Hon. Mr. Lemieux Shows Up Borden's Anti-British Allies

and Other Nationalists in Election Campaign
Amid Great Disorder--Liberals Back Up His Statements Much to the Consternation of the Tories--Laurier's Amendment Defeated--Only Four Voted for Nationalist Amendment.

Ottawa, Dec. 6.—There were lively scenes in parliament today. The speaker had his hands full to keep debating order and its success was not great. The campaign in Quebec was the main item on the agenda today, as it has often been in the past. Sir Rodolph Forget opened the sitting in a speech which touched upon the province of Quebec, and to some of his financial transactions for which government aid has been sought. Sir Rodolph declared that the marine railway had been promised to the electors by the late Mr. Tarte, when minister of public works, by Hon. P. D. Morin, when minister, and he (Sir Rodolph) had told the electors he believed that Hon. Mr. Rogers would carry out Mr. Morin's pledge and that the best way to insure this was to elect Mr. Morin, the government candidate in the by-election. Hon. Mr. Lemieux and Mr. Marcell (Bago) arose about the electors that he had the pledge of Mr. Rogers that the work would be done and the speech had been so reported in the Conservative newspapers.

Lemieux's Hot Shot.
Hon. Mr. Lemieux followed Sir Rodolph and said that he was not surprised the knight of Charlevoix had not abandoned the minister who used him. "He needs a hot shot," he said, "and he is in business."

Mr. Lemieux read a statement from the Montreal Witness that the interest on the Quebec Light, Heat & Power bonds was due in December, and would be paid, the necessary financial arrangements having been made by Sir Rodolph Forget. He had also sought the assistance of the government to life the Quebec & Saguenay line out of its present collapsed condition.

"I deny that in toto," interrupted Sir Rodolph. "Sir Rodolph Forget is literally dead, owing to the interest on the bonds for the Quebec Light, Heat & Power bonds."

"While Mr. Rogers was seeking to have the electors of a future election a cut of the cement duties," said Mr. Lemieux, "Postmaster-General Pelletier was seeking to bribe the electors of Quebec with the promise of a future election of the cement duties. This is corruption, and the premier must give a searching investigation into the elections of Hon. Mr. Forget and the electors of the cement duties."

With the deputy speaker calling impatiently for order, while the government benches shouted in protest, the speaker being heard, Hon. Mr. Lemieux concluded a telling arraignment of the government in its handling of the national policy in the campaign of 1911. He pointed out that in dealing with Hon. Mr. Rogers and Sir Rodolph Forget, the eloquent ex-postmaster-general, the Liberal government had shown a lack of Canadian spirit in the sending of Canadian troops to South Africa was the test of Liberal imperialism; and the Laurier naval policy, the development of a Canadian fleet not to take its part in imperialism.

Preceding Mr. Lemieux dealt with the Nationalist policy, as advocated by the Nationalist wing of the Liberal government. "No navy, no contribution, we owe nothing to England." This was the kind of literature that Mr. Ames, King Jingo of the jingoes, paid the poet office to spread over the provinces. The Conservative Nationalist orators talked about a "deplorable plot" against Laurier, Borden and Earl Grey and added Mr. Lemieux, "the loudest shouters and the most persistent shriekers are now in this Borden government."

Mr. Lemieux, of Nicolet, wanted to know if, when it was stated that Canada owed nothing to England, it was not Sir Richard Cartwright who was being quoted. (Conservative applause.) "It fools three be," replied Mr. Lemieux, "who are trying to get the coat of arms of the gallant old knight, I pity them."

"A half quoted phrase is a lie. The minister for Nicolet was himself one of the worst offenders, though he was less responsible than the postmaster-general, who had been a member of the Quebec government and had taken the oath of loyalty to the king. In a few days now we shall learn how many of these demagogues jettisoned their principles for other and the truth and how many have brass enough to repeat in parliament what they said in Quebec."

"I charge the postmaster-general, the minister of inland revenue, and the secretary of state with having made statements during the election campaign that they dare not repeat in this house."

"We of the old rouse party, led by the old chief (prolonged Liberal cheering) fought the demagogues as best we could. We stood for a sane imperialism and a sane Canadianism."

