Arch. Campbell, M. P., Chats With The Planet on Political Matters.

Says he Alters His Opinions to Suit Changing Conditions-So Does the Government.

Archibald Campbell, M. P., who was successful in the recent political contest in West York, is spending the day in the city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Stevens.

When interviewed by The Planet this afternoon, he said concerning his victory:-

"We had a pretty hard fight, but attribute my success largely to the fact that the people of West York deem the Liberal Government have shown themselves progressive and upto-date. They have seen that under the Liberals the country is prospering and going ahead. When the election came on they saw fit to elect me and thus aid the party.

"In reference to that," said lhe, "I am perfectly in accord with the Lib-eral party. The Liberal government is progressive, but no party or govern-New House and Lot for Sale — two-story frame on brick foundation; dou-ble parlors, sitting room, dining room, ment can ignore the circumstances and conditions that surround it. We must be guided largely by the way we kitchen, summer kitchen, pantry, woodshed, hall and three bedrooms; are treated by our neighbors. A nation is like an individual in a great many respects. No man can live alone without being dependant upon his neighbors. So with a nation, and the manner in which our neighbors treat us must to a certain extent; decide how we treat them.

"I think that the time has come when the people of Canada must look after their own interests and what is best for the country, regardless of the way other tariffs may be enforced by other nations. And if raising the tar-iff is going to benefit and build up the country, then raise it. If lowering the tariff will accomplish this, then

"This, I think, explains my position on the tariff question.
"Then, as to the expenditure. What contend is, that at the time when thirty-six millions was expended, it was not spent in the interests of the people. Large amounts were wasted as pointed out in the Curran bridges, canals, Quebec scandals and others where the money was wasted, and we claim that too much was spent in that way. Now, the annual expenditure is not sixty millions. Last year it was forty-six millions. Last year it was forty-six million, but you must consider the busi of the country has increased in that time and the expenses in opening up the Yukon and in the public service department are much greater. As long as this is ex-pended wisely and in the interests of the people it is all right. But if the counted for by the works the Government had to carry on, which was introduced by the old Government, such as deepening the camals, and others. "As to the superannuation question, this has been abolished by the government, as promised, so far as the government could do it. They could not of course abolish superannuation fo the old public servants who have been paying into the fund for years, and had, as it were, vested rights. But all new men going in public service are now under different arrangements altogether. They simply pay 5 per cent givernment gives them a compound interest every six months, and when they die or retire from public service they get this back, interest and all, thus the people of Canada lose nothing by, it at all, and at the same time it is a great benefit to the officials.

"As to subsidies, granted to railroads. An entirely new system has been adopted with the railways. It is now more in the shape of a loan and ry different from what it used to "As to the number of cabinet ministers. When you consider, that the trade of the country has doubled, and the enormous development which is taking place, you will agree with me that it is scarcely time to think of re-ducing the ministers as they now have more work than they can do.

"I could go on and relate many things that would no doubt interest the public, and strengthen the Liberal party, but it would necessitate a considerable amount of space and time and think I have already made my self clear on the editorial in question.

Secretary Dupuis From The Ex position Makes a Statement. His Experience when in Paris Proves

Dodd's Kidney Pills to be a Splendid Tonic Medicine—Unsurpassed also as a Remedy for Lame Back. Village des Aulnaies, Que., Jan. 31.—(Special).—Mons. Aug. Dupuis, of this village, who was Secretary to the Conding Commission, to the World's Canadian Commission, to the World's Fair at Paris last year, has since his return, given out a statement that reflects great credit on Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mons. Dupuis says that he has used these pills for a "deep seated pain in the small of his back," and found that they relieved him almost instantly, and finally cured him altogether so thoroughly that he has not since had any symptoms of a return of the rein.

of the pain.
While in Paris Mons. Dupuis found his duties as Secretary very toilsome and trying, with the consequent re-sult that his health became run down. Again he sought relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills, and again he found them equal to the emergency for they quickly braced him up.

His statement, recently published, is very full of praise for this medicine, and he also takes occasion to thank Mr. James G. Jardine, of Toronto, who was a member of the Paris Commission, for having first introduced Dodd's Kidney Pills to his notice in Ottawa some years ago.

Mons. Dupuis is very popular here, having been postmaster at this vil-lage for years, and resigning to ac-cept the position of Secretary to the Paris Commission last year. He is now President of the Council of Agriculture of the Province.
