the prevention of child labor. He is also very deeply interested in Grace Vernon who, alas, loves another. To save the name of Grace's father from dishonor, "Frank Deering" accepts money to defeat the bill and thus sacrifices himself and his career. To him comes a vision of the pain and weariness of the children and next day openly in the Senate he confesses to receiving a bribe and the bill passes. He finds his reward in the happiness of Grace.

The scenes at Washington, in the included in "Heart Songs"—the musical library of song, now being placed with its readers by this paper. The coupon elsewhere in today's paper, explains the terms.
