

SACHEL

OF THE SATELLITE

A flying machine wouldn't be so bad when the roads are in their present condition.

The City Council is determined for wood in order to make the farmers wealthy in the way some people put it.

They want our steam roller at Tilsonburg. If they hear the price we paid for it, they won't think much of Chatham's high roller.

I am glad to see that Young Men's Club is going to stick as close to water as possible. Too many young men stick close to something a trifle stronger.

Advertising in the Planet always pays. I advertised for a summer that had got lost, and a summer day and a summer thunder shower turned up Sunday.

Dear Satellite—Would you mind suggesting that the city council fill the artificial lakes on Victoria avenue with water.

Yours,
ALRIGHT YES.

My friend Ats sends me the following poetry:

I dream that I dwell in marble halls
With only columns adorning.
I dream that I had a peck of coal.
But alas I had none in the morning.

Considering that Tarte is practically dead from a Banner News standpoint, methinks that journal is wasting a lot of mental lyddite on a corpse. A dead man is the only thing that the Banner can kill anyhow.

A north Chatham friend of mine suggests that the steam roller be traded for a traction engine and the traction engine be used to haul wagons over the Victoria Avenue crossings. Now the farmers have to unhitch and help each other across.

A friend of mine got off a good thing the other day. A young lady requested him to guess who the finest looking young man she had ever met was. My friend was right at himself when he smiled knowingly and remarked "my modesty prevents me guessing."

The Satellite has recovered from the effects of his summer vacation and once more will gracefully bow to the public three times a week. During his time off, he visited all the warm spots and other places which his friends have at various times ordered him to go to when they were angry. The vacation was not a success and Chatham is good enough for the Satellite. During his holiday, the Planet's lesser luminaries gathered material for his department. He had his Satchel with him and brought it back full of ideas, nonsense and facts. It will take some time to sort out the facts from the nonsense owing to the close relationship existing between the two in this column, whose only object is to present in readable form the current events of the day.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

A meeting of the senior members of the Chatham Branch of the International Sunshine Society was held in the Garner House parlors on Monday afternoon at four fifteen.

Business of a special nature was brought up. The circle of senior members was then fully organized. Mrs. R. V. Bray being appointed president and organizer for Kent, Mrs. Thos. Richardson.

The other officers of the circle are: Mrs. Geo. Hayward, 1st vice president; Miss Effie Quinn, 2nd vice president; Miss Lillian Richardson, treasurer; Miss Belle Baxter, recording secretary; and Miss Kate Mercer, corresponding secretary. The juniors are known as the "Cheerful Helpers" circle, while the two circles are enrolled under the Chatham Branch of the I. S. S. This comparatively new organization in Chatham has already done some good work, and from the reports read the members are preparing for a busy winter.

THE TARTE PROBLEM.

London Advertiser.

The Conservative Press is covertly inviting Mr. Tarte to rejoin his old party, but so far the Ottawa Citizen is the only journal brazen enough to do it openly. The Citizen says:—"Whether he resorts to the slower and less satisfactory method of instituting a third party or the more effective and decisive action of allying himself with the Conservatives, with whose views he is practically in accord, the result will be the same, no matter what party badge Mr. Tarte chooses to wear. It is a result the Liberal party has not the least need to fear. We do not know precisely the extent of Mr. Tarte's influence in the Province of Quebec. No doubt he was a great aid to the Liberal party in the last two general elections, but what he can do without the prestige and leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier remains to be seen—that is, if Mr. Tarte concludes to oppose the government. But every Liberal knows that Mr. Tarte was a source of weakness to the party in Ontario in the election of 1900."

There was a cry in the streets. People rushed from their doors and strained their eyes on the struggling balloonist fighting for life. Even the poor, panting sufferer in the sick room was forgotten while the family gazed breathless at this strange tragedy of the air. Then they went back to the sick room to tell of the terrible struggle for life they had just witnessed. It did not occur to them that under their very eyes a more terrible, more pathetic struggle was going on daily.

There can be nothing more pitiful than the struggle the consumptive makes against disease. The greatest help in this struggle is gained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures obstinate coughs, weak and bleeding lungs, emaciation, and other ailments which if neglected or unsuitably treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

"In 1886 one of my daughters was suffering on account of a severe cough, hectic fever, wasting of flesh and other symptoms of diseased lungs," writes Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, of Barham Springs, Ind. "I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with gratifying success, and she now enjoys excellent health. This being true, I hereby heartily endorse your medicine."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery."

ARNOLD-WEIR

A very pretty house wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Oldershaw, Richmond street, when Mrs. Oldershaw's sister, Miss Jessie Katharine Arnold, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to James Weir, secretary of the waterworks department of the city. The nuptials were performed by Rev. J. J. Ross, pastor of the William street Baptist church.

The wedding ceremony took place at three o'clock in the presence of a small gathering of near friends and relatives. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Oldershaw. The house was very beautifully decorated with roses, carnations and similar and presented a very happy appearance.

