

FROM ALL OVER THE MARITIME PROVINCES

MONCTON.

Moncton, Oct. 27.—No casualty on this part of the Intercolonial in recent years has caused so much talk and aroused such widespread interest as last Saturday night's fatality in which Martin Foley, policeman of Chatham, met such a horrible death and Station Agent Quilly, of Barnaby River, had such a miraculous escape.

The facts as brought out at the inquest cleared up some of the reports in circulation respecting the sad affair.

Driver Geo. Milne, who was on the Maritime express engine on the night in question, stated in his evidence that the headlight was put in this fact accounts for the men on the bicycle failing to notice the approach of the train. On Saturday night last something happened the carbon and as the engine men were unable to stop and fix it, the train was running without a headlight at the time the trolley struck.

The men on the trolley were depending to a large extent on the headlight for their guide, and it was out of the track and not knowing that it was out they kept on their way until Station Agent Quilly caught a glimpse of light from the fire box of the engine as she bore down upon them.

Quilly said he called out to his companion and barely had time to jump as the engine struck the trolley.

Quilly also said they were feeling their way along so to speak, as they expected the train any minute to stop, but they made a stop just west of Barnaby River and listened for a sound of the train. As they failed to hear they proceeded.

The trolley had reached a point inside the emporium at Barnaby River and the two men, still apprehensive, debated whether they should not take the siding until the Maritime passed. Depending on the light, however, they went on and just as they were rounding the curve a short distance from home Quilly caught a glimpse of the engine and hurried himself off the trolley.

Poor Foley never knew what struck him. Quilly's warning shriek no sooner reached his ears than he was with his back to the engine, was struck.

Quilly struck his head on a sleeper and was stunned for some time. He was able to rise, however, and in a dazed condition he started back towards Newcastle. When he came to his senses he returned to Barnaby River station and got in the trolley. He found himself in Campbellton concerning the terrible fate his companion met and his own narrow escape. Station Agent Quilly has a bit cut in the head, but he has resumed his duties as agent at Barnaby River.

The county has given rise to a good deal of talk among railway men as to the wisdom of allowing a bicycle speedily being used so promiscuously on the I. C. R. The people who use them are not only endangering their own lives, but are jeopardizing the lives of trainmen and passengers. It is said that there has been several instances of bicycle trolleys having narrow escapes on different sections of the road and it would not be surprising if the present lamentable affair should result in the curtailment of their use.

The Albert county municipal election take place on Tuesday next and the prospects are there will be contests in most of the parishes. As in other parts of the county a figure in Albert municipal contests, in Hillsboro the old councillors, Jordan Steves and Harvey J. Steves, are returned by acclamation.

In Hopewell Isaac C. Prescott and Capt. B. T. Carter are in the field as new men this year.

The old councillors are Messrs. Downey and Caruath.

In Coverdale Clifford Gross and Wm. J. Smith are running against S. S. Ryan and A. Leaman, old councillors. The former are anti-putrid candidates.

In Elgin W. B. Jonah and Jacob Steves are a ticket against John Garland and Wm. McKean.

In Alma Wm. Rickard and Cleveland are elected unopposed while George J. Prescott and Conn. Barbour have formed a ticket in the Conservative interest in Harvey.

W. R. Townsend, who has spent the summer in Moncton superintending the boring for oil near the city, leaves with Mrs. Townsend for New York tomorrow to spend the winter. Mr. Townsend intends returning to Moncton next spring with a large amount of capital and will resume boring on a large scale.

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 26.—(Special)—St. Bernard's church was the scene of a wedding event at 6.30 this morning, when John Dowd, of the I. C. R. engineering department was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Coffey, sister of T. L. Coffey, of this city. Only a few immediate friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Father Duke.

The bride formerly lived in St. John, where she is the daughter of the late T. J. Coffey, of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Dowd will leave on the Maritime express tonight on a wedding trip to Montreal.

Much disappointment is felt in football circles that the St. John team will not be able to play in Moncton Thanksgiving Day. The match being off, Moncton goes to Forest to play a reserve match. It is hoped to have the Mount Allison team play here Saturday.