Called Rainville's bluff.
"If the member for Rouville can show, even in a newspaper, clipping, where he ever said such things I am willing to resign," interrupted Mr. Rainville. "I heard him say so at a meeting in Chambly-Verchères," put in Medrie Martin, of St. Marie, amid Liberal cries of "Resign!"

Mr. Lemieux produced copies of Le Nationaliste, and read reporting articles of Mr. Rainville in which he declared that "Borden had allied himself to Laurier and that the naval business" and that of Laurier in which he declared that "Laurier had allied himself to Borden and that the naval business."

"Who said that?" queried Mr. MacLennan. "The member for Chambly-Verchères, the new jingo, the gentleman who is anxious to resign," replied Mr. Lemieux amid further cries of "Resign! Resign!"

"Reading from another reported speech by Mr. Rainville, Mr. Lemieux asked, speaking of Armand Lavigne, had he said that England would let the British Empire take Canada, and that England had always refused Canada what she asked."

"The first prize goes to the member for Chambly-Verchères, but the second prize of laurels and gold medal for this kind of talk belongs to the postmaster-general," Mr. Lemieux declared, amid more uproar. "Lemieux was shouting 'Resign!' at Rainville, and Conservatives 'Take it back!' to Mr. Lemieux."

Mr. Rogers rose and led the shouting. "I take it back! I shall have to resign," cried Mr. Lemieux, his eyes and voice. "I am not a Nationalist, his gospel and yours," cried Mr. Lemieux, when Mr. Pelletier shouted again to the deputy speaker to make him "take it back."

"Take it back!" screamed Mr. Pelletier. "Take it back!" screamed Mr. Pelletier. "No, no," responded Mr. Lemieux, shaking his head. "It is too true."

Mr. Pelletier rose and protested. "The member for Rouville has not been courteous and civil to members of this house. He said that the member for Chambly-Verchères had said that Canada owed nothing to England. The member denies it, and he has got to take it back."

"I say he said worse than that," persisted Mr. Lemieux, while the house was in an uproar of contradictory shouts of "Resign!" and "Take it back!"

"The country will learn what kind of proceedings we have here," shouted Mr. Pelletier over the din.

"Take it back!" shrieked the Conservatives in the pandemonium.

"He won't take it back, and there's no good trying to make him," shouted Mr. Pelletier, while the Liberals cheered Mr. Lemieux.

"Resign! Resign!" cried Medrie Martin. "It's true, I heard him say it myself. Let him carry out his promise and resign."

For several minutes the deputy speaker labored for order, and as soon as it was restored Mr. Pelletier precipitated another uproar by calling in question Mr. Lemieux's stand on reciprocity.

"The member for South Wellington rose instantly. 'I did say during last session that in my opinion reciprocity was dead,' said Mr. Guthrie, 'but no one understood my position, it favored reciprocity then. I think it is right now. I have changed my opinion. When I spoke I meant that it was not then the immediate sense before me, I am for it now as much as ever before me.'"

There were now Liberal demands on Mr. Pelletier to "take it back."

The postmaster-general stated he would accept the word of the member for South Wellington, and order was finally restored.

Amendment Defeated.
The house divided at midnight on Sir William Laurier's amendment, declaring that ministers had committed at improper practices in MacDonald and Ribblesdale. The amendment was defeated, the vote being 119 to 71, an adverse majority of 48.

Mr. Mondon moved his amendment declaring that there should be no naval appropriation until the people had been appealed to.

The Mondon amendment was defeated by a majority of 179, only four members voted for it. These were Messrs. Achin, Mondon, Lemarche and Barrett. Nationalist members of the Conservative Liberal, who were led by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, voted solidly against the motion.

The house adjourned at 1 o'clock. The naval announcement will be made Thursday.

AMERICAN SOCIETY BUT GREECE REFUSED

Fear Allies Have Split Grecians Said to be Jealous of Bulgarians and May Continue the War Alone— Peace Conference Likely to be Held in London.

London, Dec. 6.—The protocol arranging an armistice was signed last evening by the Turkish and Bulgarian delegates, the latter representing also Serbia and Montenegro. Prior to this there had been a long sitting of the Turkish council of ministers for the purpose of considering proposals submitted by the allies.

