

mond, Ont., where he remained in general practice till the spring of 1864, when he removed to Montreal. Here he practised till his appointment to the position of superintendent of the Quebec Lunatic Asylum in 1865, which office he resigned in 1869, after four years' residence, to return to general practice at Pakenham, Ont. At the latter place he remained for ten years, removing to Brockville in May, 1879. Since removing to Brockville, Dr. Pickup has led an active professional life, and has taken a zealous interest in the progress of the town. He is now president of the Brockville Medical and Surgical Association.

Conley, Thomas, Kempville, Ontario, was born on the 2nd of August, 1841, in the County of Antrim, Ireland. He is a son of Robert and Mary (Stewart) Conley, both of whom still reside in Antrim, having passed their 74th birth-day. Thomas Conley received a public school education, and served his apprenticeship in Belfast to the business of merchant tailor. In 1858, he emigrated to New York, remaining in the United States until the fall of 1862, when he came over to Canada, settling in the following year at North Gower, where he commenced business for himself. On July 26th, 1863, Mr. Conley married Margaret Jane, daughter of Henry Mulvaugh, a gentleman who fought as a volunteer at the Windmill, near Prescott, in the winter of 1838, in defence of Canada. In 1867, Thomas Conley assisted in raising No. 4 company, 43rd battalion, and was chosen first lieutenant. In 1869, he took command of the company, and in May, 1870, was ordered out on active service at Fort Wellington, Prescott, where he passed a military examination before the board. On October 18th following, he was gazetted captain and received his certificate as an efficient officer, and also a commission as captain, signed by Lord Monck, who was then governor-general of Canada. In March 1873, Mr. Conley resigned his command owing to ill health, and in the same summer he paid a visit to his native home, returning in the fall. In April, 1874, he moved to Kemptville, and has been engaged there since that time, in the pursuit of his trade as merchant tailor. In 1876, he was elected councillor; in January, 1880, was elected reeve of the village, and this latter position he held until 1886, when he retired. In 1884, Mr. Conley was elected warden of the united counties of Leeds and Grenville, and it can justly be said that during his term as reeve, and in a large degree, owing to his exertions, the town improved in many important ways. A steam fire-engine was purchased, an efficient fire company was enrolled, and Mr. Conley was elected chief, a position which he held for three years, when he retired. Mr. Conley became a member of the Orange Association in 1863, and a member of the Black Chapter, having occupied the position as master. In January, 1868, he became a member of Goodwood lodge, No. 159, A. F. A. M., at Richmond. He assisted in establishing a lodge at North Gower, No. 206, and was elected worshipful master for three terms. On settling in Kemptville, he became a member of Mount Zion lodge, No. 28, and was elected worshipful master for 1885. In March, 1885, he became a member of the Royal Arch Chapter at Ottawa, No. 16, Carleton Chapter. In politics Mr. Conley has always been a Liberal-Conservative, and taken a deep and active interest on behalf of his party and in the interests of the country. He has all his life been a Methodist, his father's family being among the first adherents of John Wesley, but formerly belonged to the Presbyterian church. His first wife died on October 20th, 1875, leaving four sons, all of whom are living. He again married in June, 1877, Letitia, daughter of William McLoughlin, of South Gower. By the latter marriage, there are one son and three daughters. A very fair measure of success has attended Mr. Conley's exertions, which may be attributed to his high personal integrity, his constant industry, and good business capacity. He has travelled through the greater portion of this country and through the United States, and as a place of residence and business, declares that he would not have any difficulty in giving the preference to the free and thriving Province of Ontario.

Montgomery, Hon. Donald, Senator, Park Corner, Prince Edward Island, was born at Princetown, Prince Edward Island, on the 19th January, 1808. He is the sixth son of the late Daniel Montgomery, who emigrated from Argyleshire, Scotland, to Prince Edward Island, upwards of a century ago, and who for thirty-five years represented Prince county in the Provincial Assembly. His mother was, before marriage, Miss Penman of New England. Donald Montgomery attended school at Princetown, and received an ordinary English education. He began when a very young man to give attention to public questions, and when he reached his thirtieth year, he was elected for Princetown to the Provincial Assembly of the island, in which