Thanksgiving turkey is a scarce article in Moncton and chickens are about the only thing in the way of fowl available. A few turkeys of a very poor quality were offered this morning in the country market at fifteen cents per pound and goose at $1.25 each.

St. Martins, Oct. 23.—A very largely attended and deeply interesting meeting was held under the auspices of St. Martins Farmers' Institute No. 54, was held in Union hall, Fairview, on Tuesday evening, 24th inst. The chair was occupied by Michael Kelly. The meeting was addressed by the local government speakers, G. B. Cotterell, of Milton (Ont.), and Fred E. Sharp, of Midland, Kings county (N. B.). The gentlemen arrived by train on Tuesday afternoon and are guests at the inn.

Mr. Sharp, who was the first speaker, dealt lengthily and in a most interesting manner of the importance to the farmers of moisture and good seed in obtaining good crops.

Mr. Cotterell dealt exhaustively with the poultry question.

At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks, motioned by M. R. Daly, was unanimously tendered the speakers.

On Wednesday evening a large and enthusiastic audience greeted the speakers in Temperance hall, St. Martins. The chair was occupied by James Rouke, president of the farmers' institute. All the evening feeling well repaid for the two hours spent.

The speakers left on Thursday morning for Uplham, where they will continue their work.

H. Paxton Baird and Mrs. Baird, of Woodstock, are visiting friends in Grand Falls.

Bertrand Currier and Joseph O'Regan departed on Monday for the head waters of Little River on a moose hunt.

W. D. McLaughlin, of Boston, has been here for several days.

A few nights ago an employe on the C. P. R. stevedore fell through a window in the second story of the Hotel Minto, carrying the cash with him. Notwithstanding the height, the man was unharmed.

John Gibson, head boss for Donald Fraser & Sons, is visiting his family in town.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Church of the Assumption on Monday evening, when Father Joyner united L. E. Cyr and Miss M. Pezars in Holy Matrimony. A reception was held at the residence of the bride, attended by a large number of friends and neighbors.

PENOBSCUIS.

Penobscuis, Oct. 24.—(Special)—A peculiar shooting accident occurred here this afternoon. A lad named Walter Wellington was trying what was thought to be a defective cartridge in a 22-calibre rifle. Earl Gross, another little boy, was watching. The cartridge proved good for the vent off and the bullet went through the calves of both the Gross boy's legs, inflicting a rather serious injury. Dr. Pierson, of Sussex, was summoned and dressed the wounds. The lad will soon be well unless unexpected complications set in.

A white deer—now white—has been seen several times of late on Talbot Morton's farm. It is hoped the rare and beautiful animal will not be shot.

FREDERICTON.

Fredricton, Oct. 24.—(Special)—The law examinations, which have been going on here since last Tuesday, were concluded this afternoon, the candidates for attorney being the last to finish. The three candidates who wrote the intermediate examination finished work this morning. The examination has been a somewhat rigid one, but all the candidates think that they have succeeded in passing. The council of the Barristers' Society will pass upon the papers before the result is made public. The successful candidates, along with several graduates from the St. John Law School, will be sworn in at the next Michaelmas term of the supreme court.

Judge Wilson presided at the October town today. There was no business and the judge adjourned the court in time to return home by the afternoon boat.

In reference to the case of Miss Mary Kelly, who was given some undesired newspaper notoriety a few days ago, tonight's Herald has the following:

Miss Mary Kelly, about whom a sensational item appeared in a local paper last Saturday, returned from St. John last evening, accompanied by her brother, Fred Kelly, clerk in the shipping room at Palmer's tannery. Miss Kelly went to St. John for a short visit, but on reading the sensational account of her sudden appearance in a St. John paper yesterday morning, immediately returned home in order to show her friends that she was innocent of any wrong doing.

When Miss Kelly left home she owed the lady with whom she boarded lately a week's board, which she intended to pay on her return, and has since done so. She also had a gold ring belonging to a girl which she had borrowed some days before she left home. She obtained the ring innocently borrowing each other's rings.

