

- of the mission to the Sioux Indians, ii. 27.
- Perrot, Nicolas, a famous coyageur, ii. 3; built a fort at Lake Pepin, ii. 6 and note, 27.
- Perrot, Fort, built by Nicolas Perrot, ii. 6 and note.
- Perry, Professor A. L., ii. 254 note.
- Perry, John, Mrs., a war prisoner on the march from Fort Massachusetts, ii. 266.
- Petit Lorembee, several Englishmen captured and killed at, ii. 143.
- Petition, to General Court for compensation of losses from the Indian attack on Deerfield, i. 64 note.
- Petty, —, escapes from Indian captivity, i. 83.
- Petty's Plain, near Deerfield, i. 53.
- Phillips, Governor Richard, concerning the government of Annapolis, i. 190; advises recall of French priests from Acadia, i. 195; orders the Acadians to swear allegiance to George I., i. 198; succeeded by Lieutenant-Governor Armstrong, i. 200.
- Phillips, an illicit trader, ii. 103.
- Phippeny, —, killed by Indians at Casco, Me., i. 43.
- Phipps, Hon. Spencer, mentioned, ii. 257 note.
- Phips, Sir William, mentioned, i. 97, 169; captured Port Royal, i. 149.
- Pickering, Lieutenant, killed by the French in their attack on Grand Pré, ii. 210.
- Pierce, Captain, killed at siege of Louisbourg, ii. 127.
- Pigiquid, now Windsor, i. 201.
- Pine Hill, on the banks of the Saco, i. 247.
- Pinet, Jesuit missionary, established the village of Cahokia, i. 317.
- Piscataqua River, a view of from Kittery Point, ii. 92.
- Pisiquid (now Windsor), an Acadian village, ii. 206.
- Pitt, William, mentioned, i. 156, 176.
- Placentia, a French station in Newfoundland, i. 127; the people of, ordered to evacuate, i. 181.
- Plaisted, Elisha, married to Hannah Wheelwright, i. 49; captured by Indians on his wedding-day, i. 50; ransomed, i. 51.
- Platte River, ii. 21.
- Plessis, Joseph. Bishop of Quebec, i. 86.
- Plymouth, Mass., i. 117.
- Pomeroy, Seth, gunsmith of Northampton, ii. 108; at battle of Bunker Hill, ii. 108; saluted by General Putnam, ii. 108; major in expedition against Louisbourg, ii. 108; extract from his diary at the siege of Louisbourg, ii. 109; at the Grand Battery, ii. 119; his journal cited, ii. 161 note.
- Pomeroy, Theodore, Esq., ii. 109 note.
- Ponchartrain, M. de, approves Cadillac's plan for occupation of Detroit, i. 25; concerning the Indian warfare, i. 98; gossiping letters sent to him from Port Royal, i. 114; concerning the designs of England against Massachusetts, i. 151.
- Ponchartrain, Fort, built at Detroit, i. 26, 269.
- Pontoosuc (Pittsfield), settlement, ii. 245.
- Poqde, Mr., i. 132 note.
- Porpoise, Cupe, Me., attacked by Indians, i. 42.
- Port à l'Anglois (Louisbourg), a fortress to be built at, i. 180.
- Port Royal (Annapolis), the seat of government at Acadia, i. 108; the inter-dissensions at, i. 109; official gossip at, i. 113; the claim of "The Church" for authority, i. 113; Colonel Church nt, i. 119; an expedition sent to, by Governor Dudley, i. 121; the attack upon, i. 122; proves a failure, i. 125; the New England colonies determine to attack, i. 140; an attack to be made upon, i. 144; arrival of the squadron at, i. 145; Nicholson and Vetch land at, i. 146; capitulates to the English, i. 148; name changed to Annapolis Royal, i. 148.
- Portsmouth, England, i. 131.
- Portsmouth, N.H., place of assault of the French, i. 3; troops sent for defence against the Indians at, i. 47; an attack upon intended by the Indians, i. 92.
- Poskoiac, River, ii. 35.
- Pottawntamic Indians, a tribe of the Far Indians, i. 11; settled about Detroit, i. 265.
- Pottawattamic, the village of, i. 269.
- Pontrincourt, Baron de, i. 109.
- Powder River Range, ii. 44.
- Preble, Captain, an English officer at Grand Pré, ii. 214.
- Prentice, Rev. —, mentioned, ii. 133.
- Price, —, a militia officer at Haverhill, i. 94.
- Prince, Rev. Thomas, quoted concerning the backsliding of his flock, ii. 95.
- "Prince d'Orange," French war-ship, ii. 176.
- Privateers, encroach on Acadian fisheries, i. 107.
- Proceedings of Mass. Hist. Soc.*, i. 66 note.