The bride's wedding dress was made of pearl grey silk with pink trimmings and carried American beauties. Her going away gown was a tailor made navy blue suit with a hat to match.

The presents were numerous and costly. Among them were a hand-some oak hall chair, a gift from Christ Church, and a set of engraved silver spoons from the groom's fellow officials in Harrison Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Weir are well and popularly known in the Maple City and their many friends join in congratulations and many wishes for their future prosperity and happiness.

The newly married couple left on the five o'clock Grand Trunk for Toronto and Niagara Falls, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will afterwards take up their residence in the Maple City.

BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Benefit Unless it is Digested.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact, everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ, but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin, diastase, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion, which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestives; cocaine, morphine, and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

To accept the inevitable quietude and peacefully is the mark of wisdom.

Theatrical

COLE AND JOHNSTON.

Cole and Johnston, comedians will be seen at the Grand to-night in an operatic comedy entitled "A Trip to Coontown." This piece has been produced in the largest cities of the west during the past season and it is said won praise from the big cities. "A Trip to Coontown" Co., not only boasts of a membership of 30 unrivaled voices, but the music itself has been written especially for it, and is of that bright, catchy character which instinctively set the feet in motion and the voice to humming. It is rich in solo numbers, duets, trios, quartets, galore and a very Niagara of irresistible laughter. The girls are all pretty and the men talented. The company is headed by that continent-wide celebrated Miss Laura Walker, the Melba of her race. DeWolf Hopper at his best, was never more unctuously entertaining than the principal fun maker of the organization, the original Tom Brown.

"When we were Twenty-one," is to be presented at the Grand on Monday, November 3rd. This is an extraordinary event, and our citizens should be repaid for his venture in bringing so celebrated a play. The story of "When we were Twenty-one," briefly outlined, is that of a youth's infatuation for a concert hall singer and his rescue by self-sacrificing love. The orphan son of an old friend, he was committed as a child by his dying father to the affectionate care of Richard Carewe and a trio of old friends who have acted as guardians. The "Innap," as the boy is called, is the widow Ericsson in the capacity of housekeeper, and her lovely daughter, Phyllis. The daughter and the ward are engaged to be married as a result of well-meant machinations, but there is an absence of love on either side. Such are the situations when the play begins, and the story is carried forward by the boy's infatuation for the "Firefly," as she is called; a confusion of correspondence due to two Dicks, boy and guardian; a self-sacrificing assumption of a compromising compact by the elder, and the eventual explanation leading to the renunciation of their earlier attachment, and awakening of the youth of his folly and the discovery that the daughter has all along loved the middle-aged bachelor guardian. The result is happiness all round; the incidents of "When we were Twenty-one" are ingenious and the dialogue is brilliant, and sparkling with wit. No one should lose this opportunity to see this most successful play, interpreted as it will be by an excellent organization.

THOMPSON COMING BACK.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 27.—On authority of extradition papers issued at Washington, Robert Thompson, a convict in the Nebraska Penitentiary, whose term expires to-day, was turned over to the officials of the Dominion, who started with him to-night for Toronto. He was chained to one of the officers. Thompson, according to the Canadian press, was a desperado and one of Canada's worst criminals. Detective Rogers of the Provincial force went to Lincoln to bring Thompson to Canada. The prisoner is wanted for several burglaries. He escaped from the police at Sarnia after being sentenced for one robbery, and made his way to Nebraska.

Poor Girl, Pity Her

Growing! Yes, into weakness, but not strength. Studies—plenty of them. Tired of course she is, and weak, too. Does not eat enough, and digests far less than enough. This condition is so frequent, but how seldom noticed even by fond parents. Give her Ferrozine, then watch her appetite improve, her step cheery and her growth ruddy, her step elastic, her spirits buoyant. All this simply the result of eating and digesting enough, making blood, and thereby strengthening the perire and brain power. Ferrozine gives a woman's strength to weak girls. Your daughter's strength to weak girls. Ferrozine. Get it to-day from McCall & Co.

DOYLES.

Wedding bells will soon be ringing in this vicinity.

John Finlin, of Cleveland, is renewing old acquaintances here.

Master Wilbert Towl, one of our enterprising young men, has started husking his corn, which, he says, turns out about one hundred and twenty bushels per acre.

Our minds are once more carried back to Holland to see Edgar Larke making a dike to keep the water back so that he can ditch.

The people of this place are much surprised to hear of John Earley's success at Morlin, after winning the race he proceeded to Moravian town to clean up there at a rate of 3.30.

Frank Doyle was the guest of Maurice Doyle Sunday last.

Miss Carpenter, of Bay City, is visiting friends on the ninth.

Bernard Shaffer has returned from Dutton after a short visit.

Geo. Larke and Con. Shea picked, culled and packed 96 barrels of apples in eight hours on Friday.

Maurice O'Neill was the guest of Mr. Barnes Tuesday.

John Howard spent Sunday at Mrs. Larke's.
