Interrelationship of Public and Private Welfare Work.

Mr. R. F. Thompson, Deputy Commissioner of Public Welfare, spoke of the interrelationship of public and private social work organization. He told of the co-ordination of the former isolated departments dealing with welfare work in the City Hall under the new Department. These included the Division of Hospitalization under Mr. Rooney, the Accounting Department, the Family Work Division under Miss Hamah Matheson, Central Bureau of Single Homeless men under Captain Heron, and the Civic Employment office under Mr. Parker.

With regard to relief work Mr. Thompson stated that three day shifts were being got under way for married men following a house to house investigation of all registered. It was hoped that a certain percentage of the single men would be absorbed in the highway construction work.

Mr. Thompson stated that Wellington House was being opened almost immediately with accommodation for 350 men and that other hostels would be opened as seemed necessary.

In conclusion Mr. Thompson pointed out that the Public Welfare Department wish to strengthen the hands of private social work as it finds expression in the three Federations. It was his belief that interpretation to the general public of the object and method of social work was vitally necessary if progress were to be made. The ordinary citizen must realize that social work is something more far-reaching and deeper than material relief, yet not so professional that the fundamental needs of clients are not readily met.

The meeting adjourned.
