Mr. Park informed his hearers that India had double the population of all the rest of the British Empire combined. There were in India no less than 25,000,000 boys who were "unprivileged," that is to say they had no opportunity for the threefold development of body, soul and mind.

India was ravaged by epidemic diseases. During the influenza scourge, in the city of Delhi, a place of 250,000 population, where he had been working, there were 350 deaths a day. Smallpox, malaria, and tuberculosis were exceedingly virulent and raged continuously in many parts. The people even erected temples to diseases in the hope that some deity would be propitiated.

The poverty of Hindostan was hard to comprehend. He had known families of five or six people to live in a room no larger than an ordinary bathroom and that room had to serve as kitchen, parlor and bedroom. Millions never knew what it was to enjoy a square meal.

Mr. Park explained the working out of the cash system and told how it was breaking down under Y.M.C.A. effort.

Representative government was being introduced into India and a popular election, the first in the history of the country, would shortly be held.

He had been working for five years in India and had great hopes of Y.M.C.A. effort as an uplifting and ennobling force.

Mr. Harry L. Ketcheson is erecting a stately and superb edifice for the accommodation of his limousine.

Mr. Harvey Hogle is also improving his surroundings by the addition of a splendid new poultry building. With ten fruit selling around seventy cents per doz., it is the better part of wisdom to do everything possible to increase the output. With the installation of electric lights in the poultry building hens can be made to lay whether they want to or not, judging from the very wise deliberations of armchair poultry professors, one would be inclined to believe that the turning of an electric switch will induce a hen to straighten up her neck, deposit an egg and hop off again, without even the choice of cooking a wee bit. No feed is required. Just turn on the light and presto—the eggs are yours.

Ever hear of anything more simple except a Ford car?

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SUBSCRIBED AT SHANGHAI

Fund to Help Chinese Whose Crops Were a Failure.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 16.—Millions of dollars have been subscribed here to the general fund raised in various centers in China to provide relief for the inhabitants of a great belt spread over seven provinces in northern China where crops have failed and whole populations were starving to death.

It was estimated that the famine, the worst China has experienced in a half century, has fastened its grip upon between 30,000,000 and 40,000,000 of people who faced a north country winter after a harvest only about eight percent of normal.

While relief centers and the Chinese government had set in motion ponderous and slow moving machinery, about 40 leading Chinese organs used the Seven Provinces Famine Relief Association and within a week had received contributions amounting to a little less than $2,000,000.

Foreign aid in the campaign for funds was enlisted at a mass meeting that was attended by representatives of the American and British Chamber of Commerce, the American Association of China and a number of other foreign organizations. A committee appointed at this meeting, working with the executive body of the Chinese Relief Association, outlined and carried through the general campaign. The minimum of $5,000,000 that was fixed as the least sum that Shanghai should contribute—as it was estimated that not less than $200,000,000 would be required—was passed in the first week of the campaign which began in September and is to be continued on into December.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Johnin spent Sunday evening with Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Mutton.

Miss Mildred Marvin returned recently from a visit to relatives in New York.

CUP CHALLENGER TO BE BUILT IN NOVA SCOTIA

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 16.—Designs are being drawn here by W. J. Rous, member of the Halifax sailing committee, for a semi-convict fishing schooner to be built in Lunenburg this winter, which it is hoped will bring back to Nova Scotia and Canada, the Dennis Cup, emblematic of the championship of the North Atlantic fishing fleet. The decision to build the schooner was reached yesterday afternoon. It is expected the boat will be ready for the water early in March. She will spend the full 1921 season on the fishing grounds, thus qualifying for entry in the international contest.

Kitchener will have another municipal Christmas tree under the auspices of the Young Men's Club.