Apparently the Greek delegate did not sign the protocol. At present nothing is known on this point, nor of the terms of the armistice as revised today.

The refusal of Greece to sign the armistice is susceptible of different interpretations. It may be that Greece is not ready to accept a general principle of the peace terms, such as would promise the speedy arrangement of a peace treaty when the conference meets, as is now expected in London. In this case the Greeks are standing out from the armistice protocol would not be of great importance.

Have the Allies Split?
In the second place, the Greek abstention may mean a serious split among the allies, arising from the fact that the possession of Saloniki, and the insistence of the Greeks on the capitulation of Adrianople, Scutari and Janina.

There is a rumor in Sofia that a suggestion is being made in Sofia that a suggestion is being made to substitute Rumania for Greece in the Balkan league. It seems clear from the report that Bulgaria recently sought to conclude a separate treaty of peace with Greece, that Bulgaria is not unwilling to enter into an alliance with Turkey and that the allies are desirous that Turkey shall enter the Balkan customs league.

Other points which may influence the situation are to be found in the fact that Turkey recently sought to conclude a separate treaty of peace with Greece, that Bulgaria is not unwilling to enter into an alliance with Turkey and that the allies are desirous that Turkey shall enter the Balkan customs league.

CURED BY VEEDEV

Astonishing Claims of the Marvellous Veedee "Made Good" Before Enthusiastic Audiences Yesterday at the Institute Hall Walk, the Deaf Hear, Pains Instantly Stopped

Scenes of unbounded enthusiasm marked the proceedings yesterday at the Institute Hall, 119 Princess Street, when the Veedee Demonstrators gave their second and third Free Demonstrations in St. John. Both in the afternoon and in the evening large audiences gathered in spite of the bad weather. Those present for the most part seemed to be sufferers, if one could judge by the lame manner in which they walked and the thin careworn look on the faces of nearly all. One wondered where St. John hid so many poor sufferers.

INTERESTED AUDIENCES.
Sharp to time the lecturer came forward, and quietude at once reigned. In plain, simple language he commenced by stating the reasons the Veedee company adopted the lectures and demonstrations to bring the Veedee before the public and to show the sufferers from the disease and strongly warn people against building up hopes for any such result.

Dr. Friedman is so deluged with letters of pathetic pleas for treatment and by telegraphic and cable requests from physicians for the serum and offers to buy the right that for the moment his work has almost stopped. Dr. Friedman will not distribute the serum until he is properly protected in the principal countries, but will personally treat cases here. He will open an institute in Berlin next week. Up to the present he has treated about 1,100 cases.

THE CASES TREATED.
Now came the most interesting portion of the programme. Cases were called for. A call was made for people who were at that moment suffering pain, and up shot a dozen people in various parts of the hall. A number were invited to come forward. Then came of Scatica, Rheumatism, Deafness, Gout, Rheumatoid Arthritis, and Paralysis were treated by the Veedee. As one watched the old men or women hobbling up, the thought must have come instinctively into every breast "What a blessing it would be if these poor souls could only find relief!" Many that night did so. Men and women whose limbs had been bent up for years, and who had suffered a martyrdom of pain, found their senses restored, and limbs and loins and the pain entirely banished. Dead patients' faces were seen to light up joyfully when they realized that they could bear again. Sufferers from weak eyes testified in no uncertain manner to the marvellous powers of the Veedee in strengthening the eyes. Round after round of applause followed every case as the sufferers testified of the improvement and relief obtained from the treatment received.

THE VEEDEV AS CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.
The reputation of the Veedee and its value have been so thoroughly established throughout the British Isles, and in Europe generally during the last seven years that it has become of recent occurrence there for many people to present their suffering friends and relatives with a Veedee at Christmas time and such a useful gift was always greatly valued and appreciated. In fact the demand for Veedees was so great at this season for that purpose that the company provides a very handsome presentation case containing the complete outfit at a very little extra cost.

WHAT SUFFERERS SHOULD DO.
If possible go the week on any week day between 11 a. m. and 6 p. m., or on Saturday or Tuesday evenings from 8 to 9 p. m. to 78 Charlotte street, corner of Broad Street, and avail yourself of the opportunity of trying what this wonderful invention will do for you. If, on the other hand, you live too far away, then write to the Veedee Demonstrator and