The young lady, who is of a bright disposition and has many friends here, was accused of stealing and made the victim of so much unnecessary newspaper notoriety.

The item referred to was taken from a Fredericton newspaper.

The late Mr. Duplessis was for many years auditor of Sunbury county, was well and favorably known through the county. The funeral took place this afternoon under the auspices of the Orange Lodge of Truro, of which the deceased gentleman was for years a prominent member.

Several of the Miramichi lumber operators have crossed in the woods at work. It is estimated that the cut will be about the same as last year. Wages are ruling high, $2 in some cases being paid good men. Before the shutting down of the mills some operators wanted to send in their men to the woods, and they had to bid high in wages. This, together with the fact that the men are getting a higher rate in Maine this year than last, has tended to make the wages on the Miramichi higher.

The funeral of the late John Brown, who was drowned in Winnipeg River last week, took place at Maugerville this morning and had a very large attendance. The interment was made in the Raymond burying ground. The funeral was under the auspices of Court Maugerville, I. O. O. F.

McAdam Junction, Oct. 23.—K. Howard, who for four years has filled the position of station agent here has departed for Fredericton to take a similar position in that city. On Saturday evening he was the guest of honor at a banquet given by his many Madam friends. The Station House dining room was prettily decorated with flags and covers were laid for twenty-five. After justice had been done to the sight course dinner the following toasts were given: The King, The President, The Guest of the Evening, The Hosts. Mr. Howard was then presented with a silver tea service, accompanied by the following address:

McAdam, Oct. 21, 1905.

Dear Sir: We, a number of your Madam friends, desire to take this opportunity of communicating to you the deep regret which we all feel at your departure from our midst.

During the four years of your residence here you have proved yourself a good citizen and a faithful friend, whose influence has always been exerted for the betterment of the social and moral welfare of our town, and whose generous heart and helping hand has always joyfully responded to the call of every object which was true and worthy.

We also wish to express to you our best wishes for your success in your new field of labor with the assurance that an special separation can ever weaken, or sever those strong ties of friendship which bind us closely together in mutual respect and affection.

Yours truly,
Stott & Jory, Baymanville, Ont.

KARS.

Kars, Kings county, Oct. 23.—On Saturday evening, 21st inst., a very enjoyable and successful concert was held in the Temperance Hall at Downville. The evening was everything to be desired, and a large audience assembled. The program consisted of: Gramophone selections by David Jones; readings and recitations by Alex. Bard, of St. John; dialogues, tableaux, music, etc., of a highly entertaining character by three young people of the community.

This concert was given up largely through the efforts of Miss Cora A. Sherrin, assisted by Miss Agnes Brown, both popular teachers in Kars. The proceeds will go towards repairing the church.

CHATHAM.

Chatham, Oct. 24.—A meeting of the Farmers' Institute was held in the town hall last evening. A. G. Dickson presiding. After short addresses by Mayor Nicol and Lt. Governor Snowball, W. F. Stebbins, of Huntington, Quebec, spoke on Soil and Tillage. He had once thought there was very little fertile land in New Brunswick, but had found by observation that it was one of the best agricultural provinces in the Dominion. There was much fertile land along the Miramichi and St. John rivers, and one reason why farmers were not making a success of their work it was because they were not masters of the situation and did not keep up with the times.

The address was practical and instructive and was discussed, Mr. Stephen answering many questions relating to the subject of his discourse.

C. F. Alward, of Havelock, Kings Co., spoke on Drainage, dwelling particularly on the best kind of feed. He also said there should be an abundance of drinking water at a convenient distance at regular hours for milking. The discussion followed and Mr. Alward was asked what kinds of feed were best to produce milk instead of fat.

Bishop Inglis left last night for Rome. Just before his departure solemn benediction was held in the pro-cathedral, immediately after which, "The Tene Brae" was chanted by the visiting clergy.

