Col. Cockshutt was a strong supporter of the Union Government. There was no b atter candidate in Canada. It was absolutely false to state fuat a vote for him would be a vote against Union Government. Not only was such a statement untrue, but a surd.

"I think you will all agree with me," continued Sanator Fisher, "that it would be be tee to send to Ottawa a candidate who has always been a supporter of Sir Kobert Borden and the Union Government than to send a man who has the taint of Laurier.

Mrs. T. Sears Receives Word of How Her Husband Died in France

M.s. T. Sears has received the folwing letter with regard to the death of her hero husband who left Brantford with the 125th Battalion. My Dear Mrs. Sears: I feel that it is my duty to write you a few lines, to try and express my sincere sympathy for you in your recent breeavement. I am in the same platoon as Tom was, and he was my chief friend. I was wounded with the same shell, and went down to the hospital for three weeks, and I did not know that Tom was killed, until I arrived back to the Battalion until I arrived back to the Battalion a few days ago. I have made careful inquries, and find that his death was switt and painless. It has been a great sorrow to myself, also the remainder of our section to lose one whom we were happy to call a friend. He was always continually thinking of you and the children, and we both agreed to write each others loved ones should anything happen to either of us. He was always ready to do his duty and was a good soldier at all times, and we who are still left to carry on will miss his company for a long time. We each do not know the moment that it will be our turn to make the supreme sacrifice, for many men fall daily But the cause is great, and we feel that we must do our utmost in the defense of those we love better than a company to the course, where they are largely dependent upon themselves for pleasure, is quite different.

Literary clubs, lecture courses, and we the largely dependent upon themselves for pleasure, is quite different. until I arrived back to the Battalion defense of those we love better than Literary clubs, lecture courses, ourselves. Now Mrs. Sears, words card parties, dances, smokes, books, are not enough for I feel that I can-not express myself as I would like to. If there is anything that you would like to know, I will at all times do my best to tell you. We pray for you and the children trusting that God in His goodness will give you all the strength necessary to bear your heavy sorrow. Kindly con-vey to His Mother and all, our deep sympathy for them. I would like to write more but feel that it is not enough, so will close, again assuring you of our deep sympathy for you all,

Believe me to remain,
Most Sincerely yours

The program was one in which all the members took part, each reading a favorite selection from poetry and telling briefly why it was a favorite.

Travel between Eastern and Western Canada is always heavy in the winter months, partfleularly during December with its holiday season. To meet the requirements of the public, therefore, a special Daily Service between Toronto and Winnipeg is announced by the Canadian Northern Railway; Westbound, December 3rd to January 5th, 1918, only. Thereafter, regular tri-weekly service will be resumed. A Through Tourist Sleeping Car will be operated between Toronto and Calgary as part of the above special service, and connection will be made with regular daily trains between Winnipeg and Edmonton. Service between Toronto and Vancouver remains tri-weekly, leaving Toronto Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, as at present.

SO LONG LETTY."

Out on the Pacific coast, just a few miles outside San Francisco, is a quaint little settlement known as Carville. It is made up of a colony of fairly well-to-do people of the larger city who have secured discarded horse cars, wheeled them to the beach, and transformed them into attractive bungalows. Two of these cars form the unique settings for "So Long Letty," Oliver Morosco's amusing musical play, which comes to the Grand Opera House Thursday, December 13th. The first act shows the exterior of two of the car-bungalows and the scenes of the second are placed in the interior of one of them.

"THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR." The authorship of "The 13th Chair" has conferred upon Bayard Veiller the unique distinction of having written within a period of a few years two plays, each of which has been hailed as the "most remarkable success of the generation." It was hardly believable that the man who could create a play of such tremendous popular appeal as man who could create a play of such tremendous popular appeal as "Within the Law," could fashion another which, no matter what its intrinsic merit might be, would so intrigue the public fancy, but today, "The 13th Chair" is admittedly not only the equal, but a greater success than its notable forerunner. "The 13th Chair" will be presented at the Grand Opera House Friday, December 14th, with the same company as performed at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, Toronto.
