part, does not lack enterprise at oppression. If witness from non-Greek sources be credited, restrictive laws have been made so strong that 80,000 are leaving that once prosperous port. The handful of Greeks from Thrace seeking asylum, and of departing Jews, number between two and three thousand persons daily, so that all shipping is crowded and the normal life and business are as much disturbed as they were during the days of the war. An important factor of the upheaval is that both the Greeks of Thrace and the Jews of Salonika were the most prosperous peoples in those communities, and their expulsion means disaster and ruin to both.

Meanwhile the new ruler of Albania, Prince William of Wied who bears the title Mpret, is having a troublesome

Heart Pains, Headaches and Dreaded Insomnia

Fenian Raid Veteran Tells of the Terrors of Sleepless Nights From Exhausted Nerves—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Cured.

If the nervous energy expended during the day in work, worry and the activities of life is not restored by restful sleep at night there can be only one result to the nervous system—nervous collapse.

This letter tells of the terrors of long nights spent in tossing and fro in the vain effort to sleep. For three years Mr. Weaver battled on, only to find himself growing weaker and with heart pains and headaches which almost drove him wild.

Doctors did not succeed. In coming the terrible sleeplessness, but he fortunately heard of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and states in this letter that eight boxes of this great restorative cured him.

Mr. Jas. Wesley Weaver, a veteran of the Fenian Raid, Port Dalhousie, Ont., writes: "For years I was af licted with nervousness and dreaded insomnia, so that I never knew for three years what a full hour's sleep was, never more than dozing for a few minutes at a time. Heart pains and headaches almost drove me wild. I had spells of weakness and cramps in stomach and limbs.

"Though I tried several doctors, it was money wasted. Finally Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was brought to me, and eight boxes cured me. It is simply wonderful what benefit I have obtained from this treatment."

There are so many thousands of cases similar to this one on record that it seems folly to waste time on any other treatment when a nerve restorative is required. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 5c. a box, 4 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

honey-moon with his domain. Civil war, which customarily is the chief industry of that more than half barbarous principality is proceeding as usual. The Greeks claim 400,000 adherents out of the 550,000 inhabitants of the southern portion of the new Albania. These people of Epirus known as Epiotes refuse allegiance to the Mpret. Fierce fighting has been going on about Koritza, and the rebellion is said to be led by officers from the Greek Army. The Epiotes have the advantage of an organized army possessed of some artillery. Apart from a small force of gendarmes, some 1,500 or 2,000, the Albanians rely upon volunteers recruited from the Southern Albanian clan. No attempt to mobilize them has been made and they scatter along the coast with what bundles of old free and easy way dear to their hearts, but making the advance of a regular force an easy task. The Greek government disavows responsibility for the Greek officers who have cast their fortunes with their friends, but the feud is a religious one—Mussulman against Christian—and the animosity is far fiercer than in any mere political war. The worst tale of atrocity which the Near East has yielded in many days came from this field. The bodies of 200 Albanian Mussulmans were reported to have been found in a church at Corda all crucified alive. In the recent fighting in case of at least 300, on certain conditions, the bodies were returned to the Mpret, except when residence is performed in certain districts a homestead in good standing is presented as a guarantee. The homestead, Price $2 per acre. Dwellings—Six months residence and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homestead may live within the limits of the land in case of three years, cultivation 50 acres and erect a house worth $100.