The funeral of the late Martin Foley, of Barnaby River, was held this afternoon and was very largely attended; besides many from Newcastle and Nelson there were about 125 Chatham citizens in the procession. Rev. Edward Bannan conducted the solemn services and the interment was in the Roman Catholic cemetery, Barnaby River. The pall-bearers were Ald. Gallivan, George Harper, T. M. Gagnon, William S. Delaney, J. Sweeney and Jeremiah McCormick.

GAGETOWN.

Gagetown, Oct. 23.—Judge Wilson, of Fredericton, was here yesterday for county court, and returned home by the afternoon boat, as there were no cases entered for trial.

The reading circle of the Epworth League gave an art at home at the Methodist parsonage has evening, from 7.30 to 10 o'clock, which proved a very pleasant function. More than fifty guests personally acknowledged their invitation and enjoyed games and social intercourse for upwards of an hour after which an entertaining programme of addresses, recitations and music was carried out. Cake and coffee were served at the close. The league is also endeavoring to augment the parsonage repair fund for expenses incurred for repairs to the parsonage already under way, and the proceeds of a lecture entitled Alfred Austin, Poet Laureate of England, given by Rev. Mr. Kirby, pastor of the Methodist church, in the Temperance hall Thursday evening, 26th, will go to that fund.

No. 1200—Boys' Suit. An attractive style for little men, consisting of a Milano blouse and knickerbockers. The blouse of cotton chevrot has an odd side-fastening outlined with black velvet. A patent leather belt gives a smart touch. The knickerbockers may be of black velvet or of the blouse material as preferred. The pattern is cut in sizes 4, 6 and 8 years. Size 6 years requires one yard of 31 inch material for the blouse, and 1 1/4 yards of 27 inch material for the knickerbockers. If blouse and knickerbockers are made of the same material, 1 3/4 yards, 54 inches wide, would be required. Price, 10 cents.

Persons wishing to buy any one of these patterns can do so by sending this coupon and ten cents to The Telegraph office.

CHATHAM.

Chatham, Oct. 24.—A meeting of the Farmers' Institute was held in the town hall last evening. A. G. Dickson presiding. After short addresses by Mayor Nicol and Lt. Governor Snowball, W. F. Stebbins, of Huntington, Quebec, spoke on Soil and Tillage. He had once thought there was very little fertile land in New Brunswick, but had found by observation that it was one of the best agricultural provinces in the Dominion. There was much fertile land along the Miramichi and St. John rivers, and one reason why farmers were not making a success of their work it was because they were not masters of the situation and did not keep up with the times.

The address was practical and instructive and was discussed, Mr. Stephen answering many questions relating to the subject of his discourse.

C. F. Alward, of Havelock, Kings Co., spoke on Drainage, dwelling particularly on the best kind of feed. He also said there should be an abundance of drinking water at a convenient distance at regular hours for milking. The discussion followed and Mr. Alward was asked what kinds of feed were best to produce milk instead of fat.

Rev. Edward Bannan conducted the solemn services and the interment was in the Roman Catholic cemetery, Barnaby River. The pall-bearers were Ald. Gallivan, George Harper, T. M. Gagnon, William S. Delaney, J. Sweeney and Jeremiah McCormick.

GAGETOWN.

Gagetown, Oct. 23.—Judge Wilson, of Fredericton, was here yesterday for county court, and returned home by the afternoon boat, as there were no cases entered for trial.

The reading circle of the Epworth League gave an art at home at the Methodist parsonage has evening, from 7.30 to 10 o'clock, which proved a very pleasant function. More than fifty guests personally acknowledged their invitation and enjoyed games and social intercourse for upwards of an hour after which an entertaining programme of addresses, recitations and music was carried out. Cake and coffee were served at the close. The league is also endeavoring to augment the parsonage repair fund for expenses incurred for repairs to the parsonage already under way, and the proceeds of a lecture entitled Alfred Austin, Poet Laureate of England, given by Rev. Mr. Kirby, pastor of the Methodist church, in the Temperance hall Thursday evening, 26th, will go to that fund.
