SUMMER RESORTS.

The pleasure seeker who wishes enjoyment will do well not to confine himself too closely to the City. There are many pleasant drives and walks which will amply repay him for the trifling expenditure of the time and money they will cause. First, may be named the drive to Rustico. This place can be reached by Rail to Hunter River, at which place one of Bagnall's coaches is always in readiness to transfer the tourist to the Seaside Hotel, Rustico, a distance of about 7 miles. If the traveler prefers it, however, he can procure a team at one of the livery stables, and leave the City by the Malpeque Road, and after passing through "Curtisdale," and other pretty villages, he will arrive at Rustico Beach, after a beautiful drive of two and a half hours, where he may safely surrender himself unto mine host of the "Seaside Hotel," Mr. John Newson, who will make his stay pleasant and agreeable. The Mackerel and Cod fishing at the "Seaside Hotel" are unequalled,—Boats leave for the Mackerel grounds daily. This Hotel offers superior inducements to the tourist. Delightful surf bathing may be indulged in, together with boating, fishing, and the usual sports calculated to make a stay at this place of the most pleasant character. The Hotel is open from May to October.

"The Island Park Hotel," situated on an Island, opposite Summerside, has but one superior in the Lower Provinces. It was erected by Jas. L. Holman, at an enormous ex-
